REPUBLICANS MAINTAIN CONTROL OF CONGRESS

Democrats Fall Short of Power in Senate Despite Unexpected Midwest Gains

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Democratic inroads on the Republican majority in the Senate from the Midwestern States were indicated in the returns of Tuesday's election, which, however, failed to show definitely any considerable changes in the heavy Republican majority of the House. The Democrats failed to regain the Second Virginia District, which they lost to the Republicans in the 1928 Hoover landslide. However, returns from many of the more doubtful districts were unreported.

The first indication of Democratic gains in the House came in meager returns in Connecticut, which showed at least two of its eight Republican delegations were in that State in danger.

Eight Republican Senate seats were threatened in the early returns while the Democrats were losing one of their seats—that held by Steck of Iowa.

SENATE SEATS NEEDED

The following Democratic candidates were ahead in contests for seats now held by Republicans: J. Hamilton Lewis in Illinois, Robert Bulkley in Ohio, M. M. Neely in West Virginia, Thomas P. Gore in Oklahoma, Thomas F. Bayard in Delaware, M. J. Bulow in South Dakota, Elmer Thomas in Minnesota and Edward P. Costigan in Colorado.

Republican Senate candidates were also in Rhode Island and New Jersey in the East for seats now held by the Republicans.

A net gain of ten Republicans would give the Democrats control of the Senate, and while this goal was not in sight on the basis of early reports, the prospective Democratic gains were sufficient to weaken the coalition of Republicans, Independents and Democrats which ruled the Senate last session in some of its most important votes.

The following Senate elections have been definitely recorded: Republicans, Davis, Pennsylvania, Democrats, Kansas; Democrats, Bankhead, Arkansas; Harris, Georgia; Louisiana; Harrison, Mississippi, and Byrnes, South Carolina, unopposed; Sheppard, Texas, and Glass, Virginia.

Of the thirteen Democratic senators in this election, seven won on the first returns.

SENATOR NORRIS AHEAD

In the Nebraska race where Senator George W. Norris, independent Republican, is contesting with Gilbert M. Hitchcock, Democrat, the first reports gave Norris a lead.

Of the seven Senator Thomas J. Walsh, Democrat, was ahead in his race against the Republican, Henry J. Galen.

New York Governor Receives Largest Popular Vote in State's History

Victory Smashes Record of Al Smith in 1922; Wins Up-State

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)—The largest popular vote ever given to a candidate for office in New York returned Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democrat, to the Governorship today.

With four-fifths of the returns counted Roosevelt leads Charles H. Tuttle, Republican, by almost 700,000 votes and is assured of a margin of victory far surpassing the most smashing success of his close friend and predecessor in the Governorship, Alfred E. Smith. Smith was elected Governor in 1922 over Nathan Miller, Republican incumbent, by a plurality of 385,000 votes, and some of the most sanguine Democrats had predicted Roosevelt might match that victory. But not even the most hopeful Democrat foresaw for Roosevelt the smashing success, up-State and down, which was his as the votes were counted.

WINS UP-STATE

He had sought re-election on the record of his two years in office, while Tuttle charged Roosevelt had failed to cope successfully with judicial corruption in New York City, which the Republican candidate at-

BUTLER AND ALLEN TRAIL AFTER WETS

Democrats and Dry Law Repeal Leading Count in Massachusetts

BOSTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—Marcus A. Coolidge, Democratic candidate for United States Senator in Massachusetts, and Joseph B. Ely, Democratic nominee for Governor, led William M. Butler and Gov. Frank G. Allen, their respective Republican opponents, tonight when more than a fourth of the State's election districts had recorded their vote.

At the same time that the two wet Democratic candidates gained a lead over their dry rivals an increasing trend toward the wet side was noted in returns on the referendum proposing repeal of the State's so-called "baby Volstead act."

Returns from 453 of the State's 1650 election precincts placed Ely ahead of Allen by almost 8000 votes. The figures were: Allen, 121,923; Ely, 129,118.

In the Senatorial fight Coolidge had piled up a lead of almost 27,000 votes at this point, having 137,860 votes to 110,888 for Butler.

With figures available from 269 precincts, all outside of Boston, the vote for repeal of the prohibition law was 65,695, as compared with 53,492 for its retention.

These figures included half of the city of Boston, which was voting more than two to one for the Democrats. The vote of the State outside of Boston up to that time was approximately four to three for the Republican candidates.

M'GILL HAS MAJORITY IN KANSAS

Democrat Takes Slight Lead Over Senator Allen for Short Term

TOPEKA (Kan.) Nov. 5. (AP) (Wednesday)—With returns from 1365 precincts—more than half the number in the State—George McGill, Democrat, of Wichita, took the lead away from Henry Allen, Republican, also of Wichita, for the short Senatorial term. With practically every county in the State represented in the tabulations, Allen had 143,624 votes and McGill had 143,983.

Senator Allen was appointed by Gov. Reed to fill out the unexpired term of Charles Curtis when the latter became Vice-President of the United States.

Bryan Assumes Nebraska Lead

LINCOLN (Neb.) Nov. 4. (AP)—A slight margin held by Gov. Weaver, Republican, in early returns was overtaken late tonight by former Gov. Charles W. Bryan, Democrat, who, in reports from 226 precincts, was leading by 649 votes in the contest for the Governorship.

LEWIS WINS BY LANDSLIDE

Illinois Senatorial Victor Over Mrs. McCormick Denies Party Credit for Triumph

CHICAGO, Nov. 4. (AP)—James Hamilton Lewis, last Democrat to represent Illinois in the United States Senate, was chosen by an overwhelming majority to return to that body as the first popularly elected Democratic Senator from his State.

Crushing the hopes of Ruth Hanna McCormick, widow and daughter of Senators, to be the first of her sex elected to the Senate, Col. Lewis swept Chicago and the State by a margin that promised, on the basis of incomplete returns, to approach 500,000 votes.

CARRIES OTHERS IN

With him, the Democratic leader carried the entire party ticket in Cook county and threatened to sweep from office part of the Republican Congressional delegation and possibly State officers as well.

The vote, gathered from 3384 precincts out of 7109 in the State stood: Lewis, 634,833; McCormick, 285,611, while Lottie Holman O'Neill, Independent dry candidate, ran a poor third with 30,428.

Col. Lewis issued the following statement at 8 o'clock tonight:

PRAISES OPPONENT

"I wish as the first expression to give praise to Mrs. McCormick for the valorous fight she has made. With her women voters forsaking her, her men organization deserting her, she continued in the hope that the 450,000 Republican majority in the State would rescue her.

"No man in any State could have made a more persistent and persevering contest than she did. I have observed her health was waning. I hope she will be quickly returned to health and strength and enjoy the splendid days which must await a woman of such spirit and capacity.

"I send my thanks to all newspapers in the State. They have my gratitude. I also wish to thank the many people who worked for me.

"I wish to have my country know this victory given to me is the expression of the people of my State upon the rights of man and on the platform that I set forth describing these rights. I do not claim and trust none shall claim this victory as any political party triumph as separate from the citizenship of the State."

Mrs. McCormick sent a message of congratulations at midnight to Col. Lewis.

FOUR KILLED IN KENTUCKY POLLS ROWS

Son Slays Father's Killer and Negro Dies as White Man Beats Him to Gun

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) Nov. 4. (AP)—Four men were killed and another wounded in widely scattered election rows in Kentucky today as ballots were cast for United States Senator and Representatives.

Two fatalities on Stinking Creek in Knox county were reported to have been the direct result of election fervor, a Democratic worker having reproached a farmer for voting the Republican ticket. Boyd Bingham, 40 years of age, the election worker, killed Hampton Smith, 48, farmer, and, in turn, was shot by the latter's son.

At Danville, Joseph Hayden, a Democratic challenger, shot and killed Ed Doneghy, a Negro, who came to the polls announcing he had heard there was trouble and he proposed to settle it. Hayden was released on $1000 bond and returned to his duties, several witnesses stating he fired in self-defense and beat Doneghy to the draw.

In a quarrel at Elkhorn, in Pike county, Adam Cotter, a former deputy sheriff, was shot, but not seriously injured, by Booker Wright.

Ward Hatfield, 35, was slain in Pike county. Officers arrested Elias Dotson, 50, and said an old quarrel between the two had arisen while they were working in the election.

Daylight Saving League Ordered to Tally Funds

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 4. (AP)—The California Daylight Saving League must account for approximately $79,000 collected and expended in the organization's fight to pass initiative measure No. 7 which was voted upon by the voters throughout the State today.

Superior Judge Shields in hearing the mandamus proceedings brought by Mrs. Helen S. Gilmore of Sacramento against the league ruled the league must present an itemized statement by Saturday showing from whom Edward Higgins of Los Angeles collected $38,714.20 in campaign funds.

The court also held J. W. Sutphen and C. Van Benthuysen, both of Los Angeles and officers of the league, must itemize expenditures totaling $50,723.69.

GREAT FALLS (Mont.) Nov. 4. (AP)—John E. Moran, 76 years of age, unopposed Republican candidate for County Clerk, died here this evening just as the polls closed. The Cascade board of county commissioners will appoint a successor.

DAYLIGHT MOVE LOST

Cities Vote 'No' on Plan

Sunday Closing Initiative Likewise Badly Beaten; Veterans' Bond Win

Usury Measure Defeated; Huntington Library Tax Proposal Carries

Of outstanding interest in California's vote on the State propositions in yesterday's election was the terrific beating given the daylight saving initiative, No. 7 on the ballot. Contrary to predictions, the big-city vote against the plan to set California's clocks ahead an hour in summer to "gain" an extra hour of daylight was almost as emphatic as that of the rural communities, where agriculture stood to lose heavily if the measure were adopted. San Francisco voted against the plan two to one, and the Los Angeles ratio was even larger.

The Sunday closing initiative, No. 26 on the ballot, fared even worse. The well-grounded fear that this ill-conceived measure would seriously interfere with the necessary operations of many important California industries and the feeling engendered by the obvious effort to inject a religious element into a secular contest brought out an enormous vote against it. Incomplete figures representative of the whole State at midnight indicated that the measure was beaten four to one.

VETERANS' BONDS WIN

The $20,000,000 veterans' welfare bond issue, which had no organized opposition, won by a tremendous vote. This measure, by which the sum mentioned will be made available to the California Veterans' Welfare Board to finance the purchase by ex-service men of farms and homes on a loan basis, met with general approval throughout the State. It provides merely for the use of the State's credit and will cost the taxpayers nothing. The loans made to veterans provide for their own repayment, with interest.

The attempt to rewrite the present well-tested and satisfactory usury law by an initiative measure, No. 10 on the ballot, appears to have met a well-deserved defeat. The measure proposed to eliminate many of the present law's safeguards for the small borrower and was disapproved by economists and by the heads of financial institutions specializing in small loans at moderate rates of interest. The Los Angeles vote against the measure was considerably better than two to one and it fared little better elsewhere.

HOSPITALS IN DOUBT

Proposition No. 8, to exempt nonprofit hospitals from taxation was running close as between yes and no votes in Los Angeles county but was losing three to one in San Francisco. It is in doubt.

The proposition to exempt the Huntington Library, No. 15, from taxation carried by a large vote all over the State, according to late returns, most of them from Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The fish and game initiative, No. 11, was strongly supported in the south, but the north voted against it heavily. The outcome must await more complete figures.

No. 4, providing for a more equitable tax plan for street railways apparently carried by a safe margin both in the south and in the north.

No. 2, supplementing firemen's funds from State revenues, was snowed under. The vote in the north was running four to one against it and in the south better than two to one.

The proposal to pension State employees after a certain term of service was apparently defeated.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Nov. 4. [To the Editor of The Times:] Well, the day after election many a good man will find that he has been replaced because he failed to bring in enough government loot from Washington. Did you ever figure what constitutes our modern "Representative?" The one that can bring home the new Federal postoffice, even if they wasn't using the old one, Federal aid for roads that nobody may ever drive on, and a government dam. That's the height of statesmanship: To come home with a dam, even if you got nowhere to put it. Just raid the national Treasury enough and you will soon be referred to as a statesman.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

ROLPH AND MERRIAM WIN BY HUGE MAJORITY

Sheriff Race Close; Mahaffey and Thatcher Lead for Supervisors; Power Bonds Are Defeated

A victory of landslide proportions for the Republican party nominees was returned by California voters yesterday as their vote of confidence in the Hoover administration and the principles for which it stands.

James Rolph, Jr., Republican nominee for Governor, was elected by an indicated majority of more than 800,000 over Milton K. Young, his wet-dry Democratic opponent.

The victory of Frank F. Merriam of Long Beach, Republican, over Martin I. Welsh, wet Democrat, of Sacramento, was hardly less emphatic. Merriam carried the south by almost three to one against his opponent and his indicated majority over the State is close to two to one. Incomplete returns from San Francisco, which was expected to go for Welsh, indicated victory there for Merriam.

On the basis of incomplete returns from a majority of the fifty-eight counties of California, Rolph carried more than fifty, with the result in the eight doubtful counties so close as to indicate the possibility of ac omplete Republican sweep of every county in the State.

The Republican nominees for other State offices, for Congress in ten out of the eleven Congress districts of California and for the Legislature in both houses won handily over their Democratic opponents, where there were any contests. In the First Congress District, Clarence F. Lea, Democratic incumbent, was unopposed. In the Third District, C. F. Curry, Jr., Republican, Sacramento, was leading State Senator J. M. Inman, Republican, better than two to one on incomplete returns in the special election to fill the office of the late Congressman C. F. Curry, father of the apparent victor.

In Los Angeles county outstanding results of the election, as indicated by midnight returns, are:

W. I. Traeger, incumbent Sheriff, was leading Capt. Clyde Plummer for that office, but the latter is gaining and the race will be close.

Sidney T. Graves, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, was apparently beaten by J. Don Mahaffey, for the Third District seat.

Hugh Thatcher defeated Albert N. Chamness for Supervisor in the First District.

The $12,700,000 city power bond issue was beaten, failing to receive the necessary two-thirds majority.

The $6,000,000 city sewer bond issue did considerably better but may also fall short of the necessary two-thirds.

Four of the seven incumbent candidates for Superior Judge were defeated.

They are: Judge Crawford, defeated by Municipal Judge Valentine; Judge Hanby, defeated by Municipal Judge Stafford; Judge Hardy, defeated by Municipal Judge Turney, and Judge Haslett, defeated by Municipal Judge Sheldon.

Superior Judges Keetch, Shaw and Bishop were re-elected, defeating, respectively, Ida May Adams, Charles F. Reiche, and Walter B. Thompson.

Daylight saving, Proposition No. 7 on the State ballot, the proposed Sunday closing law, No. 26, and the proposal to rewrite the present usury law, No. 10, were all decisively beaten on the face of all-State returns.

The $20,000,000 veterans' welfare bonds, State Proposition No. 1, carried by a big vote.

Proposition No. 11, proposing to enlarge the powers of the Fish and Game Commission, is in doubt. The south is voting strongly for it and the north against. At 11 o'clock it was well ahead on all-State returns.

G.O.P. VICTORY

The next State administration in Sacramento will be as solidly Republican as the last, as California voters yesterday not only selected Rolph and Merriam as Governor and Lieutenant-Governor, but returned to office by large majorities all the Republican nominees.

Republican State officers elected are:

Secretary of State Jordan, who defeated William Maddux, Democrat, and M. Len Hutchins, Prohibitionist.

State Controller Riley, who defeated Henry E. Harwood, Democrat.

Attorney-General Webb, unopposed.

H. G. Cattell, member of the State Board of Equalization, Fourth District, who defeated Dean Sherry, Democrat.

State Senator McKinley, nominated by the Republicans in the first contest for State Senator under the new constitutional amendment limiting each county to one Senator, won easily over his Democratic opponent, Milton Bryan.

Although unopposed for re-election, the vote received by Representative William E. Evans in the Ninth District returned him to Congress with an unmistakable expression of confidence from his constituents. Due to the unprecedented growth of the district represented by Congressman Evans, the Representative from the Ninth California District now has the largest constituency in the United States.

This honor formerly was enjoyed by Congressman Joe Crail of the Tenth District.

Representative Crail was re-elected in yesterday's election by a sweeping majority over his Democratic opponent, John F. Dockweiler.

A Democrat, Representative Lea, was re-elected in the First District.

With the exception of the Third District, where a special election was held to name a successor to the late Congressman Curry, the Republican incumbents were re-elected.

FOR ASSEMBLY

In each of the twenty-two Assembly Districts of Los Angeles early returns showed the election of the Republican nominee.

The new Los Angeles city and county Assembly delegation, on the basis of incomplete, but comprehensive returns, follows:

Mrs. Sarah E. Kellogg, Fifty-first District. Defeated Alexander Mitchell, Democrat.

Eleanor Miller, Fifty-second District, unopposed.

William G. Bonelli, Fifty-fourth District, unopposed.

Milton M. Golden, Fifty-fifth District, defeated Edward H. Forney, Democrat, and Stanley Rogers, Socialist.

Walter J. Little, Fifty-sixth District, unopposed.

Charles W. Dempster, Fifty-seventh District, unopposed.

Lawrence Cobb, Fifty-eighth District, defeated Frederick W. French, Democrat.

Willard E. Badham, Fifty-ninth District, defeated Albert Chappelle, Democrat.

Willis M. Baum, Sixtieth District, unopposed.

Clarence N. Wakefield, Sixty-first District, defeated William W. Busick, Socialist.

Frederick M. Roberts, Sixty-second District, unopposed.

Emory J. Arnold, Sixty-third District, defeated George A. Dockweiler, Democrat.

Harry Lyons, Sixty-fourth District, defeated Robert J. Adcock, Democrat.

James E. Stockwell, Sixty-sixth District, unopposed.

George G. Gillette, Sixty-seventh District, defeated Thomas De Fabries, Socialist.

George H. Wilber, Sixty-eighth District, unopposed.

Harry F. Sewell, Sixty-ninth District, unopposed.

James K. Reid, Seventieth District, defeated Lorne D. Middough, independent.

Harry B. Riley, Seventy-first District, unopposed.

Ben A. Hill, Seventy-second District, defeated Alick W. Anderson, Socialist.

Those elected include nine incumbents—Miller, Little, Badham, Baum, Roberts, Arnold, Lyons, Stockwell and Sewell.

VOTING QUIET

Voting throughout the State was quiet, orderly, steady. Lower temperatures in Los Angeles city and county proved welcome to the local electorate and, according to election officials, resulted in a heavier vote than would have been cast if the heat of the preceding week had persisted.

A State-wide vote estimated at 1,350,000 was cast—representing approximately 60 per cent of the total registration. In Los Angeles county, where more than 883,000 citizens were registered, the total approached 425,000.

HOOVER GOES TO BED EARLY

President Confident Election Outcome Will Prove Advantageous to Administration

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—While the voters of the nation were deciding today the political complexion of the next Congress, President Hoover carried on business as usual in the executive office. The only change in the day's routine was cancelation of the regular press conference at noon.

After dinner tonight when the early returns started coming in, Mr. Hoover and a few guests went to the President's study in the White House to follow the trend of the voting as reported by radio and the telephone. Telegraph wires in the executive office also brought returns from distant States.

While the outcome of the balloting is of tremendous importance to the future of the Hoover administration, the President displayed no perturbation today. Those about him expressed serene confidence in the outcome and it was indicated Mr. Hoover shared their confidence. At any rate, the President retired at his usual hour tonight, content to await calculation of the returns tomorrow.

President and Mrs. Hoover took advantage of the California law which permits voting by mail. Four years ago they had to journey back to Palo Alto to vote and it was there again in 1928 that the President received the returns which placed him in the White House.

RECORD MADE BY ROOSEVELT

tributed to the influence of Tammany Hall, Democratic organization.

Not only did Roosevelt pile up his margin of more than 500,000 in the city, but he received a surplus of more than 150,000 votes in up-State New York, a region which traditionally sends down a thumping Republican majority to cut into the Democratic margin in New York City.

With him to victory Roosevelt carried, hands down, the entire Democratic State ticket.

DEFEAT ADMITTED

Tuttle conceded at 9:42 o'clock tonight that he had lost the election and sent a telegram of congratulation to Gov. Roosevelt, saying:

"I congratulate you heartily on your unprecedented victory, and wish you and your administration all success."

The Republican candidate then issued the following statement at the office of William J. Maier, chairman of the Republican State Committee:

"The result, which is a great personal tribute to Gov. Roosevelt, speaks for itself. I want heartily to express my deep gratitude to the many friends, in and out of the Republican party, who aided me."

RUNS ON RECORD

Gov. Roosevelt sought re-election on his record in office, while Tuttle sought to defeat him with a plea to voters of New York State for "a Governor who is bigger than Tammany Hall," the bulwarked Democratic organization of New York City.

Tuttle charged Roosevelt with subserviency to Tammany and failure to act severely in the light of office-buying charges in New York City which have led to the indictment of a former city magistrate and three others, including a Tammany district leader.

DRY LAW NO ISSUE

Tuttle advocated repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and so did Roosevelt, with the result that prohibition was no issue in the campaign save in dry up-State districts.

The apparent victory of Gov. Roosevelt was hailed tonight by friends as putting him inevitably in the forefront as a possible Democratic Presidential nominee in 1932—an eventuality which Mr. Roosevelt himself has steadfastly declined to discuss.

Woman Votes in Ambulance

SPOKANE (Wash.) Nov. 4. (AP)—Mrs. Margaret Raymond voted in an ambulance today and they ruled her ballot good.

Defying a doctor, she had herself taken in an ambulance from a hospital to the Denver voting precinct. Precinct officials had the vehicle backed up against a booth and Mrs. Raymond, lying comfortably on her back, marked the ballot, then rode back to the hospital.

Racketeer of Newark Killed

HOBOKEN (N. J.) Nov. 4. (AP)—While repairing his automobile in front of his home, Samuel Kleinberg, 32 years of age, described by the police as an alcohol racketeer, was shot and killed last night by several gunmen as they sped past in another machine.

ILLINOIS PRECINCT ALL WET IN BALLOT

EAST ST. LOUIS (Ill.) Nov. 4. (AP) Prohibition had not a single supporter in the first precinct reporting here. Of 171 persons voting on the prohibition referendum, 121 voted for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and for the Illinois Prohibition Act, only 119 voted on the proposition of modifying the Volstead Act, all favoring modification.

POWER BONDS MEET DEFEAT

Only Bare Majority Given for $13,300,000 Issue

Sewer Financing Also Lacks Necessary Vote

Several Amendments to Charter Adopted

A rebuke to the Bureau of Power and Light on its policies was given by the voters yesterday when the $13,300,000 power bonds, for which a determined and hysterical campaign was waged by the city administration and the bureau employees, fell far short of the necessary two-thirds majority. The bonds were able just to score a simple majority.

The $6,000,000 sewer bonds failed to carry by a slight percentage. Their defeat was attributed by city officials to the fact that the public was not fully informed as to their worthiness.

Proposition B, calling for the transfer of funds already voted for the Aliso-street bridge, to the cost of building the Sixth-street bridge, failed to obtain the necessary two-thirds majority.

AMENDMENTS ADOPTED

Most of the eleven charter amendments, in which small interest was shown, in comparison to other items upon the ballot, were adopted by the voters.

Those which carried without question were 1-A, clarifying budget procedure; 3-A, permitting the Board of Water and Power Commissioners to expend revenue for betterments and extensions, 7-A, creating trials boards in the police and fire departments; 10-A, clarifying the terms of office of members of the Board of Education and three city commissions; 11-A, concerning emergency contracts, and 13-A, subjecting commission contracts with a life of more than three years to action by the City Council.

OTHER MEASURES

The voters adopted 2-A, which provides that interest earned by the City Treasurer from the moneys of special departments be credited to the general fund.

Three-A, which centralizes all purchases under the City Purchasing Agent, was defeated, having been fought bitterly by special departments with their own buying bureaus.

Adoption was voted for No. 4-A, allowing the Department of Water and Power to use its revenues for advertising and promotion.

Proposition 6-A, allowing demotion and lay-off of employees under civil service appeared to have been adopted.

The voters defeated 9-A, which would permit departmental managers to demote and lay-off employees.

WETS LEAD IN BALLOTING ON DRY LAW

Early Returns in Three States Show Sentiment Favorable to Repeal

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—Early returns in the fifth national election since prohibition disclosed majorities for the wet cause in the Illinois, Massachusetts and Rhode Island was more than 2 to 1.

The early vote for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment in Rhode Island was more than two to one. In Illinois it was 5480 for and 3585 against. For repeal of the State enforcement act in Massachusetts the vote was 19,762 for and 19,756 against. In all three States, however, the count was far from complete.

Illinois voters also rolled up majorities in the early returns of 4526 to 3179 for modification of the Volstead Act, and 1108 to 803 for repeal of the State enforcement law.

Roosevelt and Tuttle Blank One Another

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)—In one Times Square election district Charles H. Tuttle, Republican gubernatorial candidate, blanked his opponent, Gov. Roosevelt, score 1 to 0.

George Schrader, the only registrant in the district which has a large day-time population, marked his ballot for the Republican nominee, according to the official count. Mr. Schrader's vote cost the city $1,127.65.

The other lone voter in Manhattan—Joseph Stanek, who voted at Forty-one East Hundredth street, cast his ballot for Gov. Roosevelt and evened the situation.

LA FOLLETTE ELECTED WISCONSIN GOVERNOR

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 4. (AP)—A one-sided victory for Philip F. La Follette, Republican nominee for Governor of Wisconsin, was indicated by returns from approximately one-third of the precincts tonight. He was opposed by Charles E. Hammersley, Democrat.

BALLOT BARRED TO CANDIDATE

Tennessee's G.O.P. Nominee for Governor Pays His Poll Tax Too Late

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) Nov. 4. (AP)—C. Arthur Bruce of Memphis, Republican nominee for Governor of Tennessee, was prevented from voting in the general election here today by an election judge who held his poll tax was paid too late.

Tennessee law requires poll taxes be paid sixty days before the election.

DAYLIGHT PLAN BADLY BEATEN

a $10,000,000 issue on State credit, won by two to one in the south and by at least nine to one in the Bay region.

INDEMNITY FAVORED

No. 13, providing State indemnity for owners of live stock slaughtered in time of epidemics, carried by a large vote.

No. 18, providing a change in the method of taxing automobiles, was slightly ahead in the North, but in the South was losing by more than two to one. It is in doubt.

No. 21, providing for the reimbursement of counties for taxes on property taken over by the State, was beaten by about two to one.

No. 23, providing for a constitutional convention to draft a new State constitution, was badly beaten. The vote against it in San Francisco was three to one at 11 o'clock, and Los Angeles was voting five to three to defeat it.

Permanent registration of voters, No. 14, carried both in the south and north.

No. 3, providing a different plan for fixing the salaries of certain State officials, appears to have lost.

The toll-bridge tax amendment, No. 6, was slightly ahead in Los Angeles county, but losing heavily in the north.

NO. 12 APPROVED

No. 12, providing additional help for the Legislature, was approved.

No. 16, amending the corporation law, carried.

No. 17, placing California marine insurers on the same basis as those outside the State, apparently carried.

No. 19, on judiciary disqualification, won by a large margin in the south. No northern figures are yet available.

No. 20, enlarging the Governor's council, was beaten in the north, but carried by a slight margin in the south. The final result is in doubt, with the probability that it will lose.

No. 22, providing a better method for amending city charters, seems to have won easily.

No. 24, on judicial absenteeism, was ahead, but the vote is close.

No. 25, changing suffrage qualifications, apparently carried.

Chicago Gets Election News by Television

CHICAGO, Nov. 4. (AP)—Television station W-9XAP put on the air tonight what it believed was the first televised progress of a political election.

Images of charts showing the progress of the Senatorial race were televised from W-9XAP, operated by the Daily News.

Just ten years ago today the first returns of an important election—the selection of Warren Harding as President—were broadcast from KDKA, Pittsburgh.

Cross Leading in Connecticut

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Nov. 4. (AP)—In the race for Governor, Dr. Wilbur L. Cross, dean emeritus of Yale, who entered the political ring as a novice, had a lead of 8720 over his Republican opponent, Lieut.-Gov. Ernest E. Rogers, in returns from thirty out of 169 towns tonight. The vote was: Cross, 107,972; Rogers, 99,252.

Connecticut has not had a Democratic Governor since Gov. Baldwin went out of office in 1915.

Iowa Senator Ordered to Bed

OTTUMWA (Iowa) Nov. 4. (AP)—Senator Daniel F. Steck probably will not know until tomorrow how he came out today in his campaign for re-election.

His physicians ordered him to be asleep by 10 p.m. Steck collapsed Friday from overexertion during the campaign and he was ordered to cancel all speaking engagements.

GIFT OF TIDELANDS FOR ARMY AIR DEPOT VOTED

ALAMEDA, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—Voters today registered a 4-to-1 majority for presenting the Federal government with 1134 acres of tidelands for the site of a United States Army air depot. Approximately the same ratio was recorded for fifteen acres to be used for a Coast Guard base. Forest Service headquarters and for storing public road equipment.

ROLPH SWAMPS YOUNG IN NORTH

Street Railway in Bay City Wins Bitter Fight

Golden Gate Bridge Bonds Apparently Carried

Mills Field Improvement Project Defeated

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—On the face of a slow count, due chiefly to a later than usual closing of the polls, Mayor Rolph of this city has swamped his Democratic opponent for the Governorship, the Mayor's lead of 10 to 1 here being reflected proportionately throughout Northern and Central California.

The only contest of major proportions here among seekers of State offices developed between Merriam, Republican candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, and Welsh, his Democratic opponent. Welsh, who campaigned as a straight wet, showed strength in early returns, but his margin steadily dwindled as the ballots were counted.

RAILWAY FIGHT WON

One of the bitterest fights of the local campaign appeared won for the Market Street Railway Company, seeking a twenty-five-year extension of its expired and expiring franchises so it may go ahead with needed improvements in service, equipment and trackage. Despite the massed opposition of political officeholders and the diversion of municipal employees into the campaign, the vote for extension was 3098 to 2444 in the first fifty-six precincts.

The $35,000,000 Golden Gate bridge bonds appeared the only one of four aggregating $41,500,000 that will carry. With 121 precincts in, San Francisco had given the bridge bonds a three-to-one lead and the north shore counties which are in the bridge district were casting a ten-to-one vote for the bonds. The bridge is designed to break the traffic barrier of San Francisco.

A $4,000,000 issue for the improvement of the municipal airport at Mills Field seemed beaten, leading by only 1000 votes, with a two-thirds majority necessary to carry them.

RESULTS SO FAR

Two hundred out of 1155 city-county precincts, complete and semi-official, gave:

For Governor: Rolph, 31,131; Young, 2376.

For Lieutenant-Governor: Merriam, 11,893; Welsh, 10,533.

Daylight saving: For, 8270; against, 14,824.

Sunday closing: For, 3630; against, 18,099.

Fish and game commission: For, 5325; against, 14,160.

Leading local issues:

Street railway franchises: For, 13,092; against, 10,513.

Golden Gate bridge bonds (415 precincts:) For, 35,376; against, 11,967.

FOUR TO ONE

Registrar Collins estimated the vote in San Francisco at 146,000. Four of those votes were accorded Republican nominees to one for the Democratic nominees.

It has been forty-three years since a San Francisco Mayor was elevated to the Governor's chair and Rolph campaign managers are hoping for the greatest vote ever accorded a Republican gubernatorial candidate. Party unity was the dominant plea in the campaign.

In the general election four years ago the Republican nominee emerged with a lead of 332,364 over his nearest opponent and Rolph managers hope this figure will be beaten on the final returns today.

Ideal weather conditions prevailed and the vote, though growing in proportions as the day waned, was handled without trouble and with more than the usual facility and dispatch. Registrar Collins said the long list of State and municipal propositions apparently failed to upset the ballot casters, as they determined their choices before reaching the polls and were prepared to mark their preferences on the voting machines speedily. Not a single instance of major trouble with a voting machine was recorded.

Mayor and Mrs. Rolph voted early and the nominee then retired to his home to receive reports on the progress of the balloting.

Among votes credited to the Mayor are two never before received by any similar candidate in California. They are the votes of President and Mrs. Hoover, which were cast at San Jose, county seat of the President's home, by mail. Both the President and the First Lady balloted under the absent voters' law.

DEMOCRAT HOLDS LEAD IN IDAHO

Bourbon May Be Governor; Republicans Ahead for Other Offices

BOISE (Idaho) Nov. 4. (AP)—With 148 precincts reported, about one-fifth the number in the State, C. Ben Ross, Democrat, led his Republican opponent, John McMurray, 14,662, to 10,904 in the race for Governor of Idaho.

Senator Borah continued to amass a one-sided lead over his Democratic opponent with 15,492 votes to 5159 for Joseph Tyler, Democrat.

Representative Burton L. French, First Idaho District, led Compton I. White, Democrat, 4297 to 2241.

Representative Addison T. Smith, Second Idaho District, had 8903 votes to 4192 for W. F. Alworth, his Democratic opponent.

CONGRESS LOSES ITS LONE NEGRO

Landslide in Chicago Carries Colored Representative Out of His Seat

CHICAGO, Nov. 4. (AP)—Returns from about one-sixth of the precincts indicated that the nation's only Negro Congressman will be defeated in the heavy Democratic vote in Cook county (Chicago.)

Oscar De Priest, Republican incumbent, is behind Harry Baker, Democrat (white,) 2910 to 5084, in twenty-eight of 162 precincts.

Michigan Gives Brucker Lead For Governor

DETROIT, Nov. 4. (AP)—Scattered returns from today's general election showed Wilber M. Brucker, Republican candidate for Governor, leading William A. Comstock, by less than the usual Republican majority in Michigan. Returns from 327 of 3317 precincts, all outside of Detroit, gave Brucker 51,862; Comstock, 35,114.

The scattering returns showed Comstock running far ahead of his party's candidate for United States Senator, Thomas A. E. Weadock. In 187 precincts, Senator James Couzens had 33,466 votes, and Weadock, 11,038.

MORROW LEAD IN NEW JERS

Spirited Race Develops Double Contest

NEWARK (N. J.) Nov. 4. (AP)—A spirited race between Dwight W. Morrow, Republican, and two Democratic opponents for United States Senate developed tonight as election officials culled the votes in the Senate contest from numerous ballot forms.

Although the former Ambassador to Mexico held a seven-to-three lead for both Senate portfolios on returns from 144 of 3321 precincts, Alexander Simpson, Morrow's Democratic opponent for the full term, and Thelma Parkinson, his opponent for the short term, were trailing Mr. Morrow in the three normally Republican counties of Mercer, Passaic and Middlesex, three contain many industrial municipalities.

First returns from Essex county (Newark) did not indicate the strength for Morrow which his supporters had anticipated, and declared as the polls closed that popular assumption of a Morrow victory had kept many Republicans from troupling to vote.

For Sheriff, Plummer, 429; Traeger, 445. State propositions: Veterans, for, 152; against, 45. Daylight saving, yes, 78; no, 164. Usury law, yes, 50; no, 128. Fish and game, yes, 123; no, 75.

Hawthorne—In six out of twelve precincts, Rolph for Governor received 976; Young, 578. For Lieutenant-Governor: Merriam, 764; Welsh, 432. For Sheriff: Plummer, 672; Traeger, 608. Three out of twelve precincts voted on the daylight-saving proposition: Yes, 96; no, 224.

Bell, Maywood, Cudahy district—Twenty-five precincts, final count, give Rolph for Governor, 936; Young, 633. For Supervisor, First District: Chamness, 322; Thatcher, 802. For Sheriff: Plummer, 607; Traeger, 656. Daylight-saving proposition: Yes, 101; no, 317. Fish and game proposition: Yes, 165; no, 129.

WETS APPEAR TO BE VICTORS

Heflin Trailing in His Race Against Bankhead

Bourbon May Be Governor in Massachusetts

Pinchot Apparently Winner in Pennsylvania

because he failed to vote for Alfred E. Smith in 1928, was trailing the regular Democratic nominee, John J. Bankhea .

In Minnesota, the Republican Senator, Schall, was behind the Democratic candidate, Einar Holdale, on scattering returns from a few precincts. This gives the Democrats prospects for seats in two northwestern States, South Dakota and Minnesota, normally regarded as Republican and not counted upon by the Democratic leaders in their pre-election estimates.

TWO GAINS IN HOUSE

Two Democratic gains were listed in the House on early reports. The Democrats regained the Seventh District in Virginia, which went Republican two years ago. They also got the Eleventh Pennsylvania District, breaking the solid Republican delegation of thirty-six from that State. The Democrat in the Eleventh Pennsylvania District was unopposed, having the Republican nomination also.

In Ohio, the House Republican incumbents in the Third and Fourth districts were trailing on first reports, while in the Sixteenth the Democrats were ahead in their effort to regain a seat lost in 1928.

In Maryland, the Democrats were ahead in the Second District which they lost two years ago and the Democratic incumbent was leading in the Third.

In New York, the Republicans held one of the two seats they captured in 1928, the Thirty-eighth District at Rochester. The other captured district, the Seventeenth, represented by Mrs. Ruth Pratt, was involved in a close contest.

EVANS HOLDS LEAD

The Republicans also were waging a close battle to retain one of the two Oklahoma districts taken from the Democrats in the Hoover avalanche, the First, represented by Charles O'Connor.

In Colorado there was a prospect of the Democrats regaining the First District which was lost in 1928, first reports showing the Democrats ahead.

The veteran Representative Evans, Democrat, of the First Montana District, who had been listed as in danger, was ahead on early counts.

In New York a victory of landslide proportions swept Gov. Roosevelt to re-election, with whatever effect it may have on his Presidential availability in 1932.

In Illinois a tremendous Democratic majority for James Hamilton Lewis over Ruth Hanna McCormick appeared to have answered definitely the long-debated question whether a woman is to sit in the new Senate.

PINCHOT HEADS RACE

For the first time in twenty years a Democrat seemed in striking distance, at least, of the Governorship of Connecticut, and normally Republican Ohio was giving the lead for both Governor and Senator to Democrats.

Massachusetts, voting to replace a retiring Republican in the Senate, put a Democrat, Marcus A. Coolidge, into the lead over William M. Butler, and Joseph B. Ely, Democrat, ahead of the Republican Gov. Allen for re-election.

In Pennsylvania the Democratic attack did not fare so well on early returns. Gifford Pinchot attained a lead of thousands over John M. Hemphill for Governor, but a large section of the State was yet to be heard from.

GORE PILES UP VOTES IN OKLAHOMA

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 4. (AP)—Sweeping the rock-ribbed Democratic cotton belt counties of Southern Oklahoma and getting substantial blocks of votes in the central and northern areas conceded to his opponent, blind Thomas P. Gore, for thirteen years a Democratic Senator, approached a two-to-one lead over United States Senator W. B. Pine with close to one-tenth of the total precincts in.

Returns to the Associated Press from 625 out of 3360 precincts gave Gore, 44,782 votes; Pine, Republican incumbent, 26,401.

As the totals rolled up it appeared Gore was not far behind Senator Pine in the larger cities and even in Okmulgee county, home of the incumbent, while his majority was staggering throughout the southern rural districts.

STECK TRAILING DICKINSON IN IOWA

DES MOINES (Iowa) Nov. 4. (AP) Senator Daniel F. Steck, fighting to retain his seat from this normally Republican State, was trailing Representative L. J. Dickinson, Republican Senatorial nominee, on early returns from today's election.

Steck, elected six years ago when the Republican party split over the candidacy of Smith W. Brookhart, had 22,971 on returns from 285 of the State's 2434 precincts, to 32,368 for Dickinson.

Dan W. Turner, Republican gubernatorial candidate, was leading his Democratic opponent, Fred P. Hageman. Returns from 280 precincts gave Turner 36,594; Hageman, 17,044.

HEFLIN FAR BEHIND BANKHEAD IN ALABAMA

MONTGOMERY (Ala.) Nov. 4. (AP) Senator J. Thomas Heflin, seeking re-election on a Jeffersonian ticket, fell far behind John H. Bankhead, Democratic nominee, as a third of the ballot boxes were counted tonight.

Tabulation of 790 of the State's 2115 boxes give Bankhead 52,722; Heflin, 27,830.

MRS. PRATT RE-ELECTED FROM NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)—Mrs. Ruth Pratt, Republican, and only woman member of Congress from New York, was re-elected to the House of Representatives today from New York City's silk-stocking Seventeenth District. She won from Louis Brodsky, Democrat, by 621 votes in a total vote of 45,979.

PINCHOT LEADS IN RACE

Pennsylvania G.O.P. Candidate for Governor 19,969 Ahead in 3407 of 8321 Precincts

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4. (AP)—With more than one-third of the vote of Philadelphia tabulated, Gifford Pinchot, Republican candidate for Governor retained his early lead in the entire State over John M. Hemphill, Democrat and Liberal, in today's election.

A total of 3407 districts out of 8321, including 814 in Philadelphia, gave Pinchot a lead of 19,969.

Much of the Pinchot strength in the rural communities of the State, which carried him through to victory in the May primary, had not been heard from in this tabulation.

James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor under three Presidents and Republican nominee for United States Senate, ran far ahead of his ticket and was leading Sedgwick Kistler, Democrat by 41,586 with 1413 districts heard from.

DEMOCRATIC WET LEADS IN COLORADO

DENVER, Nov. 4. (AP)—After trailing his Republican opponent for three and one-half hours of ballot counting, Lawrence Lewis, Democratic wet, at 10:30 o'clock assumed a slight lead over William R. Eaton, Republican Dry incumbent in the contest for Congressman from the First District (Denver.) The vote was: Eaton, 12,241; Lewis, 12,331, in 109 precincts of 314.

DEMOCRATS INCREASE LEAD IN OHIO

COLUMBUS (O.) Nov. 4. (AP)—Democratic candidates for United States Senator and Governor were increasing their leads over their Republican opponents as additional blocks of precincts were added to early totals in Ohio tonight.

Robert J. Bulkley, Cleveland, Democrat, who campaigned on a platform advocating repeal of national prohibition, was leading Roscoe C. McCulloch, Republican incumbent and an advocate of prohibition enforcement, by 15,088 votes. The vote in 1631 precincts out of 8985 in the State was Bulkley, 146,742; McCulloch 131,654.

George White, Marietta, the dry Democratic gubernatorial candidate, was leading Gov. Myers Y. Cooper for re-election by a slightly smaller margin. In 1694 precincts White's lead was 14,786. The vote was: White, 156,902; Cooper, 142,116.

Out of the twenty-two Congressional districts, only sixteen had reported scant returns, showing Democratic candidates to be leading in nine and Republicans in seven.

MOSES SAYS 'TWAS RAW, WET DEMOCRATIC DAY

CONCORD (N. H.) Nov. 4. (AP)—United States Senator George H. Moses, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, in a statement at his home here tonight, said this was "plainly a raw, a wet and characteristically a Democratic day," and the next two years "will contain an amplitude of difficulty for the administration."

Senator Moses's statement follows:

"Tuesday was plainly a raw, wet and characteristically a Democratic day. To say 'I told you so' is slight satisfaction but I have constantly maintained the Republicans would encounter disaster this year.

"However, I had not thought it to be so widespread. It is early now to forecast any of the implications of this election, but it is evident that the next two years will contain an amplitude of difficulty for the administration and for Republicans generally.

"I can only add I am gratified by the showing made by the Republicans of New Hampshire. While other supposedly impregnable strongholds have fallen New Hampshire has withstood the assault."

SHAW SUPPORTERS SAY COSTIGAN WINNER

DENVER, Nov. 4. (AP)—In a story prepared for publication at 9:30 p.m. the Denver Post, supporting George H. Shaw, Republican, for the United States Senate, said Edward P. Costigan, Democrat, had defeated Shaw by probably a 25,000 plurality. The newspaper predicted the Democrat would carry Denver county by 6000 votes.

A total of twenty-one precincts out of the 1582 in the State gave Costigan a lead of 5500 votes over the Republican. The count; Costigan, 24,224; Shaw, 18,714.

SHOUSE CLAIMS VICTORY FOR DEMOCRATS IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—Jouett Shouse, chairman of the Democratic National Executive Committee, tonight claimed victory for the Democrats in the House of Representatives.

"The returns up to now speak for themselves," said Shouse.

"My claim is based on returns we have from Indiana and other States.

"We are not ready as yet, to claim the Senate. However, we are confident that it will be close."

RHODE ISLAND SENATOR LEADING DEMOCRAT

PROVIDENCE (R. I.) Nov. 4. (AP) With more than a third of the State tabulated, United States Senator Jesse H. Metcalf was leading his Democratic rival, former Senator Peter G. Gerry, by more than 9000 votes in today's election. The vote for eighty of the State's 222 precincts was Metcalf, 39,975; Gerry, 30,651.

The same precincts gave Gov. Norman S. Case, Republican, a lead in his fight for re-election of 7325 votes over Theodore F. Green, a Democrat. The vote was Case, 36,940; Green, 29,614.

ELECTION OF WALSH IN MONTANA CONCEDED

HELENA (Mont.) Nov. 4. (AP)—Joseph D. Scanlan, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, at 11 o'clock tonight conceded election of Senator Walsh, Democrat, over Judge Albert J. Galen, Republican, when 230 out of Montana's 1493 precincts gave Walsh a lead of about 10,000.

NORTH CAROLINA ROLLS UP LEADS FOR DEMOCRATS

CHARLOTTE (N. C.) Nov. 4. (AP) Josiah W. Bailey, Senatorial nominee, and his fellow Democrats seeking House seats, rolled up impressive leads over their Republican opponents as incomplete and unofficial returns were tabulated here tonight from the voting in the general election.

On the basis of returns from 553 precincts in sixty-four counties out of 1811 in the State's 100 counties, Bailey, the Raleigh attorney who conquered the veteran Senator F. M. Simmons in the June primary, had 115,990 votes. His opponent, George M. Pritchard of Asheville, incumbent Congressman from the Tenth District, had 45,367 votes.

Representative Charles A. Jonas of Lincolnton, Republican incumbent, was trailing his Democratic opponent, Maj. A. L. Bulwinkle, of Gastonia, in the Ninth District, while Zebulon V. Weaver, Democrat of Asheville, was ahead of Brownlow Jackson, Republican of Hendersonville, in the Tenth District. These two districts went Republican in 1928.

SOUTH DAKOTA RETURNS SHOW PARADOX

SIOUX FALLS (S. D.) Nov. 4. (AP) Gov. Von Bulow, Democrat, maintained a lead over Senator McMasters, Republican, as returns poured in tonight from South Dakota's Senatorial election.

Warren Green, Republican, was well out in front of David McCullough, Democrat, in the gubernatorial contest.

Von Bulow polled 45,567 votes to McMaster's 42,216 in 736 of the State's 1928 precincts.

VIRGINIA LANDSLIDE PUTS NEELY IN SENATE

CHARLESTON (W. Va.) Nov. 5. (Wednesday) (AP)—A virtual landslide for the Democratic nominee for United States Senate, ex-Senator M. M. Neely, was shown in returns from three-fourths of the State early today.

With the vote counted from 1826 of the 2354 precincts Neely had a lead of more than 100,000 over James Ellwood Jones, Republican. The totals showed Neely, 285,619; Jones, 177190.

NEW MEXICAN DEMOCRAT HOLDS HEAVY LEAD

SANTA FE (N. M.) Nov. 4. (AP)—United States Senator Sam G. Bratton, Democrat, took a lead of more than two-to-one over his Republican opponent, H. B. Holt, in his race to retain his seat in today's election. Returns from twenty-five precincts out of 796 in the State gave Bratton, 3566; Holt, 1453.

TILSON RE-ELECTED FOR TWELFTH TERM

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Nov. 4. (AP)—Representative John Q. Tilson, majority floor leader of the House, today was re-elected for his twelfth term from the Third District by a majority of more than 4000 over James Shanley, Democrat.

With one town, Guilford, missing the vote was: Tilson, 44,523; Shanley, 39,876.

SENATOR NORRIS IN LEAD IN NEBRASKA

LINCOLN (Neb.) Nov. 4. (AP)—United States Senator Norris, whose party regularity has been the issue of the Nebraska campaign, slowly forged ahead of his Democratic opponent, former Senator G. M. Hitchcock, Omaha publisher, in unofficial returns from 156 of 2040 precincts which gave Norris 17,738 and Hitchcock 12,155 votes.

DEMOCRATS TAKE LEAD IN OREGON

Hawley Running Second to Delzell for Congress; Korell Also Behind

PORTLAND (Or.) Nov. 4. (AP)—W. A. Delzell, Democratic candidate for Congress from the First Oregon District, was leading Willis C. Hawley, Republican incumbent and chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, on the basis of early returns.

Fifteen precincts in the district gave Delzell 1589; Hawley 1202.

Maj.-Gen. Charles H. Martin, Democrat, was leading Franklin F. Korell, Republican incumbent, for Congress from the Third Oregon District. Twenty-one precincts gave Martin 1044 votes and Korell 776.

Julius L. Meier, independent, was leading in the race for Governor as tabulation of votes progressed tonight. Forty-four precincts of 1909 in the State reported Meier 2646; Edward F. Bailey, Democrat, 1920; Phil Metschan, Republican, 1604.

Arentz Leads Wet Opponent in Nevada Race

RENO (Nev.) Nov. 4. (AP)—Partial returns compiled from scattering precincts in thirteen of Nevada's seventeen counties tonight gave Samuel S. Arentz, Representative-at-large in Congress, 3125 votes, while his Democratic opponent, Maurice J. Sullivan, who made his campaign on a strictly wet platform, had 2668.

Gov. Balzar, Republican, in this same compilation, had 3136 for re-election and his Democratic opponent, Charles L. Richards, 2772. Morley Griswold, Republican candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, had a lead of 400 votes over his Democratic opponent, Archie L. Cross.

ROBBER DIES IN GUN FIGHT

KELSO (Wash.) Nov. 4. (AP)—An unidentified robber was killed and another was believed wounded today in a gun battle between A. A. Pyle, grocer, and the two men who attempted to break into his store.

ARIZONA RACE RUNNING CLOSE

Gov. Phillips Cuts Into Lead of G. W. P. Hunt

Incumbent Shows Strength in Maricopa

Gubernatorial Contest Holds Chief Interest

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Nov. 4. (AP)—George W. P. Hunt, Democrat, six times Governor, and Gov. John C. Phillips, Republican incumbent, went into a close contest tonight when the Governor cut into Hunt's early lead materially. The vote for Governor was: Hunt, 14,754; Phillips, 14,013, with eight-two complete and 140 incomplete out of 491 precincts reporting.

The vote from Maricopa county, largest in the State, swung to Phillips slowly after 9 p.m. and with ninety-nine precincts reported the county gave him a majority of 217 votes. In 1928, when Phillips rode the Hoover landslide into office and administered Hunt his first defeat at the polls, Maricopa county gave him a plurality of 4855 votes.

Observers believe Phillips's Maricopa lead will have to forge more rapidly ahead as the count continues if he is to overtake Hunt, whose strength in 1928 was found in outlying districts.

In Yuma county, which in 1928 went heavily for Hunt, Phillips was leading in the face of partial returns, however, by a 2-to-1 count.

The Governor's race, the hottest on the ticket, occupied principal attention. Hunt campaigned for economy, tax relief and more militant opposition to the Boulder Dam project, while Phillips asked for a chance to carry out his program of legislation and development. Principally, however, the race developed into a campaign of personalities.

Murray Leads in Oklahoma Race

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) Nov. 4. (AP)—The Democratic tide, swinging back in Oklahoma after a recession in the 1928 election, was carrying W. H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray toward the Governor's chair tonight by a lead of more than two to one, over his Republican opponent, Ira A. Hill.

In 627 of the State's 3360 precincts Murray had 52,614 votes, Hill 23,714.

OAKLANDERS REFUSE CITY MANAGER PLAN

OAKLAND, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—Oakland voters apparently have rejected the city manager plan of government, early returns showing the project behind, 3 to 1.

A proposal to put the city into the transportation business by operating a bus system appeared lost on the face of first returns, although the voting was close.

Few Contests Excite Southern Counties

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA COUNTIES' VOTE SHOWN

Decision of Many Local Issues Indicated by Trend of Early Returns From Polls

Early returns from the counties of Southern California indicate the decision in most of the local contests. In some instances the vote was very close and the balloting spirited, making it impossible to indicate to a certainty the outcome. Scattering returns from a number of the counties follow:

ORANGE

SANTA ANA, Nov. 4.—Early returns indicated that Sheriff Sam Jernigan has been defeated for re-election by Logan Jackson of Orange running as a dry candidate. Seventy Orange county precincts, incomplete, gave Jackson 2055 and Jernigan 1525.

Jernigan was leading in Santa Ana, E. B. (Tobe) Trago was running well ahead of Earl Abbey for County Treasurer. Sam L. Collins appeared to have been elected District Attorney over Harry Westover of Santa Ana. The seventy incomplete precincts gave Collins 1519 and Westover 964.

Cornish Roehm was apparently elected Constable over Vernon Barnhill.

George Jeffery had a slight lead over Stuart Lucas for Supervisor in the Fifth District, the beach area.

SANTA BARBARA

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 3.—Results from 100 out of 121 precincts in Santa Barbara tonight gave James Rolph, Jr., 2321 votes and Milton K. Young 522 in the race for the governorship.

Early returns indicate the election of Mrs. Muriel Edwards of Santa Ynez for the office of county superintendent of schools. The results in 100 out of 121 precincts were Muriel Edwards, 2869, and Melvin Rowman, Santa Barbara, 2535.

In the race for constable at Santa Maria fifteen precincts gave H. E. Fryer 479 to 379 for H. B Johnson. Roland Adam was re-elected as supervisor from the Lompoc district.

FRESNO

FRESNO, Nov. 4.—With approximately half of the precincts of the county canvassed in unofficial election returns early tonight it appears that George Overholt, undersheriff, will be elected Sheriff over Ed Fitzgerald, and that J. H. Kennedy, incumbent, will easily defeat Edward W. Boney for Coroner.

The vote in 126 precincts out of 239 in the county gave Overholt 1728 and Fitzgerald 1523; Kennedy, 1728, and Boney, 1244.

The race between W. D. Crichton and H. Z. Austin for judge of Department Three of the Superior Court was so close in early returns that the result was problematical.

The vote for Fresno city water bond issue of $2,520,000 for purchase of the local system of the California Water Service Company was approximately three to one in favor and apparently will carry by approximately four to one, the vote in thirty-five complete precincts out of seventy-six in the city giving 6229 for the bonds and 1756 against.

The race between Mike Jones of Firebaugh and J. H. McLennan of Fresno for Supervisor of the First District is close and probably will not be determined until the complete unofficial returns are tabulated.

With an affirmative vote of 1423 and 715 opposed, the County Hospital bond proposal is in the balance, as is the County Hall of Records bond project, the vote for which was 1359 for, and 730 against.

IMPERIAL

CALEXICO, Nov. 4. — Midnight returns on the four local contests in Imperial Valley were:

Sheriff: Twenty-six out of ninety-five precincts, George Campbell, 1946; George Pulliam, 850.

School Superintendent: Thirty-eight precincts complete, C. B. Collins, 1538; Kathryn Watts, 1477.

Coroner: Twenty-eight precincts out of thirty-eight, F. W. Peterson, 1025; A. R. Underwood, 1295.

Supervisor, Calexico District: Seven out of fifteen precincts, William J. Best, 371; Walter Hartman, 347.

RIVERSIDE

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 4. — Dr. C. S Dickson, Coroner, late tonight was leading his opponent, Ben White, for re-election, the vote being, Dickson, 1058, and White, 897.

In the Governorship race, James Rolph, Jr., polled 1217 to 419 for Milton K. Young. Frank M. Merriam's vote was 1616 to 301 for Martin I. Welsh for Lieutenant-Governor. The vote was from forty-five precincts.

Not till DUSE had her CHAMPAGNE would she face an audience

The actress, whose world-wide fame was so great that she could snub a Czar and humiliate a king, always drank a glass of champagne just before the curtain rose. Although she was an Italian, the great Eleonora Duse was a temperate lover of the sparkling wine of France. Wherever her triumphs took her—to Paris, Vienna, Berlin, London, Russia and the Americas—it went with her.

Why champagne was the Duse's favorite wine is easy to guess. It always has had an individual bouquet and a subtle, zestful flavor that couldn't be imitated.

It is precisely such an individual bouquet and subtle, zestful flavor that make Busch Extra Dry so vividly different from the 1200 other brands of ginger ale in America.

The house of Anheuser-Busch experimented for years to achieve this distinction. After many failures, they were successful with an essence taken from a tropical shrub and combined with a new and finer effervescing quality that gave to Busch Extra Dry what ginger ales always had needed—personality, breed, freshness and tang. Of course, the Anheuser-Busch process is a secret carefully guarded from those 1200 other brands.

Your first taste will reveal the delicious difference to you. That first sip, like your five-hundredth, will tell you that at last you've found the one of 1200. Then try to be satisfied with any other!

VOTE MACHINES DO SPEEDY DUTY

Withstand Gruelling Test of General Election

Keep Up With "Snap Tally" of Paper Ballots

Count Indicates 390,000 in County Were at Polls

The bank of voting machines used in yesterday's election, 147 in number, withstood in exceptional fashion the gruelling test of a State general election, with candidates, city and State propositions to complicate the count.

The first voting machine reported eight minutes after the polls closed, and by 7:20 o'clock Registrar of Voters Kerr's staff had computed a total of four precincts. From that time on the reports flooded in with ever-increasing swiftness until the final computation was made at 8:24.

SWIFTLY AND WITH EASE

The voting machine reports, which, of course, included all items on the ballot, more than kept up with the "snap tally" of the first twenty-five votes counted in the old paper ballot precincts on the "top" of the ballot.

Judging by previous elections, the count from the paper ballot precincts will continue until late tomorrow, while it is conceivable that were the entire county equipped with voting machines, the total would be known considerably before midnight, it being merely a matter of handling the reports over the telephone trunk lines in the Hall of Justice.

Reports coming into the offices of Kerr indicated that the handling of voters in the precincts equipped with machines moved with swiftness and dispatch, the voters taking readily to the mechanical equipment in preference to the clumsy paper-and-stamp system.

CROSS-SECTION TEST

The machines were distributed with eleven in Beverly Hills, twenty-nine in Pasadena and the remainder in Los Angeles city, the purpose being to spread them out so as to give a cross-section of the city and county.

The results given by the voting machines indicated that the county cast a total of approximately 390,000 votes, and that the Republican ticket, as contemplated, made a grand sweep of the contest.

Sheriff Traeger was given a lead over Clyde Plummer which possibly could be wiped out by the great mass of precincts yet to report. The voting machines indicated that the power bonds were beaten badly, while the sewer bonds lost by a slight percentage.

The incumbent judges, the voting machines showed, were re-elected with the possible exception of Judges Hardy and Crawford, whose opponents were somewhat ahead.

SECRET OF KNIFING DIES WITH VICTIM

Augustino Mesca Seals Lip After Stabbing, Succumbs Without Naming Assailant

MENDOTA, Nov. 4. (Exclusive) Augustino Mesca, 29-year-old ranch worker, died in the County Hospital at Fresno today from knife wounds in his abdomen inflicted late yesterday by an assailant whose identity the victim refused to reveal.

The slaying is the second in this district in less than forty-eight hours, the first being James Hernandez, 17, a laborer, who was stabbed to death near Firebaugh, a few miles north of here, yesterday by Manuel Munoz, 22, a fellow-worker, with whom he was engaged in an altercation.

The Mesca slaying is surrounded by mystery, and the county authorities have but meager clews upon which to base their search for the slayer.

The cutting affray took place on the Stevinson ranch, six miles north of here, where Mesca was employed. The only concrete clew the officers have been able to find is the disappearance of an unidentified man from the ranch. The officers were told the man came here from San Francisco, and officers in the bay area have been notified to be on the lookout for him.

DO-X START SCHEDULED FOR TODAY

Twelve-Motored Flying Ship's Take-off Depends on Weather Report

ALTENRHEIN (Switzerland) Nov. 4. (AP)—Germany's twelve-motored aerial giant, the flying boat Do-X, will take off for Amsterdam shortly after 8 o'clock tomorrow morning if the weather is favorable, thus beginning the first leg of a journey which is hoped eventually to land it in New York.

The flying ship will be taken out of its great shed at 8 o'clock and the motors started. As soon as the final weather report indicates no changes for the worse to the northward, the Do-X will taxi in a few circles offshore, then take off on the first cruise away from the sheltered lake where it was built. The craft will steer directly westward for a time and then follow the Valley of the Rhine into Holland.

Every effort will be made to get away early, for the weather report tonight indicates that unless the Do-X gets away quickly it will be stormbound in rough weather expected before Thursday around Lake Constance.

HOOVER HAILS ARMISTICE

President's Proclamation Urges Observance on Anniversary of World War's End

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—President Hoover today called on America to observe Armistice Day with gratitude that the agencies of peace have been strengthened and the nation's relations with other countries "a firmly grounded in amity and accord." The following proclamation was issued:

"Whereas, the 11th day of November, 1918, is forever memorable as the day upon which ended the World War, with its attendant sufferings and vast wastage of human life; and,

"Whereas, it is fitting that the anniversary of this day should be commemorated by exercises which shall do honor to all those who served our country, and especially to the memory of those who died in its service, believing that their sacrifice was in the cause of peace, which we thereby are solemnly bound to do all in our power to advance and secure; and,

"Whereas, by concurrent resolution of the Senate and the House of Representatives in 1926, the President was requested to issue proclamation for the observance of Armistice Day;

"Now, therefore, I, Herbert Hoover, President of the United States of America, in pursuance of the said concurrent resolution, do hereby order that the flag of the United States be displayed on all government buildings on November 11, 1930, and do invite the people of the United States to observe the day in schools and churches and other suitable places, with appropriate ceremonies, giving expression to our gratitude that this year past has seen the agencies of peace sensibly strengthened and that our relations with other peoples are firmly grounded in amity and accord.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the seal of the United States.

"Done at the city of Washington, this fourth day of November, in the year of our Lord 1930, and of the independence of the United States of America 155th."

SCHALL IN MINNESOTA TRAILS FOE

Hoidale, Democrat, Runs Ahead in Senate Contest; Olson for Governor

ST. PAUL, Nov. 4. (AP)—Einar Hoidale, Minneapolis Democrat, led tonight in returns for United States Senator over the blind candidate for re-election, Thomas D. Schall, Republican.

One hundred and twelve precincts out of 3705 gave Hoidale, 18,704; Schall, 9546; Ernest Lundeen, Farmer Laborite, 6377, and Charles Lund, Independent Dry, 944.

No less startling than the showing of Hoidale, who has had the outspoken support of many Republicans and a majority of the State's newspapers, was the steady lead held by Floyd B. Olson, Farmer Labor candidate for Governor, over Ray P. Chase, Republican.

When returns from ninety-two precincts had been tabulated, Olson had 14,641 votes, Chase 9449, while Edward Indrehus, Democrat, who made no campaign, trailed with 680 votes.

Mexican Budget Shows Increase

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 4. (AP)—The government budget for the year beginning January 1 was in the hands of Congress today. It provides for expenditures of approximately $149,244,295, representing approximately $2,357,400 more than the budget for this year.

Revenues next year are expected to be $4,000,000 more than this year and it is hoped will balance the budget. The budget increase is due to assignment of $20,000,000 for payment of foreign and interior debts.

Youth Admits Dual Murder

CHICAGO, Nov. 4. (AP)—Edward Kotowski, 21 years of age, walked into a police station today and confessed he killed Frank (Slim) Smurlo and William (Smooth) Sierza, whose bodies were found in a beer flat Sunday.

The youth said he shot the men in self-defense after a drunken quarrel. Previously it had been supposed the dead men were victims of a beer war.

Sheriff in Crash Discovers Liquor

UKIAH, Nov. 4. (AP)—Of all the hundreds of automobiles on the highway, Charles Seely of Eureka picked the Sheriff's car to hit. As a result he's in jail today charged with possession of seventy-five gallons of alcohol. Suspicious of Seely's actions, the Sheriff searched the automobile and discovered the alcohol in the tonneau.

STANDARD MINIMIZES BLAZE IN REFINERY

CHICAGO, Nov. 4. (AP)—Officials of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana said the fire at the Whitting (Ind.) refinery today was confined to the oil consumed by it, not more than 300 barrels, and repairs could be made for $10,000. There was no explosion, the officials said. A pipe broke at the discharging end of a pump which was circulating hot oil in a pressure still. The oil caught fire when it came in contact with the air and burned in a spectacular manner. Men working within fifty feet escaped without injury.

PERSONAL TESTIMONY BY MOONEY DEMANDED

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—Attorneys for Thomas J. Mooney, convicted Preparedness Day bomber, today forwarded a letter to Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan, as chairman of the State Advisory Pardon Board, asking that Mooney be allowed the privilege of personal testimony before the Supreme Court Justices who heard the Billings pardon application. The two cases were linked at the hearing, it is contended, and Mooney is entitled to be heard.

FILM FIRE KILLS FIFTEEN

BANGKOK (Siam) Nov. 4. (AP)—Eight women and seven children lost their lives today in a fire which destroyed the offices of a motion-picture company where quantities of films were stored. They were tenants in the upper floors of the building.

SEA YIELDS DEATH CLEW ON AVIATOR

Alaskan Finds Wreckage of Plane on Beach Near Where Merrill Vanished

ANCHORAGE (Alaska) Nov. 4. (AP)—What is regarded as definite proof the plane of Russell Merrill, one of the North's best-known aviators, who disappeared in September, 1929, was wrecked in the waters of Cook Inlet, was brought to Anchorage today in the form of a bank and turn indicator. The instrument was identified as one of several belonging to John Cook, Anchorage postoffice employee, who loaned it to Merrill just before the fatal flight.

Arthur Coates, Anchorage, found the instrument on the beach about forty miles from Anchorage. Coates also said bones believed to be human were seen in the mud at low tide and near by was what appeared to be fabric of a plane, flapping in the waves.

The incoming tide prevented further search. Merrill's fate never has been definitely established.

Dry Official Ousted Pending Charge Inquiry

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—James J. Donovan, deputy prohibition administrator in New York City, has been indefinitely suspended pending an investigation of charges lodged against him.

Howard T. Jones, acting director of prohibition, made this announcement today, but declined to disclose the nature of the charges or the identity of those preferring them.

If the investigation fails to substantiate the accusations, he said, Donovan will be restored to duty with his status unimpaired.

Bank Personnel Remains Same

HUNTINGTON PARK, Nov. 4. With the consolidation of the Banks of America and the Bank of Italy, the two local establishments will retain the same personnel, the local Bank of Italy to be known as the Bank of America, Huntington Park branch, and the Bank of America to retain its name and be known as the Pacific-Clarendon branch. The Bank of America in Walnut Park becomes the State Bank. Max R. Wallace will remain as manager and vice-president of the Huntington Park branch. J. H. Crosby will continue as manager and vice-president of the Pacific-Clarendon branch, and Edward C. Schulz will retain his place as manager and vice-president of the branch at Walnut Park.

CALCUTTA EX-MAYOR'S WIFE GIVEN JAIL TERM

NEW DELHI (India) Nov. 4. (AP) Mrs. J. M. Sen Gupta, formerly Nellie Grey, English wife of a former Mayor of Calcutta, was sentenced to four months' simple imprisonment today. She was arrested last week with other Congress volunteers as a member of a group holding a meeting in defiance of a decree against public assembly. Mrs. Raj Rani was sentenced to two months' simple imprisonment, and twenty-five Gurkhas were sentenced to six months' rigorous imprisonment on a charge of being members of an unlawful association.

ATHENIANS ACCLAIM PREMIER VENIZELOS

ATHENS (Greece) Nov. 4. (AP)—Athenians gave Premiere Venizelos a great reception today when he addressed a mass meeting in Constitution Square on the results of his visit to Angora, Turkish capital. He condemned the so-called plot of Gen. Pangalos and others to overthrow the government in his absence. He said that nothing now separates the Grecian and Turkish peoples since both accept their frontiers.

WEALTHY OIL MAN'S DIVORCE SET ASIDE

FORT WORTH, Nov. 4. (AP)—The divorce judgment against L. C. Turman, wealthy oil man, rendered in favor of Mrs. Beryle Turman October 2 was set aside and a new trial granted in Seventh District Court at the conclusion of a hearing on Turman's motion today. The case was set tentatively for the 17th inst., and Turman was ordered to produce the two Turman children at that time. Turman said the children are "far away from here."

LABRADOR TOWN SWEPT BY FIRE

Battle Harbor Reports No Loss of Life

Wilfred Grenfell Hospital Ruined by Flames

Fishing Company Buildings and Supplies Lost

ST. JOHNS (N. F.) Nov. 4. (AP)—Battle Harbor, situated on the Labrador coast, was fire-swept yesterday noon. The Wilfred Grenfell Hospital was destroyed as well as the fishing premises belonging to Blaine Johnson and containing winter supplies. No loss of life was reported. The hospital had but a few patients, all of whom escaped, uninjured.

A wireless station a mile from the fire was put out of commission by the intense heat, which burned off the wireless mast. Temporary repairs were effected today.

Battle Harbor is little more than a trading station. Besides the hospital it includes a shop, an office building and dwellings for employees of the Blaine Johnson Fishing Industries. The firm, which has its headquarters here, was informed all its buildings were in flames.

The steamer Sagona has been sent to the village to give aid.

The International Grenfell Association in New York said the hospital at Battle Harbor was the first one built in Labrador by Wilfred Grenfell. It was constructed in 1892 and had thirty beds.

PERU TO PROSECUTE LEGUIA

LIMA (Peru) Nov. 4. (AP)—Former President Augusto Leguia and his three sons headed a list of persons to be prosecuted for "illegal enrichment" during the deposed Leguia administration. The list was sent to the National Sanction Court today.

GIBSON SIGHTS HOPE FOR PACT

Conferences in Italy Seem to Instill Optimism

American Ambassador Goes Back to Geneva

Rome-Paris Naval Question Less Perplexing

ROME, Nov. 4. (AP)—Hugh S. Gibson, United States Ambassador to Belgium, went back to Geneva today, apparently optimistic, after a series of conferences with Italian government heads looking toward a settlement of the Franco-Italian naval differences.

He did not talk for publication about his conversations with Premier Mussolini and Foreign Minister Grandi, but left an impression negotiations between France and Italy will be undertaken at the League of Nations Preparatory Disarmament Commission sessions with more likelihood of success.

What Mr. Gibson wants, it is understood, is a solution in which neither nation can claim a diplomatic coup which would cause resentment in the other; a solution which would give each nation the ships it needs without the necessity for exorbitant expenditures in a useless armaments race.

The American Ambassador received assurances Italy is not looking for northern allies with a belligerent end in view, and his interlocutors here are believed to have indicated to him Italians are a bit grieved their good faith has not always been accepted at face value by the other side.

EVANGELIST SELECTED

OMAHA, Nov. 4. (AP)—Rev. V. E. Dietel of Washington, D. C., has accepted a call to take charge of evangelistic work in Spain for the Seventh Day Adventist Church, officials announced today.

LABOR PROBLEM MACHINE-MADE

Washington Committee Sifts Unemployment Causes

Office Men, Waiters, Farmers, Even Teachers Displaced

Vocational Guidance System Offered as Remedy

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—Definite steps to prevent unemployment were advocated today in a report prepared by the Vocational Guidance Committee for submission to the coming White House child conference.

Putting a vocational placement office in every public school system and a "clearinghouse for employment information" in every community were urged.

Advising young people of the demands of the business world, the report said, "should contribute in no small way toward reducing the employment problems of adult men and women."

MACHINES TO BLAME

A decade of mechanical encroachment, even on white-collar jobs, prompted a recommendation for flexibility in any system of employment advice and for a continuing study of the changing commercial field.

Fields in which machines or systems increasing production and decreasing number of workers have, in the past ten years, affected types of work once considered immune from mechanical invasion are cited as follows:

"The billing machine, tabulator and book-keeping machine have brought about an entire reorganization of office occupations.

"The automatic telephone has displaced thousands of workers and transformed an elaborate system of training in one form of communication and the automatic telegraph has brought a similar change in another branch of the same industry.

WAITRESS PASSES

"The self-service restaurant has changed food service both for the waitress and cook, and the self-service grocery is making like transformations for the person who sells foodstuffs.

"Power-driven machines are making changes in farming that have led economists to aver farming will soon experience division of labor comparable to that whereby industry was revolutionized.

"The motion-picture camera and the talking picture have remade the actors' profession.

"The radio is being used to give instruction on a large scale and its introduction into the schoolroom already suggests changes in methods of instruction and the teacher's part in the teaching process."

OLD ORDER CHANGED

In this changing scene, where little boys may no longer expect to grow up to be farmers nor little girls school-teachers, the group said, expert advice on jobs and where to get them should be available to everybody.

Specially trained vocational counselors, perhaps held to high standards by State licensing systems, were recommended for all junior and senior high schools.

Individual counseling was rated as the most important factor in fitting youth to life work, with psychological tests second.

NEW YORK CENTRAL LAY-OFF ENDED

BUFFALO (N. Y.) Nov. 4. (AP)—Officials of the New York Central Railroad announced today that more than 1200 employees of the railroad car shops will return to work tomorrow after three weeks of idleness.

CUDAHY EXPERIMENTS WITH FIVE-DAY WEEK

OMAHA, Nov. 4. (AP)—A five-day working week has been introduced at the Cudahy packing plant here. C. A. Stewart, general superintendent, said it might be adopted permanently if proven satisfactory.

BAY CITY SCHOOLS TO START BUILDINGS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4. (AP)—Further relief for unemployment in San Francisco was promised today by Joseph Marr Gwinn, Superintendent of Schools, who announced four construction plans totaling $1,250,000. One project is to begin within forty days and two others within three months.

South Carolina 'Boss' Indicted

COLUMBIA (S. C.) Nov. 4. (AP)—O. B. "Bossy" Limehouse one-time political leader of Dorchester county, was indicted here today by a Federal grand jury on charges of sending obscene and indecent letters and explosive material through the mail in an asserted effort to intimidate his political enemies.

The letters, all unsigned, were mailed in 1929 to members of the Dorchester Riddance League, a faction which ousted Limehouse and his group from control of the county in 1928.

The explosives were a loaded pistol cartridge and two matches, mailed at the same time to D. R. L. office holders.

EX-STENOGRAPHER NEW SOCIAL LIGHT

Diane Ellis Millett

ACTRESS IN FILMS NOW IN SOCIETY

Comely Diane Ellis Wed to Stephen Millett, Jr., New York Club Man

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (Exclusive) Once a stenographer, then a film actress, the comely young Diane Ellis now has stepped into high society as the bride of Stephen C. Millett, Jr., rich New York clubman. The marriage took place in Paris October 14, but news of it was suppressed until today.

The marriage of Diane and young Millett came as a surprise to New York friends. The actress last appeared in Nancy Carroll's talkie, "Laughter," and departed for Europe in August, announcing she planned to study interior decorating. Millett's aristocratic parents knew of the love affair, however, and approved of it, evidently, since his sister Elizabeth acted as maid of honor to Diane. Also Edward P. Peyton of the Cold-Stream Guards, whose engagement to the second sister, Thelia Westcott Millett, has been announced, was best man, and Mrs. Malcolm, now residing in Paris, gave a small, informal reception for the couple after the ceremony at the American Cathedral.

DOMINIONS URGE NEW AIR LINKS

Premiers Want Weekly Indian Service Extended to Australia

LONDON, Nov. 4. (AP)—Dominion premiers attending the imperial conference today urged continuation of a project to link the units of the British Empire by regular airplane service and expressed the hope inauguration of the London-South American lines will be followed by extension of the weekly Indian service to Australia.

Heads of delegations recommended that the customary extra-territorial immunities in respect of internal discipline, enjoyed by the armed forces of one member of the commonwealth in the territory of another, should be extended.

The effect will be that no legislation enforced by one dominion shall apply to the military representatives of another when within its territory. Concurrent legislation will be necessary.

The conference proposal in regard to governor-generals, its is understood, has been submitted to the King for his approval.

GEOGRAPHIC SOCIETY MAN TO BE HONORED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—Noted explorers, statesmen, educators and other distinguished persons will attend a dinner here tomorrow night which will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the association of Dr. John Oliver LaGorce with the National Geographic Society. The dinner is being given by the trustees of the society, of which LaGorce is vice-president. He is also associate editor of the National Geographic Magazine.

KING BORIS COMMUTES SENTENCES OF DOOMED

SOFIA (Bulgaria) Nov. 4. (AP)—King Boris commuted to life imprisonment today the death sentences of 100 convicts, among them the former police prefect, Proudkine, who was convicted of planning the dynamite outrage at the Odeon Theater in which many were killed eight years ago. The King and Queen are still receiving wedding gifts. Ionna's trousseau, which recently reached the capital, filled two baggage cars.

MEMORIAL RECEIVES ESCADRILLE AVIATOR

PARIS, Nov. 4. (AP)—With impressive ceremony, the body of Wallace Charles Winter of Chicago, a former member of the famous Lafayette Escadrille, was transferred from the American Cathedral to the crypt of the Escadrille Memorial at Garches today. It was the last body to enter the crypt and the monument was solemnly sealed after the transfer.

AUSTRIA SEIZES ELECTION ARMS

Socialist Raids Net Rifles and Machine Guns

Fascists Have Cannon Also, Partisans Protest

"Campaign Ammunition" Just That in Vienna

VIENNA, Nov. 4. (AP)—With the general election only a few days off excitement prevailed in the ranks of Socialists as the government today began a series of raids of Socialist headquarters, confiscating arms and ammunition.

The Socialists protested against being disarmed, asserting 120,000 Fascists are permitted to retain their rifles, machine guns, field pieces and great quantities of ammunition.

At dawn police, reinforced by soldiers and gendarmes from the Province, raided the Athletic Club of the Socialist party secretariat and other Socialist meeting places throughout Austria.

POTENT ARGUMENTS

The government announced tonight forty machine guns, 500,000 cartridges and 4000 rifles, revolvers, grenades and bandoleers had been seized. Among the places visited by the raiding troops were Graz, Klagenfurt, Wienerneustadt, Bruck, Linz, Eisenstadt and eight districts in Vienna itself. In addition, search of private Socialist dwellings also was started despite the protest of the Socialists, who contend the government is acting without legal search warrants.

The general elections Sunday have stirred intense interest since for the first time the Socialists are threatening to become the strongest party in the National Assembly by reason of a split in the ranks of other parties. If this should happen it would be virtually impossible for the Conservative parties to wrest control of the city government of Vienna out of the Socialists' hands, an object long fought for.

EFFORTS BALKED

A supreme effort was made last year by the Fascist Heimwehr to compel the Christian Social coalition government to achieve a constitutional revision by proclamation of a dictatorship, but Dr. Johan Schober, the Chancellor, refused. Dr. Schober resigned with his Cabinet in September because of a crisis arising over the appointment of a Fascist railways director. Fascists then entered the new national ministry.

The Socialists now claim the Prince of Starhemberg, chief commander of the Fascist Heimwehr and Minister of the Interior, aided by Dr. Hueber, Heimwehr leader and Minister of Justice, have set themselves to the task of sapping the strength of the Socialists.

How the situation in Austria will develop is the subject of conjecture.

PLANS EXPOSED

The intended action of the government to seize the arms of the Socialists was revealed prematurely last night, but the Socialists were unable to take any action as Parliament is dissolved. The party, however, issued a manifesto today telling its followers to offer no resistance to the raids.

Dr. Hueber last week told an election meeting:

"We will shut up the 'jabbering booth' at the earliest possible moment," a reference taken to mean Parliament.

HELIUM WILL BE USED BY ECKENER

Commander of Zeppelin Tells Americans at Berlin Supply Has Been Granted

BERLIN, Nov. 4. (AP)—Dr. Hugo Eckener surprised the annual dinner of the American Chamber of Commerce tonight by announcing that as a result of the recent disaster to the British dirigible R-101, he had changed the plans for Zeppelins now under construction so as to provide for helium gas and crude oil motors.

Amid thunderous applause he said he had received word from America that helium gas, which is noninflammable and nonexplosive, will be available to inflate his airships in whatever quantities desired.

Dr. Eckener, who is famous as commander of the Graf Zeppelin, said had it not been for an explosion, the crash of the R-101 in France several weeks ago would have resulted in minimum damages. As it was the great airship burned to almost nothing and forty-eight British lives were lost.

Frederic M. Sackett, American Ambassador to Germany, was another speaker at the dinner.

NEW YORK-TO-CAPITAL FLIGHT RECORD SET

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)—The New York, Philadelphia and Washington Airway Company claimed a new record of seventy-two minutes today for flights between New York and Washington by a heavy trimotored plane. The plane averaged 166 miles an hour on its morning trip to Washington. The usual time has been from 110 to 115 minutes. Lloyd Jueison flew the record trip and an hour later Walter Wipprecht flew a similar plane in seventy-five minutes.

C. M. PEPPER, WRITER ON LATIN STATES, DIES

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)—Charles Melville Pepper, 70 years of age, writer and for thirteen years director of the Chile-American Association, died today. A war correspondent in Cuba in 1898 and a delegate to the second Pan-American Congress at Mexico City in 1901, Mr. Pepper was a student and writer on Latin-American affairs. Mr. Pepper was born in Morrow county, Ohio. He leaves a daughter, Mrs. A. Kenny C. Palmer of New York City, and a brother, Samuel A. Pepper, of Seattle, Wash.

MME. MELBA SERIOUSLY ILL ON SHIP

Prima Donna Forbidden by Physician to Land at Australia

FREMANTLE (West Australia) Nov. 4. (AP)—Dame Nellie Melba, famous operatic soprano arriving here aboard the liner Cathay today, was so ill her physician forbade her landing.

The prima donna, whose home is in Coldstream, Victoria, has been indisposed for the last four days, it was said. She is 64 years of age.

Dame Nellie Melba (Helen Porter Mitchell,) was born in Richmond, near Melbourne, Australia, in 1866, and took the pseudonym of Melba after her debut as Gilda in "Rigoletto" in Brussels in 1887.

Her success as a vocalist was instantaneous. She first appeared in New York in 1893 and thereafter sang in the United States frequently. Her greatest success probably was in 1903 when she returned to Australia and sang before heads of the colonial governments and immense audiences.

Her repertoire included leading French and Italian roles. She has been the recipient of numerous gifts and decorations from sovereigns and others. She was created a dame of the British Empire in 1918 for her war work.

Physician and Woman Held in Operation Quiz

LONG BEACH, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—Dr. R. L. Buffum, a local physician, was arrested this afternoon by Detective Sergeants Lebarron and Wood and booked for investigation. The arrest followed that of Mrs. Lucy Bourdon, 32 years of age, of 1431 Canal street, by the same officers.

Police reports set forth that the officers were on guard at the Canal-street address investigating a report that the home was being used for illegal operations and that they watched Dr. Buffum depart. They then entered and declare they found evidence that a criminal operation had been performed. The officers say they suspect a working agreement between the two defendants.

TWO WYOMING PAPERS SOLD TO NEW COMPANY

SHERIDAN (Wyo.) Nov. 4. (AP)—The sale of Sheridan's two newspapers, the Sheridan Post-Enterprise and the Sheridan Journal, to a newly organized publishing company composed of Sheridan county men, was announced today. Charles W. Barton, publisher of the Post-Enterprise, and C. Watt Brandon, publisher of the Journal, announced they are relinquishing control, but said they are not at liberty to make known the names of the new owners until next week.

BALL GIVEN BY DAVIS HALTED BY TRAGEDY

MANILA, Nov. 4. (AP)—Gov.-Gen. Davis's annual reception and ball in honor of the Philippine Legislature ended tragically tonight after Manuel De Yriarte, director of the National Museum, collapsed during a Spanish dance and died of heart disease. The music was stopped immediately and several hundred guests left Malacanang Palace, residence of the Governor-General.

VISITOR TO BUDAPEST TAKEN FOR PRETENDER

BUDAPEST (Hungary) Nov. 4. (AP) Intense excitement prevailed here for a while today with rumors young Prince Otto had returned to Hungary to claim the Hungarian throne, to which he is the pretender. The city became calmer when it was learned that the person believed to be Otto was the Swedish Crown Prince, Gustav Adolf, who came with a party of three others, two of them women, to visit at the residence of Bishop Count Mikes at Steinamanger.

WANABI RAIDERS KILL TEN AND STEAL STOCK

JERUSALEM, Nov. 4. (AP)—Wanabi raiders were reported in the Arab press today to have crossed the trans-Jordan frontier and to have attacked the village of Bayer, killing ten inhabitants. The fierce warriors seized 600 camels. The raiders, whose depredations have frequently caused trouble, decamped before airplanes and armored cars could reach the scene.

Full Facts in Palestine Situation Sought

Protest or Hands-Off Stand May Be Adopted

Balfour Declaration Has Arab Provision

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—Secretary Stimson, pressed by an outpouring of appeals for action from Jewish leaders in the United States, is giving active consideration to the Palestine problem.

The Secretary declined, until he has the full facts before him, to make any public statement on the situation which resulted from the restriction on further Jewish immigration into Palestine imposed by the British government, holder of a League of Nations mandate over the territory.

Immediately upon the arrival by diplomatic pouch from London of a mass of official documents relating to the new British declaration of policy, the Secretary began a study of the entire problem.

SEVERAL COURSES OPEN

Several alternatives are open to the American government and the Secretary has sought the advice of officials of the near eastern division of the department in an effort to shape his policy.

One course of action which may be taken by the Secretary is the issuance of a public statement giving the viewpoint of the American government whether it considers the rights of American Jews affected by the new British policy. Another course would be representations to the British in the event it were believed American rights are effected, and a third alternative is a strict hands-off policy if the British policy is held commensurate with the best interests of the mandated territory.

Under the Balfour declaration, made by Lord Balfour when Foreign Minister of Great Britain in 1917, Great Britain was asserted to favor the establishment in Palestine of a national home for the Jewish race. In the declaration, however, was a clause that this home was favored so long as it did not interfere with the rights of other nationals in the territory. The Arab populace, which long has opposed the Jewish influx, has clashed with the Jews on several occasions with loss of life on each side.

RIGHTS UNDER CONVENTION

American rights, of the same status as those of nationals of the League of Nations members' countries, were recognized by Great Britain in an Anglo-American treaty in 1924. At the same time the United States recognized Great Britain's mandate over the territory. Any action which might be taken by the United States would be taken under this convention.

There appears to be no doubt in the minds of officials here that the British action was taken solely with the economic situation of Palestine in mind and not with any ulterior political motive.

JEWISH PETITION TO LEAGUE SUGGESTED

LONDON, Nov. 4. (AP)—A suggestion the Jewish Agency for Palestine submit a petition to the mandates commission, in session at Geneva, asking it to discuss Palestine immediately was made today by Dr. Chaim Weizmann, resigned president of the Jewish agency and of the World Zionist organization.

Today's meeting of the emergency session of the Zionist actions committee was called into urgent session to deal with the crisis in the Zionist movement as a result of the British white paper and the Simpson report.

MANDATE COMMISSION GETS WHITE PAPER

GENEVA, Nov. 4. (AP)—The League of Nations Permanent Mandate Commission acknowledged receipt of the British white paper on Britain's policy in Palestine at the opening of its regular session today. But Palestine is not on the agenda for this meeting and the developments at London which caused so much concern among Jews throughout the world were too recent to permit the preparation of any official observations for consideration by the commission.

It appeared that for a few days at any rate Britain's policy in Palestine will not be dealt with. There is hope in Jewish quarters that the British Cabinet will make some new declaration this week in view of the hostile reaction to its recent announcement.

It also is believed possible that the League commission might discuss the Palestine question privately and make some general recommendation to the League Council.

PAINLEVE CHAMPIONS CAUSE OF ZIONISTS

PARIS, Nov. 4. (AP)—Former Premier Paul Painleve appeared as a champion of Zionists tonight at a mass meeting held to protest the recent British statement regarding the Palestine mandate.

"The promises of the Balfour declaration have not been kept," said M. Painleve, "yet the Jews founded the center of civilization, the Zionists have heroically fulfilled their promises, and the Arabs have not the right to despoil them.

"Zionism must live and will live as conceived."

San Quentin Fugitive Dead

SAN QUENTIN, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—C. L. Massengale, Merced county burglar who escaped a prison-road camp, July 27, last, was killed in an attempted robbery at El Dorado, Ark., October 14, last, according to word received by Warden Holohan today.

The prisoner also had a police record in Long Beach and San Jose and had served a term in the Nevada penitentiary.

SOUTH SHIVERS WHILE IT VOTES

Large Area Unused to Snow Gets White Blanket

Gale Lashes Atlantic Coast; Drenching Rain Falls

Storm Strikes Honduras; Aquitania Harassed

CHARLOTTE (N. C.) Nov. 4. (AP)—Election day today brought snow, rain and high winds to the shivering South.

Western North Carolina's loftier mountains were clothed in white by the earliest snowstorm of a quarter-century. Snow sifted down, too, over the heights of upper East Tennessee, and at Bluefield, Va.

A lusty nor'easter that lashed into North Carolina above Wilmington, curved down through the State and returned to sea at Norfolk, Va., was blowing northward tonight, expected to reach gale force. Maryland felt its strength and the heavy rains it brought drenched that long dry State. At Norfolk, high tides swept into the street, disrupting traffic and shipping was halted. At Cape Henry the wind climbed to fifty-two miles an hour. The beach there was cut back eighteen feet, endangering summer cottages.

Raw chill winds and a bitter drizzle of rain harassed most of the South—Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, and parts of Tennessee. Virginia had the heaviest rains since early in the summer. Precipitation at Cape Hatteras, N. C., was 2.36 inches in twenty-four hours.

Thermometer readings ranged from Western North Carolina's subfreezing marks to Tennessee's of around 55. Georgia had readings of just above 40.

Herbert Hoover, Jr., recuperating from a recent illness in a cottage on Sunset Mountains, near Asheville, awoke today to a snow-clad outdoors. In Salua, N. C., and Banner's Elk, N. C., snow fell to a depth of around six inches. A near-blizzard whistled through the mountains and light snow was reported as far east in the State as Charlotte.

HEAVY STORM HITS COAST OF HONDURAS

TEGUCIGALPA (Honduras) Nov. 4. (AP)—Heavy storms descended on the Honduran north coast Sunday and were still sweeping the country tonight.

Many buildings and railroad bridges have been destroyed between San Pedro Sula and Puerto Cortes, with the railway line unable to operate.

The light plant in San Pedro was damaged and the city is in darkness.

Banana plantations around the rivers Ulua and Chamelecon suffered greatly.

STORM AT SEA HARASSES AQUITANIA

S. S. AQUITANIA, Nov. 4. (By radio to the Associated Press)—Mountainous seas and a terrific gale which have delayed the Aquitania since a few hours after it sailed from Cherbourg Saturday were climaxed this morning when the gale reached a hurricane force of 100 miles an hour. Ship officers said it was one of the worst storms in years. The ship almost hove to at the height of the gale, slowing down to a bare three knots an hour. The vessel was already eighteen hours behind schedule. It was to have reached New York next Friday.

ACTRESS WANTS HER FREEDOM

English Lord Fights Annulment Suit

Lord and Lady Inverclyde

LONDON, Nov. 4. (AP)—Lady Inverclyde, better known as "June, the actress," who was married to Lord Inverclyde last year after a romantic courtship on both sides of the Atlantic, asked the divorce court for annulment of the marriage today.

Lord Inverclyde asked dismissal of the petition on the ground the court had no jurisdiction, as the parties involved were domiciled in Scotland.

Presenting the case before the court counsel stated the petition said Lord Inverclyde and Lady Inverclyde had never lived together as man and wife.

The actress, whose real name was June Howard-Tripp, and Lord Inverclyde were married in London, March 21, 1929.

FRENCH VERBAL BARRAGE BEGINS

Parliament's First Session Has Taste of Battle

Premier's Opponents Taken Off Guard at Start

Real Warfare Expected to Develop Tomorrow

PARIS, Nov. 4. (AP)—A preliminary skirmish which served as a preparation for the real battle to come enlivened the opening session of Parliament today.

Opponents of Premier Tardieu, as had been expected, wheeled into action with criticism of the government's foreign policy, but they were thrown off their stride at the very outset by the Premier's insistence debate be started immediately.

They had not looked for this and Francois Bouisson, president of the Chamber of Deputies, was obliged to ask that the discussions be delayed until he could obtain certain necessary documents which he had not taken to the opening session.

Government supporters howled him down with a demand he be called to order, and the sitting was suspended amid confusion.

The real fight will come Thursday when Parliament reconvenes.

LABORITES WIN IN CRUCIAL TEST

Narrow Margin Registered in Clash on Strength

Liberals Decline to Vote on Throne Speech Issue

Administration Faces Real Grief Next Month

LONDON, Nov. 4. (AP)—A majority of only thirty-one votes carried the Ramsay MacDonald government safely through the first important division of the current parliamentary session late tonight.

This was regarded a crucial test, for the balloting was on a motion by the Conservative party to amend the speech in reply to the address from the throne. The amendment was defeated by 281 votes to 250.

The speech from the throne, delivered by King George at the opening of Parliament, but voicing the aims of the Labor party, has been under bitter attack for two days.

FEARS DISPELLED

The Conservatives assailed the failure of the Laborites to propose any adequate measures to deal with the crises in the industrial agricultural and commercial fields or to check the growth of unemployment.

Supporters of the administration feared earlier in the week that the Liberal party, which holds the balance of power, and disgruntled left-wing laborites might combine with the conservatives to bring about a government defeat, but this danger was practically removed when the Liberals decided yesterday to abstain from voting on the amendment.

As a matter of fact, five Liberals, including Sir John Simon, voted against the government tonight but they were almost counterbalanced by four members of the same party, who stood by the administration.

STATEMENTS MADE

Previous to their vote David Lloyd George, Liberal leader, told the House of Commons he would not support the Conservative amendment because it was a protectionist amendment.

He also said he felt bound to wait and see the effort of Liberal and Labor co-operation on the problem of unemployment. The Liberal leader, however, criticised the government for its inaction as regards unemployment.

Lloyd George's statement was interpreted as meaning the government will be allowed until Christmas to state specific and comprehensive plans to deal with unemployment. In other words, when the imperial and round-table conferences are over the government will probably be seriously challenged by both oppositions.

UTAH STAYS NEUTRAL ON DAM BATTLE

No Sides Will Be Taken on Arizona's Suit Until Government Tells Stand

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 4. (AP)—Utah will remain neutral regarding the suit filed by Arizona against the Federal government to halt construction of Boulder Dam until the government makes known its stand, it was decided here today at a meeting of the Utah-Colorado River Commission and Gov. Dern.

Asst. Atty.-Gen. Hilton was instructed to attend the meeting of representatives of the six signatory States of the Colorado basin at Greeley, Colo., and report back to the State commission. He was advised not to take a stand on the question.

Utah officials said should the Federal government lay claim to title to water within States in opposing Arizona's claim to a portion of the Colorado River waters, this State will fight the Federal government's proposal. Gov. Dern said Utah will always insist upon its rights and title to water within its boundaries. He said the people of the State should control the water —not the Federal government.

FEDERAL RECEIPTS DECLINE

Four Months of Fiscal Year Reveal Drop of About $174,000,000

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—Ordinary receipts of the government show a decline of approximately $174,000,000 for the first four months of the present fiscal year compared with the corresponding period of the last fiscal year.

Major factors contributing to this decline was a decrease of about $84,500,000 in customs receipts; $58,000,000 in income-tax receipts, and $11,000,000 on miscellaneous internal revenue.

Total expenditures for the same period show an increase of about $47,000,000 compared with last year. General expenditures gained about $55,000,000; postal deficiency expenditures mounted by $15,000,000, while the agricultural marketing fund accounted for more than $34,000,000 more.

Offsetting these items was a paring of about $35,000,000 in interest on the public debt, while internal revenue refunds were $15,000,000 less than last year.

TRUSTEE'S BAIL BOND AT $100,000

Official Accused of Thefts From Charity Institutions and Large Estates

BOSTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—Henry C. Wiley, 62 years of age, who was arrested yesterday charged with taking $380,000 from estates and charitable institutions of which he was trustee, was remanded to jail in default of $100,000 bail on his arraignment today. Police said Wiley admitted the theft of an additional $115,000.

Wiley's arrest yesterday resulted from questioning by Donald M. Hill, a son of William Hill, of whose estate Wiley was trustee and in whose stock brokerage business he had gained a start as an office boy.

The principal sufferers of Wiley's defalcations are the Winchester Home for Aged Women in Charlestown, of which Wiley was treasurer; the Hill estate, in which a $150,000 deficit has been found, and the Mark Hollingsworth estate, which is said to be short $110,000.

There are thirty-four inmates of the Winchester home ranging in ages between 61 and 90 years. Officials there said the loss is about $120,000.

Police Dragnet Misses Capone

CHICAGO, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—Three detective bureau squads under command of Lieut. Walter Storms, acting on information that Al Capone and his first lieutenant, Ted Newberry, would be found there, raided a rooming-house at 901 South Halsted street shortly before midnight last night and seized thirteen men and six revolvers.

The raiders failed to find Capone or Newberry, but among the thirteen who were taken to the detective bureau for identification was Frankie Rio, notorious hoodlum and public enemy. The men were busily tabulating election returns which were being received by radio when the police burst in on them.

NO STRINGS ON EMBASSY, SAYS CLARK

Ambassador to Mexico Refutes Rumor Morrow to Finance Incumbent

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 4. (AP)—J. Reuben Clark, recently appointed United States Ambassador to Mexico, denied today Dwight W. Morrow, his predecessor, will pay or has offered to pay the expenses of the Embassy out of his personal fortune.

"I'm paying my own way," Ambassador Clark said. "When I can no longer finance myself I'll come home. I think it would be inquitous and un-American for an Ambassador to be supported by some private citizen.

"Generous as Mr. Morrow is, he would be the last to think of making such a precedent. The published reports that the ex-Ambassador would contribute to the Embassy at Mexico City are so harmful in their implications that the facts should be understood. This nation cannot permit its envoys to be supported by private gratuities."

Mr. Clark asserted laughingly he probably has "the best advertised poverty in America," referring to reports he had first declined the Ambassadorship because the cost was too burdensome for his private means.

Belgian Lays Claim to First Electric Lamp

BRUSSELS, Nov. 4. (AP)—Celebration of the achievements of Zenoby Gramme, inventor of the dynamo, has led to closer study of the role played by Belgian scientists in the world of electricity.

A lecturer recently told the Society of Belgian Engineers that Edison is not entitled to exclusive credit for the electric lamp.

On November 5, 1879, it was asserted, the Belgian engineer Leon Somzee filed an application for a patent describing an electrical valve with a charcoal filament. Sixteen days later Edison patented his charred filament lamp.

WOODCOCK TO SAIL FOR HONOLULU TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4. (AP)—Amos W. W. Woodcock, national prohibition director, will sail from here at noon tomorrow for an inspection of prohibition headquarters at Honolulu. He will be accompanied by William G. Walker, San Francisco administrator, and others.

MOTORMAN INJURED IN CRASH WITH TRUCK

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4. (AP)—Charles Watts, motorman, was seriously injured and a score of passengers shaken up when a heavy truck crashed into and derailed a street car at Fillmore and Chestnut streets today. Watts suffered possible internal injuries, severe cuts and bruises.

Young Aviator Halts Flight to Await Tail Wind

MESA (Ariz.) Nov. 4. (AP)—Stanley Boynton, young aviator pursuing junior transcontinental flight records, arrived here late today after leaving Casa Grande this morning for Phoenix.

Boynton walked into Mesa to report he had brought his plane down in a road off his course. He pushed it into the brush for parking overnight. Boynton said he would spend tonight here and continue to Phoenix tomorrow. He will not attempt further flight eastward until "I get a good wind from the west."

CHINA MAY IMPORT EXPERTS AND MONEY

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)—Nanking dispatches to the Kuo Min News Agency, representing the Chinese Nationalist government, said tonight 170 Chinese financial leaders have agreed that foreign capital and foreign experts should be imported to develop the country's industries. President Chiang Kai-Shek made the announcement of this stand to the industrial and commercial conference, which is seeking to develop basic industries and the promotion of foreign trade.

CHINESE PATENT FINES SYSTEM AGAIN IN USE

SHANGHAI, Nov. 4. (AP)—The old Chinese system of imposing fines upon persons convicted of infringing upon trademarks and patent rights has been returned to the judicial code book of China after half a dozen years of efficient use of the penal clause covering this offense as enforced throughout the western world.

Kaier Silent on Kidnaping

DETROIT, Nov. 4. (AP)—Charles J. Kaier, wealthy real estate dealer, who was released in Indianapolis yesterday by three kidnapers who abducted him from his home here Thursday night by posing as Federal agents, refused today to tell who had kidnaped him, but told police no ransom had been paid.

The kidnapers first had demanded $10,000 of Kaier's wife, then had reduced their demand to $3000, police said.

BANKER COMING HERE TO LOCATE HIS SON

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Nov. 4. (AP)—Eugene Wilkerson, Nowata (Okla.) banker who came here in search of his son, Roy Wilkerson, 24-year-old City Clerk of Nowata, left today for Los Angeles when he discovered his son bought a ticket last Monday for the Coast city. Wilkerson told officers here he had been worrying for some time over his son's health and when he failed to receive a reply to a telegram sent to him here, where the younger man had been visiting, he came to Arizona to locate him.

MME. ABREU, CUBAN PATRIOT, SUCCUMBS

HAVANA, Nov. 4. (AP)—Mme. Rosalia Abreu, 65 years of age, known throughout Cuba for her philanthropic work during the Cuban wars of independence and after the establishment of the republic here, died at her estate, Villa Palatino, on the outskirts of Havana, during the night. Mme. Abreu, and her late sister, Martha, devoted much of their immense wealth to the aid of the cause in Cuba's fight for freedom. She also was interested in biological life and achieved international fame for the zoo which she developed. Her great collection of anthropoidic specimens, particularly rare apes, are said by many to be the finest in the world.

AVIATOR SCATTERS ASHES OF FATHER

SYDNEY (N. S. W.) Nov. 4. (AP)—Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith, using the airplane in which he made his last memorable flight from England to Australia, today scattered the ashes of his father over the waters of the Pacific Ocean, which witnessed his first notable triumph in the air. On his deathbed last week William Kingsford-Smith, father of the aviator, expressed a wish that his ashes be cast to the winds over the Pacific and his famous son thus today performed his last sad duty to his dead father.

Firemen Save Fifty Chinese From Flames

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4. (AP)—Fifty Chinese, including a mother and her 2-day-old baby, were rescued from a burning apartment-house in the heart of San Francisco's Chinatown early today. The blaze was extinguished after a general alarm had been sounded and damage estimated by firemen at $100,000, had been done to a store owned by Pakazawa, where the fire started.

Old St. Mary's Church, historic San Francisco landmark, was but one building removed from the blaze and for a few moments, it was feared this structure would be damaged.

Whether all the Chinese had escaped the flames was not known, firemen said. A report was carried through the crowd that two women were missing.

STUDENTS PEEP AT ATHENAEUM

More Than 500 of Caltech Guests at Building

Visitors Received by Wives of Institute Officials

Research Scholars' Quarters Inspected by Group

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Nov. 4.—More than 500 California Institute of Technology students had their initial opportunity to inspect the recently completed Athenaeum, $500,000 retreat for members of the staffs of the institute, Mt. Wilson Observatory and Huntington Library, this afternoon when the Athenaeum held open house for undergraduates and friends.

Mrs. Robert A. Millikan, wife of the executive head of the California institute; Mrs. Frederic W. Hinrichs, Jr., wife of the dean of upper classmen, and Mrs. John R. MacArthur, whose husband is dean of freshmen, were the hostesses.

The guests inspected the facilities of the new building, including the kitchen and suites for visiting research scholars, and were served light refreshments in the Athenaeum patio.

The final events of the series which is marking the opening of the building will be held Thursday night, when the California Institute Associates will attend a formal banquet in the Athenaeum in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Allan C. Balch, who provided funds for the beautiful structure.

PAGEANT ACTRESS CHOSEN

Following tryouts of a score of young actresses, Dolores Brown, daughter of Melville Brown, film director, has been chosen to play the principal role in "Tahquitz," an Indian pageant drama which will be produced at Palm Springs for four days beginning the 15th inst. The play was written by Garnet Holme, and will be produced in an outdoor desert setting by Paul Whiting and Belasco.

The ambition of Miss Brown to become an actress had been opposed by her father but when she proved her ability in several film productions he became reconciled to her career and is assisting her in her study for both the stage and screen. Brown, who directed Amos 'n' Andy for R.-K.-O., is one of the pioneers in that field in Hollywood.

WOMAN BLOCKS BUNKO SCHEME

Secretary Saves Mortuary by Phoning Police

Swindle Suspect Escaped Federal Convict

Ruse to Cash Bogus Check Leads to Capture

Alertness of a woman secretary in a local mortuary was responsible for breaking up one of the cleverest national bunko schemes concocted and successfully employed in recent years, police reported following the arrest of Neil McConolhue, escaped Federal prisoner, who has worked under fifteen aliases.

McConolhue, 30 years of age, was taken in custody by Detective Lieutenants Magness and Spencer at the Lawson P. Utter mortuary, 4354 South Broadway, when Ruby Best, secretary, telephoned police she believed a plan was about to be carried out which would net McConolhue a neat profit.

CONFESSION RELATED

Following his arrest the officers reported McConolhue confessed the details of his operations which, they asserted, have caused local, San Francisco and eastern morticians sizeable losses.

The suspect, police said, called Miss Best in the afternoon and said he was a member of the family of a deceased man who was being buried that afternoon. He told the secretary he had to leave town immediately and would come to the mortuary to pay all costs, but that he had a certified cashier's check for $60 more than the expenses.

Later, Miss Best told investigators, McConolhue telephoned and said it would be necessary to send a messenger with the check and asked that the change be given to him.

FACES NEW TERM

The secretary had been warned of a man who operated a similar scheme and called the police. They caught McConolhue across the street, waiting for the messenger, who had in his possession the check McConolhue had dispatched, asserted to be a forgery.

Because McConolhue escaped from a Federal road camp near Fort George Meade, Md., he now faces a felony charge, according to Federal authorities. It is stated that under a law recently passed, to escape or to attempt to escape constitutes a felony. He is being held for removal to Maryland.

TWO CAST IN 'PARIS PREFERRED'

Eddie Cantor to Write Own Film Story in Honolulu; Robert Montgomery Gets "Easiest Way" Lead; Columbia Cofeatures Holt and Kelsey

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Scenarists' typewriters over at First National are being geared high these days, preparing for the large number of pictures that organization will produce the coming months.

LORETTA YOUNG

Coming hot from Humphrey Pearson's typing machine yesterday was "Paris, Preferred," on which Pearson has been cogitating for some time.

It concerns the theory that Americans going to Paris always become to a greater or less extent, what might be termed "Paris minded," in other words, they forget temporarily at least, their Puritan principles.

Loretta Young and Grant Withers are slated to cofeature in it, according to present plans. There are two other almost equally important roles, but so far no one has been selected for either.

William Beiter will direct the picture, which will be made probably as a special.

EDDIE CANTOR PENS OWN GOLDWYN YARN

And while we're on the subject of authorial typewriters, Eddie Cantor owns one, too, it appears.

EDDIE CANTOR.

The comedian is writing his own story, to be produced by Samuel Goldwyn, with himself as star. We couldn't find out anything except that the story will, as you have already suspected, be a modern one, and that it will contain a number of show girls, but no chorus. Of course Eddie will write in some dances for himself.

Cantor and his wife are leaving for Honolulu on the 17th inst., and the comedian is taking his unfinished manuscript along with him, hoping that the hula dancers and sea bathing, not to mention the native luaus, won't be too distracting.

We hear it whispered that there is a possibility of one of the numerous young Cantors appearing in the picture with him, but we could get no verification of this.

M.-G.-M. PICKS LEAD FOR MISS BENNETT

It was decided yesterday, after careful consideration of many candidates, that the skilled Robert Montgomery is to play opposite Constance Bennett in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's talking film interpretation of Eugene Walter's drama, "The Easiest Way."

ROBERT MONTGOMERY

Montgomery has been distinguishing himself all along the M.-G.-M. line by his characterizations both in comedy and drama, and the new role will furnish him a fine opportunity.

The picture is to be made one of the most elaborate specials of the M.-G.-M. year and Jack Conway will direct.

Holt and Kelsey Teamed

Ever since it was announced earlier in the season that Columbia Pictures had secured the screen rights to "Subway Express," the stage novelty thriller by Eva Kay Flint and Martha Madison, we have all been wondering who would play the role of the inspector. Harry Cohn is now in position to satisfy that curiosity.

Jack Holt, he announces, has been assigned to the role and will start work as soon as he finishes "Dirigible" for Columbia. And again Fred Kelsey will be teamed with Holt, just as he was in "The Donovan Affair."

"Subway Express," as of course you know, if you keep track of your theater, was a Broadway success of last year.

Victor Varconi With Gloria

No contracts have been signed yet, you understand; but the fact remains that Victor Varconi, who has just undergone a screen and voice test for Gloria Swanson's next United Artists picture, will probably win one of the two important male roles in that production.

VICTOR VARCONI

Miss Swanson's new one, as heretofore announced, will be founded on an unpublished and heretofore unproduced play by Lucia Bronder.

Varconi, as you remember, won vast laurels for himself in De Mille's "King of Kings," and later with Corinne Griffith in "The Divine Lady." He was in Europe, playing in pictures for a year or two, but lately has returned.

Louise Fazenda Writes

Louise Fazenda was so busy while in Paris that she couldn't stop a minute to write letters, but she has made up for her neglect by writing a nice one from the train en route to Amsterdam, relating some of her experiences. The letter must have arrived in New York on the same boat as herself, since she is now in the East.

"Paris is the most wonderful place in the world, I'm sure," she writes. "It's a woman's city, and when you come be sure and visit it with a full pocketbook.

"All the historic places, like Versailles and Fontainebleau, are marvelous.

"We saw so many people we know. Coming out of the Hotel Royal Monceau, Kathleen Williams rushed up to us. She has been there since July, and had just been to call on Pola Negri. And I saw Joe Jackson and Ethel Shannon at Ciro's, Dorothy Farnum at a Sunday party, Archie Mayo at the George V, and that red-headed Jack Campbell, a newspaper man, everywhere.

"It was such fun going to Monparnasse, Montmartre and the Ritz. You can meet anyone you know there at the American bar.

"We tore up to Berlin to see German films made. The sets are extraordinary. German trains are fine and the food is grand.

"We are now seated in a compartment of a train going to Amsterdam. With us is a Frenchman and a Dutchman. After sitting for four hours, I offered them some chocolate, which they accepted, but we can do nothing but smile at each other in the way of communication.

"This taste of Europe has made us already plan the next trip, which we hope will be next summer, when we want to see the Scandinavian countries, and sail down the Rhine. We were in time for the Rhine grapes, and had some given us from Frederick the Great's palace at Sans Souci. They were really worthy of a king.

"We are looking forward to London; but this little while over here is a calamity. However, Hal (Wallis) must get back to work, and I have a role to play in a picture for which I contracted before I left."

Dane and Arthur Reunite

Karl Dane and George K. Arthur are again united professionally. They are preparing a sketch in which they will be cofeatured in vaudeville over the R.-K.-O. theater circuit.

Bittinger Will Seek Probation in Funds Case

George E. Bittinger, financier convicted of grand theft, today is scheduled to appear before Superior Judge Hahn on his application for probation. He was found guilty October 14, last, of appropriating for his own use, $9500 of companies' funds while serving as general manager of the Mortgage Discount Company and of the Calivada Securities Company.

While his trial was in progress he disappeared from court, and was found in a room at the California Club, where he had shot himself behind the right ear after taking poison. He recovered quickly, and was continued on trial, being found guilty.

Dream Leads to Divorce for Oil Man

W. Clark Allen, prosaic oil man, forgot materialistic considerations long enough to interpret a dream he had about his wife's sweetie, he testified in Superior Judge Fleming's court, and his divorce from Ruby Mildred Lucille Allen was on file yesterday.

"I told her I had a dream about her sweetheart and started crying," said the plaintiff. "She admitted she had a sweetheart and said it was a shame the way she treated me when I was so good to her."

It was further testified that Mrs. Allen said she wasn't ready to settle down and that she wanted to have a good time. The couple separated after three months of married life.

Home-Pattern Service Given to Housewife

Los Angeles housewives are now able to obtain house patterns of outstanding architectural merit as easily as dress patterns and from a similar source. Arrangements have been consummated between the Los Angeles Mutual Building and Loan Association and the Curtis Publishing Company by which the house patterns of the Ladies' Home Journal will be made available to prospective home builders in Southern California.

The Ladies' Home Journal architectural plans or house patterns comprise various types of homes in the small home and medium-priced divisions, including English cottages, Colonial houses, Spanish types and French cottages.

Victory Park Up Again Today

The continued hearing on the confirmation of assessments for the acquisition of Victory Park No. 2 comes before the City Council again today, but action is unlikely, as the matter is still held up by litigation started by opponents in the Federal Court.

Protests will be considered against the improvement of Polk avenue between Remsen and Norris streets and against the improvement of Satsuma avenue between Hatteras street and Collins street.

The continued hearing of the confirmation of assessments for the opening of Edison Place between Hellman avenue and Oak Hill avenue also will be conducted.

De Forest Radio Injunction Row Up Again Today

United States District Judge Cosgrave yesterday ordered that a temporary restraining order against the Lee De Forest Manufacturing Company, Ltd., of Los Angeles, to prevent the use of the name De Forest in connection with the sale of radio apparatus, be continued in effect until this afternoon, at which time the court will further consider the case. The plaintiff in the action is the De Forest Radio Company of New Jersey.

Other defendants in the action are Lee De Forest, head of the local company; Alvan Griffith, vice-president; C. W. Smith, general manager, and S. S. Patterson, secretary.

The court ordered that attorneys representing both contestants agree upon a form of injunction, or restraining order, and present it to the court today.

Shooting Victim Makes Doctor Dress Wounds

Enraged when his request was met by refusal, a man believed to be a bandit yesterday forced a Hollywood physician at the point of a gun to dress two wounds inflicted by bullets.

Accompanied by a companion the bandit entered the office of Dr. Glenn G. English in the Taft Building and asked for treatment of a gunshot wound in the foot and another in the back. The physician informed him he could not comply without permission from police.

"You don't call any police for me," the wounded man said, producing a revolver. "Now you go ahead and fix me up!" Dr. English obeyed and then notified police. He described his visitors as well dressed and 23 years of age.

Net of Northern Utility Declines

Oregon Washington Water Service Company, a subsidiary of Federal Water Service Corporation, reports gross revenues of $878,981.76 for the year ended September 30, 1930, as compared with $605,623.98 for the preceding twelve months.

Operating expenses, maintenance and taxes, other than Federal income tax, totaled $298,550.42 as against $336,826.99. Gross income amounted to $280,431.34, which compares with $268,796.96 for the year ended September 30, 1929.

Federal Jury to Get Killing Case

Investigation by the Federal grand jury will be made today regarding the slaying of Oscar Olson, Federal Indian agent on the Morongo Indian Reservation about ten days ago. Clarence Hyde, an Indian youth, is said to have admitted shooting the Indian agent.

Murder cases do not come into Federal court, except when a killing takes place in Indian territory, it was pointed out.

S.C. ALUMNI BOOKLET TO SPREAD CULTURE

Cultural contact between University of Southern California alumni and their alma mater will be made possible, beginning today, through an educational supplement to the Alumni Review, official organ of the alumni association. The supplement will contain articles representing contemporary thought, with suggestive reading lists. Twelve committees, under Dr. Frank C. Touton have been assigned to co-operate with the alumni group in charge. This group includes Merritt A. Adamson, president of the alumni association; Frank Hadlock, executive secretary, and Mrs. Josephine C. Wice, editor of the Review.

TALK ON COMPETITION

Dr. Florence M. Morse of the school of merchandising of the University of Southern California is to address members of the Alhambra Business Men's Association tomorrow on "Constructive Competition."

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

CLOSING notices for "Women Who Take," the new Jane Murfin play at the Mason Theater, were posted yesterday afternoon. The show takes its final bow Saturday evening.

This gives it just two weeks on the local boards. Although the play gained fairly favorable notice for its general production qualities, it has done little business. Houses have been light.

There was no announcement forthcoming last night on future plans of Metropolitan Productions, Inc., the producing organization acting for Radio Pictures studio.

Rehearsals already under way for "Go Get Your Man," the Martha Stanley play, previously announced to follow "Women Who Take," have been stopped.

Denison Clift on List

A new piece by Dennison Clift, who used to direct films in Hollywood and who has written quite a few plays as well, is on the list for early production in Los Angeles sometime within the next month or two, I hear.

Clift has written about a group of modern sophisticates against a colorful and historical setting, the old Dolly Madison home in Washington. It's called "Sin Becomes Fashionable."

While it's being done here, it will see light in London also with Mary Newcomb in the principal role.

Helen Menken Not Coming

Helen Menken is not coming west to do "The Infinite Shoeblack" for the Civic Repertory. Director Paul Irving had a telegram from her yesterday saying that she couldn't leave New York. There's illness in her family.

Mrs. Campbell to San Francisco

They will start "Ghosts" on its way in San Francisco and bring it to town to the Vine Street later, it was told yesterday.

This is the play in which Los Angeles is going to have a chance to see Mrs. Patrick Campbell, most brilliant of English actresses, reveal her art.

Meantime, "Green Bottle," the new play by John T. Murray with John T. Murray is being prepared for early production at the Vine Street, and Sunday night Mrs. Campbell is going to talk once again on "Beautiful Speech and the Art of Acting."

Just in Passing

All Duffy stars make curtain speeches after the second act . . . Ethel Barrymore, aristocrat of the theater, is now appearing in the coal-black make-up of a Gullah Negress. She wears a kinky wig, an indifferent gingham dress and smokes a pipe. The play is "Scarlet Sister Mary" and is now on the road . . . Dorothy Burgess, coming to the Belasco next week in "Bird of Flame," is a niece of Fay Bainter . . . There is a speech in "The Apple Cart" at the Music Box which is nearly fifteen minutes long.

Shakespeare in Pasadena

Shakespeare holds the boards in Pasadena tomorrow night, "Othello," drama of a jealous Moor, is due for revival at the hands of Gilmor Brown players. Brown himself is playing the Moor, Gwendolyn Seller is Emilia, Morris Ankrum is Iago and Alice Turner, Desdemona. Mrs. Seller, it may interest some to know, played as a slip of a girl in Forbes Robertson productions. Later she was with Granville Barker, George Arliss, St. George Alexander and Louis Calvert. Janis Muncis, the Russian, is doing the sets.

Theater Mart Play

A farce called "Ex-Gangster" is set for production at the Theater Mart Friday and Saturday evenings with Victor Lewis playing the title role. Laura Jensen is the author.

Along the Eastern Front

In addition to Lois Moran and Geoffrey Kerr, the cast for Arthur Hopkins's production of Robert E. Sherwood's play "This Is New York" will include Glenda Farrell, now in "On The Spot;" Ruth Hammond, Robert Barrett, Murray Alper and Lota Bonner.

Helen Hayes, recently co-star with Arthur Sinclair in "Mr. Gilhooley," will make her next appearance under the management of Gilbert Miller as the star of "Petticoat Influence."

"The Noble Experiment" closed on Saturday at the Waldorf Theater after eight Broadway performances.

Smallman to Lead Choir at Philharmonic

Tonight, John Smallman, founder and conductor of the Smallman a Cappella Choir, will lead the ensemble in an interesting program. The concert will be held at the Philharmonic Auditorium.

An orchestra of eleven men from the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra will accompany the choir in Grainger's "Marching Song of Democracy." Teala Bellini and Homer Simmons will play the piano accompaniment to "Hunter in His Career."

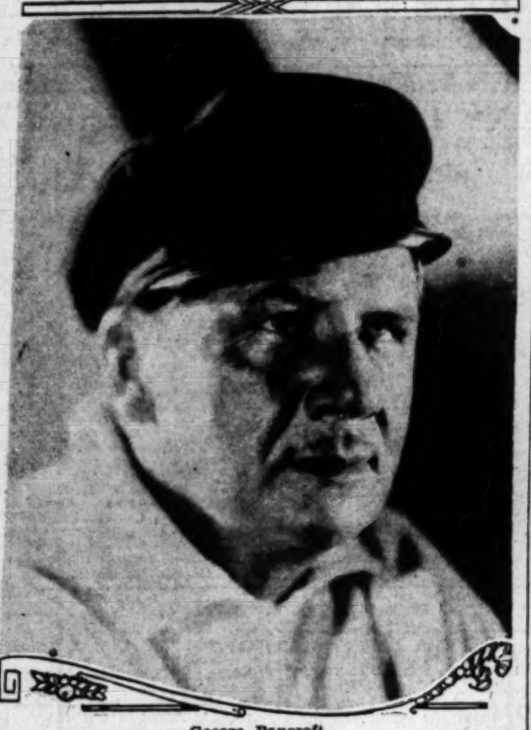
The "Gloria in Excelsis," from the Cesar Franck Mass in A, will have piano, 'cello and organ accompaniment. Ray Hastings will be at the organ.

Askam Retains Singing Laurels

Perry Askam, singing star of "The New Moon," is continuing to win favor in the second and final week at the Biltmore Theater.

The operetta is more or less the logical successor of "The Desert Song," which proved a favorite locally. In its ingratiating lyrical numbers and in its story it is reminiscent somewhat of its predecessor, more, perhaps, with its male choruses. The original cast has been retained for the road tour, which opens in Portland Monday.

Typhoon Bill Sails Cinematic Seas



George Bancroft

The two-fisted star of virile film yarns, portrays another colorful character in "Derelict" on the Paramount Theater screen, starting tomorrow.

PASADENANS ENACT PLAY WITH SPIRIT

"Poor Little Rich Girl" Given Adequate Interpretation by Players

BY KATHERINE T. VON BLON

Pasadena Community Playhouse again lifts from the archives of the past a play, "The Poor Little Rich Girl," from the pen of Eleanor Gates, and manages to present it with a degree of esprit.

The theme itself reeks depressingly of mothballs and is for the modern taste a bit anemic though there are certain scenes which enliven through the sheer imaginative fancy of the author. The second act is perhaps the piece de resistance, with its refreshing modulation into the land of make believe. The high spot dramatically occurs here when the King's English is wantonly murdered in the course of a terrific combat, finally succumbing to the horrible infliction of the word "ain't" as flung from the teeth of the footman.

There are certain nice little ironies of life which are humorously recorded, and society with a capital "S" comes in for that prehistoric fling which is so relished by the hot polloi. However, "The Poor Little Rich Girl" is decidedly old theatrical fare, with more than a dash of hokum and while the sophisticate mind does not shy at this, it at least demands that it be diverting and smart. Devoid of this the play moves slowly and the dialogue is in the main banal.

However, the Pasadenans attack the vehicle with sangfroid and make the most of their opportunities. Scenically Corliss McGee mixes her colors fearlessly and with dashing effectiveness. Gilmor Brown and Addison Richards seem to have succeeded in capturing this same spirit in direction. Paula Langlen portrays very well the "Poor Little Rich Girl." She is daintily pretty, though her voice has a nasal quality. Addison Richards is sympathetic in his portrayal of the father and Margaret Clarke as the mother gives her usual delicate touch. Georgia Galliga, a newcomer, and Dr. William Edler, are also present.

"LET'S GO NATIVE" COMING TO BARD'S

"Let's Go Native," the fast-moving farce comedy, with Jack Oakie and Jeanette MacDonald, will be the attractions at Bard's Eighth-Street Theater, beginning tomorrow.

As a New York taxi driver, Oakie gets tangled up in Miss MacDonald's musical comedy company bound for South America.

NOTABLE CAST IN "WAY FOR SAILOR"

Leila Hyams

"Way for a Sailor," John Gilbert's newest M.-G.-M. starring vehicle, which comes to Loew's State Theater tomorrow, boasts a notable supporting cast. Wallace Beery is said to give another of his characteristic portrayals which have gained him wide note, and Miss Hyams furnishes beauty and talent as the heroine.

Others in support of the star are Polly Moran and Doris Lloyd. Gilbert's new and different type of part will gain him favor with audiences, reports indicate. The present offering is "Liliom," with Charles Farrell in the name role. Will Rogers is on the stage.

Oscar Apfel Gets Role in 'Green Bottle'

Oscar Apfel, noted director of yesteryear, who has returned to the field of acting recently in motion pictures, has been signed for one of the major roles in "The Green Bottle," John T. Murray's mystery play which will have its first presentation at the Vine-street Theater Monday night.

Apfel was a well-known Broadway player before William Fox placed him in silent pictures a few years ago. Then he was made a director, and with the coming of the talkies he was again drafted to don the grease-paint at the studios. John T. Murray, the author of "The Green Bottle," and George Sherwood, the director, decided Apfel was the right type for the character role.

"My Girl Friday" closes Saturday night, and Sunday evening Mrs. Patrick Campbell will deliver her lecture on "Beautiful Speech and the Art of Acting."

New Vaudeville Bill Headed by Popular Comics

The popular comedy team of the "big time" for the past twenty years, Jack McLallen and Sarah will headline the vaudeville unit on the program opening tomorrow at the R.-K.-O. Theater.

Although still wearing his battered derby, spectacles, saxophone and roller skates, and with Sarah still causing him much perturbation, McLallen promises lots of new humor, it is said.

Another veteran in the unit is Joseph Howard, song composer, with his company of girls. Johnny Hyman, and Four Peaches and a Jay are also on the program.

Starting tomorrow on the screen is "Today," a drama of the stock-market crash. Featured roles are played by Catherine Dale Owen and Conrad Nagel. Sarah Padden has the chief character part.

Comedienne's Maid Worn Out With Laughter

Good times for Charlotte Greenwood spell hard times for Carrie, her maid.

Carrie claims that watching the comedienne every night at El Capitan Theater in "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" is about all her laughing apparatus can stand, but when the comedienne works during the day in pictures Carrie has to laugh overtime.

"I'm just about all worn out from laughing," she claims. "After a day at the studio watching Miss Greenwood working before the camera . . . and then 'Parlor, Bedroom and Bath' on top of all that!"

The reaction of audiences at El Capitan somewhat duplicates Carrie's feeling, it is reported.

Logue Returns to Universal

Charles A. Logue, former editor-in-chief of Universal productions, has returned to the studio to join Carl Laemmle, Jr., in preparing a special production to be directed by Edward Laemmle.

Logue has proved to be valuable in working with younger directors, it is said, such as William Wyler, with whom he worked on "The Storm," and "Hell's Heroes," and with Edward Laemmle on previous occasions. It is learned that Walter Huston is being sought for the leading role in "Saint Johnson," the W. R. Burnett novel on which Laemmle and Logue are working.

"El Secreto Del Doctor" Produced by Paramount at Paris Studios

From Paris, Paramount has sent "El Secreto del Doctor," Spanish film melodrama, for its first showing in this country, starting Saturday, at the International California Theater. This play by James Barrie has been made into a talking feature by Director Adelqui Millar.

Featured in the cast of Spanish players is Eugenia Zuffoli, reported to be one of the most beautiful and talented actresses ever to appear upon the stages of Madrid, Barcelona and other Spanish cities. Others in the cast include Felix de Pomes, Antonio d'Algy, Manuel Soto, Jose Bodalo, Mercedes Servet and Carmen Garcia Fernandez.

Also on this program will be a Spanish comedy, produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and the usual entertaining short subjects.

Leading Player of "Big Trail" to Be Honored

Camp Fire Girls of Los Angeles and other Southern California cities will attend Grauman's Chinese Theater on the night of the 14th inst. to honor Marguerite Churchill, youthful feminine lead in Raoul Walsh's "The Big Trail." Miss Churchill will appear in person on the occasion, acting as hostess.

In 1925 the actress was chosen by the Camp Fire Girls as "the typical American girl" and was accorded the same honor again in 1928.

Aside from her dramatic qualities, which were cultivated for the New York stage, Walsh chose Miss Churchill as a lead for her beauty and unmistakable American girl attributes, claiming that she typifies the spirit of the fearless and wholesome pioneer women who played so important a part in the foundation of the western empire.

"The Big Trail," with John Wayne, Miss Churchill, El Brendel, Tully Marshall, Tyrone Power and David Rollins, continues to provide thrills for the throngs at the Chinese Theater.

'Young Sinners' Actresses Plan Surprise Party

Members of the cast of "Young Sinners," current stage comedy at the Belasco Theater, are planning a surprise for Dorothy Burgess, noted screen and footlight player, who comes to the Belasco in "The Bird of Flame," Sunday night, according to an announcement.

Marian Marsh, the youthful leading lady of "Young Sinners," is now occupying the star's dressing-room at the theater, which is also used as a meeting-place by the other feminine players. These actresses are all personal friends of Miss Burgess, it is said, and all week they have been plotting with the studio scenic artists in preparation for the surprise welcome, reports from the Belasco green room indicate.

Sunday night will mark the beginning of the third engagement of Miss Burgess at the local Belasco playhouse. The actress will portray an exotic South Sea dancing girl.

Royal Russian Chorus to Sing Monday Night

The Royal Russian chorus, which comes to the Philharmonic Auditorium Monday night, has been honored by royalty of several nations.

Princess Margaret Agrensva-Slaviansky, daughter of the founder of the Russian chorus and one of the few internationally known women conductors, returns to the West with her group intact as to membership.

Mlle. Mara Slaviansky, soprano soloist and accompanist with the chorus, is the daughter of the princess and is following in the footsteps of her royal grandfather, Prince Dmitry Alexandrovitch Agrensva-Slaviansky, who dedicated his life to the building of this group.

INTEREST HIGH IN TALK BY ACTRESS

Three more or less widely divergent classes, motion-picture celebrities, ministers and lawyers, are leading in the reservations for Mrs. Patrick Campbell's lecture, "Beautiful Speech and the Art of Acting," to be given Sunday night at the Vine Street Theater, according to the theater management.

Mrs. Campbell's lecture should not be considered in the light of a dry discourse on histrionics, it is said, for it is illustrated by excerpts from "Magda," "Ghosts," "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," "Pygmalion," "Trojan Women" and other plays from her extensive repertoire.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

JOB-PROMOTING BODY IN ACTION

Orange County Committee to Make Wide Appeal

Facts and Advice First to Be Sought After

Supervisors Will Then Be Given Definite Plan

SANTA ANA, Nov. 4.—Orange county's Give a Man a Job Committee has started to function. The directors of the movement, meeting Monday for the first time, began to draw together the lines of effort which will be pursued in producing pay roll for the unemployed, who in turn will turn this money earned into purchases of necessities creating bigger and more prosperous business.

During the next three days city councils, boards of education, postmasters, large corporations, irrigation and building interests, will be interviewed to obtain facts and expert advice. The State highway commissioner and the Farm Bureau heads will be asked to contribute their effort, as well.

The county committee, consisting of William J. Tway of this city, chairman, representing the central section; H. M. May of Fullerton, representing Northern Orange county, and George C. Macleod of Newport, caring for the coast area and southern county communities, is preparing to go before the County Supervisors with a tangible plan of publicity and education on the 12th inst. To bring this plan to completion, the committee will meet Friday at Newport Beach for conference, and in all probability will again confer on Monday, next.

PSYCHOLOGY STUDIED

Studying the psychology of the situation, the committee feels that the depressed situation, so far as citizens of means are concerned, is largely a lack of confidence. To the man without a job psychology means nothing. He wants labor and the resultant wage. Better business will receive scant consideration from the committee, according to Tway, because if the men of the county can be employed, business of the county can take care of itself, and the improvement in sales and turnover will be immediate.

The committee's biggest problem is to inspire confidence, according to views expressed today. It is felt that little progress will be made except by showing the man with money that he can profit by spending it. The crux of the campaign will be to build confidence by advancing business arguments. The inspired confidence will increase employment and lead to a more even distribution of the county's prosperity, which condition is actual, according to all figures available on crops, building, and other activities, in the committee's opinion.

SOME AGENCIES NAMED

Free employment bureaus, building-loan advances for home improvements, the service of realty boards in advising as to financing are some of the agencies that will become a part of the general plan for betterment. Providing common yard labor, small repair work, and work for domestics, to employ hundreds for a few hours per week, or days per month will be one county-wide project attempted.

Financing of the movement is considered of utmost importance and the committee is giving much thought to this.

"While the committee is working, our one hope is that the community at large will be receptive to plans suggested," Tway said. "Each individual must feel that he alone can help by giving a job. The movement will not succeed if the "other fellow" is left to spend the dollar that is now being so closely guarded.

CONGRESSMAN EVANS TO ADDRESS KIWANIS

MONROVIA, Nov. 4.—Congressman W. E. Evans will be the principal guest and speaker at a special session of the Kiwanis Club Thursday, to be held at the Aztec Hotel, it was announced today by John Mease, secretary. Kiwanians will hear Congressman Evans following dinner at 6:30 p.m. in the banquet room of the hotel. A. R. Clifton, president, will preside.

ROTARY CLUB NAMES NEW VICE-PRESIDENT

HUNTINGTON PARK, Nov. 4.—Eugene McClung yesterday was chosen as vice-president of the Huntington Park Rotary Club for the months of November, December and January, taking the place of Charles E. Howar, who has served his three months in this office. The local club elects a new vice-president every three months.

OIL MAN'S RITES TO BE TODAY

Services for Victim of Crash, Bruce White, to Be Under Masonic Auspices

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 4.—Funeral services for Bruce White, 30-year-old employee of the Standard Oil Company, who was killed in an automobile accident here Sunday as he was returning home from work, will be held tomorrow at 1 p.m. in the Dixon funeral home. The Huntington Beach Masonic Lodge will have charge. Burial will be in Hollywood Cemetery.

The deceased leaves his widow and three small sons, Richard, 4; Robert, 7, and Lawrence, 9, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. White of Los Angeles. His father is principal of a junior high school in Los Angeles. There is also a sister, Miss Catherine White, teacher in the San Pedro schools.

The couple had lived here for nine years and would have celebrated their tenth wedding anniversary had White lived a few days longer.

The Coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death at the inquest held this morning conducted by Coroner Brown.

W. H. Plausse was quite severely injured in the same crash.

Man Adjudged Insane After Search of Home

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 4.—Adjudged insane by two psychiatrists, from the State Hospital for the Insane at Patton, William Standish of Elsinore, who asserted he robbed homes to obtain food and household furnishings for his wife and two children, today was committed by Superior Judge Morton to the State Hospital for the Criminally Insane at Ukiah. Samuel B Pond and Theodore K. Miller, Patton officials, filed with the court a statement declaring they believe Standish insane and "not mentally responsible" for his acts. They were appointed by the court to observe the defendant.

Standish and his wife were arrested after an Elsinore officer became suspicious of them and searched their home. Pictures pieces of furniture, stoves and the like, identified by owners of weekend cottages along the lake as having been stolen from their homes, were found. Mrs. Standish was released when Standish took all the blame. He told the county probation officials that he has been unable to obtain work and, driven to desperation by the spectacle of his wife and children without food, he broke into one of the houses and stole some articles. One stove he sold for $3 and bought food. The rest he took to his barren home to make his family more comfortable, he said.

Discussion of Name for High School Planned

MONROVIA, Nov. 4.—For the purpose of deciding upon a new name for the Monrovia-Arcadia-Duarte High School, directors of the Monrovia Chamber of Commerce will discuss the advisability of a joint meeting with the Arcadia chamber at the scheduled board session Friday.

Following the action of students last year, in an effort to change the name of the school, to preferably something shorter, for use in school yells and songs, the high school board referred the matter to civic organizations of the trio of cities, Monrovia, Arcadia and Duarte, for them to decide on possible new names for the local institution. The suggested names will then be acted upon by the board. So far no action has been taken by the various organizations.

MRS. LAUGHLIN RITES TO BE AT MONROVIA

MONROVIA, Nov. 4.—Last rites for Mrs. Joe Hamilton Laughlin of Alhambra, sister of Mrs. H. R. Miller, prominent society matron of this city, who died Sunday following a short illness, will be conducted from the chapel of Renaker's Undertaking Parlors here tomorrow. Besides Mrs. Miller, the deceased leaves her husband, Jack M. Laughlin, of Alhambra. Mrs. Bell Morris, Christian Science reader, will officiate at the services. No announcements have been made concerning interment.

ENSENADA PLANS TO WELCOME LINER

Fiesta Arranged For Initial Trip of Admiral Rogers

Pacific Steamship Company Vessel Enters Tri-weekly Service

ENSENADA, Nov. 4.—A festive celebration has been arranged here for the arrival on her first trip of the Admiral Rogers, just placed in the Los Angeles-Ensenada run by the Pacific Steamship Company. She was formerly the flagship of the Alaska-Yukon fleet of the Admiral line.

The Admiral Rogers will arrive here Friday morning. Thereafter she will leave Wilmington every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday and sail from Ensenada every Wednesday, Friday and Sunday.

The triweekly service was inaugurated following the opening of the new Playa Ensenada Hotel and Casino. For the first trip of the Admiral Rogers, R. B. Schutten, assistant general passenger agent of the coastwise line, has arranged the lowest round-trip rates ever offered.

The president's reception, which has been held in former years following the game, will be omitted this year, but the dormitories and residence halls of the campus will hold general "open house" and the professors will welcome guests to their homes.

The annual all-university dinner will be held in the university gymnasium at 6:30 and a good program and entertainment is promised. The program will be brief enough to allow for social contact and reunion of alumni before the fraternity and sorority celebrations which are always held that evening.

It is planned to make the homecoming a gala affair, and the dormitories will decorate as they did last year, competing for prizes, and local merchants will again use the maroon and gray in decoration in honor of the returning graduates.

Invitations and tickets are in charge of the university publicity office, and the program committee is composed of Dr. L. E. Nelson, chairman, Prof. A. D. Jacobsen, Hilton Bell; the dinner committee is composed of Paul Bruington, chairman, Mrs. Ola Finley, Prof. E. R. Davies, Martha Logan and Angus Hull.

HOMECOMING DAY PLANNED

Seventh Annual Event For University of Redlands Alumni Will Be Held Saturday

REDLANDS, Nov. 3.—Saturday, the 15th inst., will be the seventh annual homecoming day at the University of Redlands, and invitations are being extended to all alumni and friends of the institution to visit the campus on that day and to see the football game between the Bulldogs and California Christian College, which will be played on the local field in the afternoon. The varsity game will probably be preceded by a frosh game with Whittier.

RACKETEER GANG FAILS TO RETURN

Arnold Bosch of Winery at Cucamonga Untroubled by Further Attacks

CUCAMONGA, Nov. 4.—Although a heavy guard is still maintained about the Western Grape Products Company's bonded winery here, since gunmen threatened to take Arnold Bosch, manager of the plant and official wine-maker, "for a ride," if he did not turn the keys to the winery over to them, no further trouble has been experienced from the racketeers, Bosch said today.

Five men, presumably Italians, drove to the winery late Thursday, and demanded that Bosch give them the keys to the winery which houses 400,000 gallons of bonded wine.

When Bosch refused to comply the man drew revolvers and attacked Bosch, who ran to his automobile, crying for help.

The men drove swiftly away after hurling another threat at Bosch that they would "get him."

Bosch again said today that he intends to stay on the job so long as he is given ample protection against the racketeers.

Saturday Deputy Sheriff Jack Brown said the names of some of the gunmen are known, but Bosch denies knowing any of them, or ever having seen them.

Three months prior to the attack on Bosch he had received threatening letters.

The men intended to "muscle in" on the legitimate manufacture of wine under government bond at the warehouse, in the opinion of Bosch. Racketeering over the winery started one year ago with the mysterious disappearance of Frank Baumgartieker, wealthy local vineyardist, and director of the winery, and the more recent disappearance of Joseph Neuman of San Bernardino, former resident of this community, and also a stockholder in the company.

Neither man has been heard from since disappearing, and it is the opinion of police they were "taken for a ride" when they refused to participate in the highjacking racket hinged on the bonded winery.

WALTONIANS OBJECT TO STRIPPING DESERT

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 4.—Answering assertions made by San Gorgonia Izaak Walton chapters that desert cacti and other protected flora are being hauled away by commercial firms "by the truckloads," County Forester Ford today said that each instance of this kind investigated by his office has shown large quantities have been removed from private property and not off public lands. "We have no jurisdiction over private lands," he said. "Persons seeking permits from my office to remove species of the cacti and other desert plants are required to show the specimens are entirely for private use. In these cases, the applicants are limited to one or a very few plants, and are instructed to obtain them back from the highway and in places where the plants are abundant."

The San Gorgonio Waltonian organization appealed to the Supervisors for more stringent rules for obtaining permits, declaring that the commercial firms are making serious inroads upon the county's supply of desert growth.

PACKING-PLANT FIRE DISCOVERED IN TIME

UPLAND, Nov. 4.—Fire that was started from an unknown source in the Stewart Packing Plant late at night was discovered in time to prevent a great loss by the company and directors. The huge wooden structure would have been consumed entirely had not the blaze been discovered by a passer-by who sounded the alarm. The night watchman at the plant held the fire in check with a plant hose while the fire department was responding to the call. According to A. C. Beattie, the damage to the plant, of which he is manager, was slight.

DEATH TAKES FATHER OF CAPT. C. A. HODSON

BURBANK, Nov. 4. — Funeral services will be conducted Friday at 2 p.m. from the Fillbach mortuary chapel with interment in Grand View Cemetery, for James Hodson, 81 years of age, of 453 North Angelo avenue, father of Capt. C. A. Hodson, commander of the San Fernando Valley police division. Mr. Hodson died here at his home last night. Eight children, including Capt. Hodson, survive. The aged mother of Capt. Hodson, also survives, but at the present time is sick and in a precarious condition and may not recover from the shock of her husband's death.

Reseda Wins in Fight Against Tree Choppers

RESEDA, Nov. 4. — Final ordinance for the paving of the Baird avenue-Valerio street improvement district is soon to be in the hands of the Los Angeles City Council, according to John P. Harding, district engineer.

After lengthy protests on the part of residents, large shade trees in the district will not be cut down when the widening and paving of the streets begin. Certain citizens declared they did not want the paving if it meant the razing of the trees in the residential section. The paving will include Baird avenue, from Saticoy street to Sherman Way; Wyandotte street, from Reseda Boulevard to Baird avenue; Valerio street from Reseda Boulevard to Wilbur avenue, and Amigo avenue from Saticoy street to Valerio street.

LANDSCAPE WORK ON RESEDA PARK STARTS

RESEDA, Nov. 4. — Work has started on the first landscaping improvement of the Reseda-Tarzana Park. According to Frank Shearer, superintendent of the city park department, about $18,000 will be spent in the present work. The improvement, it is stated, will occupy several months. The swimming pool, already has been erected. A large bath-house in connection with the pool later, is to be constructed.

SHE JOINS LOVER IN DEATH

Hazel Bouchet, Santa Ana Girl, Swallows Poison on Bier of Richard Kuykendall, Crash Victim

SANTA ANA, Nov. 4.—Defying death to part them and baring an apparent pact to follow one another into eternity, Hazel Bouchet, 17-year-old Santa Ana girl, today slew herself beside the body of her asserted lover, Richard Kuykendall, 24, who was killed in an automobile wreck Sunday morning.

As she laid flowers upon his bier this morning after privately visiting the Harrell & Brown mortuary here the girl swallowed poison, flung herself tragically upon the slab beside Kuykendall's body and moaned, "Here is where I want to die." Her wish was gratified a few minutes later in the Santa Ana Valley Hospital, where she was rushed by ambulance in an effort to save her life.

Police expressed the view based upon a note left by the girl, that a death pact existed, whereby if one should die the other would follow. According to the authorities, the note read as follows:

"To Dearest Honey Boy—My twenty-four hours are half gone—but I won't break my promise to you, so wait, if you must get there before I do. I'll be with you tonight—together again tonight—be happy for I am happy. I'll be seeing you now, pretty soon.

"P.S.—Always the same—don't be impatient, for I can't get one minute alone."

CARRIES BOUQUET

The girl, with a brother of Kuykendall and his mother, Mrs. Phillip Kuykendall of Riverside, went to the Harrell & Brown mortuary to view the body yesterday. This morning at 8:15 o'clock the girl returned, unaccompanied, and asked if she might see the body alone. Her request was granted. She carried a bouquet and was apparently composed, it was said.

R. H. Brown, one of the proprietors of the establishment, ushered her into the presence of her lover and pulled the curtains behind her. In a moment he heard a scream and, rushing in, found her writhing on the floor in convulsions, having emptied a small vial of chloroform, Brown is said to have told police.

She called to Brown to "call Dr Wade" and he hastened to the telephone to obey. When he returned he found that she had swallowed strychnine from another vial, and had crawled to the slab beside the body of Kuykendall.

"WHERE I WANT TO DIE"

"Here is where I want to die," she said.

Brown immediately placed her in the firm's ambulance and dashed with her to the Santa Ana Valley Hospital. Physicians worked desperately over her but she died shortly after reaching the hospital.

The note to Kuykendall was found upon her, as was a letter from her mother. Other correspondence found in her apartment, police said, indicated that the tragedy climaxed a secret love affair.

Arrangements have not yet been completed for the inquest.

BODY OF BOY FOUND HANGED

Alden Ladd Discovered Dead Stretched From Limb

Parents at Loss for Suicide Motive; Record Good

But San Diego Police Think He Took His Own Life

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 4.—The body of Alden Ladd, 13-year-old schoolboy, was found early today, hanging from a tree in a canyon near Prospect and Ridgeway streets in Lincoln Acres. The boy arose early this morning in his home at Lincoln Acres, his parents said, and announced that he was "going out to play some Halloween tricks."

Clarence Kesler of 2015 Prospect street, found the body, which was about four feet from the ground.

National City police who investigated with Deputy Coroner Leech said that an almost perfect hangman's knot had been fashioned on the part of the rope which was around the boy's neck.

Otto Ladd, father of the boy, and Nellie Ladd, the mother, were at a loss to give any motive for suicide. They said that young Alden had gone to bed early last night and appeared playful and in good spirits. He was last seen as he left the house shortly after dawn this morning.

Officers investigating the case said that all indications pointed to the conclusion that the youth took his own life. The victim attended the National City Junior High School and was normal and intelligent, according to Henry Wilson, principal of the school. The youth's scholarship standing was slightly above the average, Wilson said, and his department was excellent.

Deputy Coroner Leech is continuing an investigation.

Ancient Newhall Oil Plant to Be Dedicated Today

NEWHALL, Nov. 4.—Three or four hundred persons are expected here tomorrow to take part in the dedication of the old Newhall Oil Refinery in Pico Canyon which has been converted into a landmark park by the Standard Oil Company.

A bronze tablet to D. G. Scofield and his early associates of the California Star Oil Company will be unveiled by Mrs. Rosamond B. Watson, a grand-daughter of Scofield, who later became president of the Standard Oil Company of California when that concern took over the California Star Oil Company properties.

L. B. Little, superintendent of the production department of Standard Oil, will be master of ceremonies. Speakers will be Supervisor Sidney T. Graves, H. C. Hanna, refinery executive, and Walton Young, for forty years active in the Newhall oil field.

The old refinery plant with its tumbled-down machinery and the ground adjacent will be given as a park by Standard Oil in commemoration of the fact that here was the beginning of the oil industry in California. Operations started just fifty years ago. At the time, the refinery's output was about 300 barrels daily of kerosene, latter-day gasoline being a commodity that no one knew anything about, and if they had there was no use to which it could have been converted. Fifty years ago the Newhall refinery was famed for the quality of its kerosene, old-timers here say.

"When it was put into a lamp," one old inhabitant stated, "it did not explode the lamp, because the refinery here knew how to take out the explosive something which later was to be known as gasoline."

This "explosive something," this man stated, was always allowed to run off in waste pipes as useless.

Yacht Club in Ban on 'Set-up'

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 4.—Hale and hearty mariners, big and strong men, will not be able to quench their thirst on ginger ale or cool their parched, hot lips with ice in the Santa Barbara Yacht Club, henceforth, according to an unostentatious, but auspicious black on white announcement tacked to the door of the galley.

Ginger ale and ice, known as "set-ups," in the language of the prohibition age, are definitely and permanently, at least so far as the present administration under Commodore W. P. Butcher is concerned, barred from the confines of the yacht club.

No more will the merry tinkle of cracked ice in tall thin glasses or the comforting "phutt" of the opening of ginger ale bottles, be music to the ears of the amateur sailors of Santa Barbara's yacht club.

Old salts whose recollection these days continually wander back to a quarter of a century ago, shake their heads and remember when "whisky and soda" or "whisky straight" were of good fellowship and not forbidden phrases. And now ginger ale must go. "Things have come to a pretty pass," they say as they shake their old gray heads. "But it could be worse."

NEW ASSISTANT PRIEST ARRIVES

VAN NUYS, Nov. 4.—Reverend Father J. Redahan, formerly of St. Michael's Catholic Church, Los Angeles, arrived here today to take up his duties as assistant to Reverend Father Edmond Keohan of St. Elizabeth Catholic parish. Father O'Connor, who has been here for the last year has been transferred to St. George's Church at Ontario.

JUNIORS SPROUTING SENIOR WHISKERS

Prolific Producers

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 4.—It may not be a matter of education, but San Bernardino has two junior college youths, Al Colley and Edward Booth, who can grow a fair crop of whiskers.

For no reason at all, the associated student body of the college announced it would conduct a whiskerino contest and called upon the youths of budding maturity to show to the world that they could grow sideburns, chin whiskers or a full beard, just as the whim struck them.

And so it came to pass. Colley and Booth, each with a crop of whiskers that are the envy of the college students whose use of a razor is a habit instead of a necessity, were declared the winners in the division set aside for the prolific producers of beards.

Factory May Be Built at Colton for Box-making

COLTON, Nov. 4.—Hale Paxton, formerly of Redlands, inventor and manufacturer of fruit-packing machinery, stated yesterday that he is considering a site here for the factory that he will establish in Southern California. He is about to choose Colton because of its proximity to railroads, foundries and machine works, he said.

Paxton now has a large factory at Sanger where he employs about forty men in the making of twenty-six different types of box-making and lidding machines. The Sanger factory also produces portable saws and gravity conveyors.

There are four brothers in the business. Hale Paxton and Dent Paxton have returned from Sanger and will establish the factory in the south. Their business in the orange industry is growing so rapidly that a factory is needed nearer to the center.

Hale Paxton is president of the company, W. D. Paxton is the sales manager, Gerald Paxton is the superintendent and Dwight Paxton is head of the experimental department.

The Sanger factory can turn out three machines each day. The Paxton combination hydraulic press, lidder and strapping machine, is the largest. This is for orange-packing houses. Machines are made for lidding boxes of apples, pears, luxs of grapes, egg boxes, dried-fruit boxes and such things.

OLD COUPLE CELEBRATE

VAN NUYS, Nov. 4.—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Pursell today are celebrating their fiftieth wedding anniversary at the home of their daughter, Mrs. W. Charles Swett. Harley P. Martin, well known Van Nuys contractor and builder, is a grandson. The couple were married at Fayetteville, Ark. They have resided many years in the West.

LIGHT MADE OF THEIR POVERTY

Christmas Committee Lights Candles at Meeting

These Were Left Over From Last Year's Tree

Inglewood Chamber Wires Electric Illumination

INGLEWOOD, Nov. 4.—Timely events cast their shadows before was demonstrated in this city here last evening when the Christmas service committee, which provides holiday cheer for the needy, held its first meeting in an office illuminated by the light of candles, leftovers from the celebration of last year which rested since that time in the vaults of the Chamber of Commerce.

And this was the way of it. The Christmas service committee has no money to spend on trifles and with them is a word that means everything which in the commercial world is rated as "worth." With a Christmas service committee there just is no such word as "can't" in the vocabulary. Directors also released comparative figures by quarters for the past two years and hereafter will issue statements quarterly.

Consolidated net profits for the nine months is a new policy of the board, only annual statements having been issued heretofore. Directors also released comparative figures by quarters for the past two years and hereafter will issue statements quarterly.

Consolidated net profits for the nine month closed September 30 amounted to $30,435,563.23 after all charges including taxes and intangibles equal to $2.37 a share on 12,846,980 capital shares outstanding. This compares with $34,375,-[illegible], or $2.67 a share, reported for the same period last year. September quarter net profits totaled $10,717,038.67, or 83 cents a share, against $10,288,900, or 80 cents a share, in the preceding quarter, and $14,267,149.09, or $1.11 a share, based on the same capitalization, for the third quarter of 1929.

The statement points out that earnings for the second and third quarters this year, as well as in the first quarter of 1929, were adversely affected by retail gasoline price disturbances.

Profits by quarters for 1929 and to date this year follow:

Year 1929—First quarter, $8,259,076.81; second quarter, $11,949,254.27; third quarter, $14,267,149.09; fourth quarter, $12,959,083.

Year 1930—First quarter, $9,630,324.45; second quarter, $10,388,300.11; third quarter, $10,717,038.67.

Adoption of the new policy with respect to issuance of quarterly statements was voted by the board in recognition of what directors believe to be a desire on the part of shareholders for current information regarding the company's affairs, it was stated. Comparative statements are being mailed to stockholders.

No fractional scrip will be issued but undivisible lots of stock on which the 2 per cent stock dividend is payable. A cash distribution will be made in lieu of the fractional differences.

Four Burglaries in One Night Worry Ontario

ONTARIO, Nov. 4.—Burglars have chosen Ontario as their hunting ground are causing police to exert their best efforts to round up comprehensive clews upon which to work, and are causing considerable worry among the women of the community.

Four homes have been entered during one night, according to records of robberies filed with police and loot totaling $300 was taken.

The J. V. Parker home, 1[illegible] H street, was entered by the theft of a screen from a rear bedroom window. Two diamond rings were stolen.

In the second robbery the same night the burglar entered the house at 136 El Morado, owned by B. F. Wells, and $[illegible] was taken.

James R. Austin, [illegible] street, reported his home was entered the same night and $[illegible] was taken.

At 4 o'clock in the morning H. L. Smith home at 317 E Court was entered, but nothing reported taken.

SUSPECT'S CARS FOUND

Two Vehicles Said to Belong to Pete Baladez, Sr., in Connection With Boy's Murder, Discovered

VENTURA, Nov. 4.—Two cars, said to belong to Pete Baladez, Sr., 50-year-old Rancho Sespe laborer, being sought for questioning in connection with the murder Saturday night of Clementi Magdaleno, 15, Rancho ranch while the latter is asserted to have been stealing sugar cane, were located, authorities said today.

The car in which Baladez, his wife, and A. Espinosa, a friend, are asserted to have fled, was discovered abandoned early today in San Fernando. The machine, a touring car, was registered to Baladez.

A truck, also registered to Baladez, was found on Espinosa's ranch at Norwalk, deputy sheriffs said.

CRUZE HAS "GRETNA GREEN"

Flintridge Home of Film Producer Scene of Three Weddings, Two Being Unexpected

GLENDALE, Nov. 4.—The Flintridge home of James Cruze has been assuming the aspect of a modern Gretna Green, to which would-be benedicts and their fiancees repair to be married. Gaston Glass, film director, and Liobe Karlin, Russian dancer, started the drift when they staged their marriage at the Cruze home, with Judge Charles R. Dyer of Montrose officiating.

No sooner had Judge Dyer blotted the marriage record than a knock came at the door and the Cruze butler announced that another couple were seeking Judgee Dyer with matrimonial intentions. Perry Hendrin and Helen Boyle, both of Glendale, had gone to Judge Byers's office in Montrose and had found him absent. An obliging deputy constable directed them to Cruze's residence, and Judge Dyer again performed the wedding ceremony.

Came a second knock at the front door. Again the butler brought his message of two more aspirants for the nuptial vows.

Judge Dyer was getting into his stride by this time and he soon pronounced Earl Swallow of La Crescenta and Edna Bell of Topeka, Kan., duly married.

Cruze had provided a turkey wedding banquet for Glass and Miss Karlin, and after a whispered conference with his guests and those who had been bidden to the Glass-Karlin wedding he invited the two newly married couples to sit in at the feast, which they did.

Among the guests at the Glass-Karlin wedding were Lew Cody, Roger Denny and several other screen and stage notables.

California Company Issues Quarterly Statements

Nine Months' Profits Equal $2.37 Per Share

Extra Stock Dividend Voted With Regular Cash

Directors of the Standard Oil Company of California declared yesterday an extra stock dividend of 2 per cent in addition to the regular quarterly cash payment of 37½ cents and announced earnings equivalent to $2.37 a share on the capital stock for the first nine months this year.

Both dividends are payable December 15 to stockholders of record the 15th inst. A similar extra stock dividend was paid last year.

Announcement of earnings for the nine months is a new policy of the board, only annual statements having been issued heretofore. Directors also released comparative figures by quarters for the past two years and hereafter will issue statements quarterly.

Consolidated net profits for the nine month closed September 30 amounted to $30,435,563.23 after all charges including taxes and intangibles equal to $2.37 a share on 12,846,980 capital shares outstanding. This compares with $34,375,[illegible], or $2.67 a share, reported for the same period last year. September quarter net profits totaled $10,717,038.67, or 83 cents a share, against $10,288,900, or 80 cents a share, in the preceding quarter, and $14,267,149.09, or $1.11 a share, based on the same capitalization, for the third quarter of 1929.

The statement points out that earnings for the second and third quarters this year, as well as in the first quarter of 1929, were adversely affected by retail gasoline price disturbances.

Profits by quarters for 1929 and to date this year follow:

Year 1929—First quarter, $8,259,076.81; second quarter, $11,949,254.27; third quarter, $14,267,149.09; fourth quarter, $12,959,083.

Year 1930—First quarter, $9,630,324.45; second quarter, $10,388,300.11; third quarter, $10,717,038.67.

Adoption of the new policy with respect to issuance of quarterly statements was voted by the board in recognition of what directors believe to be a desire on the part of shareholders for current information regarding the company's affairs, it was stated. Comparative statements are being mailed to stockholders.

No fractional scrip will be issued but undivisible lots of stock on which the 2 per cent stock dividend is payable. A cash distribution will be made in lieu of the fractional differences.

Option Taken on Old Vulture by Verde Extension

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Nov. 4. (AP)—The United Verde Extension Mining Company announced today it had obtained an option on the famous Vulture mine, at one time the greatest gold producer in the Southwest. The property is eleven miles from Wickenburg.

Verde Extension officials, who refused to disclose the option price, said work will begin immediately on a three-compartment shaft which will be sunk to a depth of 1,000 feet in an effort to strike a faulted section of the old vein.

Recent diamond-drill holes, sunk on the property to a depth of 400 feet, revealed what United Verde Extension officers said was "mighty good ore."

The Vulture mine was discovered in 1863 by Henry Wickenburg, after whom the town on the Hassayampa River, is named. The output from surface workings where free gold was visible over a thirty-foot ledge is said to have been between $16,000,000 and $20,000,000.

For the last three years surface operations have been conducted by R. R. Finlayson, who negotiated the deal with the United Verde. Resumption of active operations at the Vulture, it is believed, will give new impetus to gold mining in Yavapai county.

California Company Issues Quarterly Statements

Extra Stock Dividend Voted With Regular Cash

Directors of the Standard Oil Company of California declared today an extra stock dividend of 1 per cent in addition to the regular quarterly cash payment of 75 cents and announced earnings equivalent to $2.37 a share on the capital stock for the first nine months this year.

Both dividends are payable December 13 to stockholders of record at 3:00 p.m. inst. A similar extra stock dividend was paid last year.

Announcement of earnings for the nine months is a new policy of the company, only annual statements having been issued heretofore. Directors also released comparative figures by quarters for the past two years and hereafter will issue statements quarterly.

Consolidated net profits for the nine month closed September 30 amounted to $30,435,563.23 after all charges including taxes and intangibles equal to $2.37 a share on 12,837,140 capital shares outstanding. This compares with $34,878,-[illegible] or $2.67 a share, reported for the same period last year.

The September quarter net profits totaled $10,717,038.67, or 83 cents a share, against $10,288,300, or 80 cents a share, in the preceding quarter, $9,430,924.48, or $1.11 a share, on the same capitalization, for the third quarter of 1929.

The statement points out that earnings for the second and third quarters this year, as well as in the third quarter of 1929, were adversely affected by retail gasoline price disturbances.

Profits by quarters for 1929 and to date this year follow:

1st qtr.—First quarter, $8,259,076.91; 2nd quarter, $11,849,254.27; third quarter, $9,180,749.99; fourth quarter, $[illegible].

1930—First quarter, $9,430,924.48; second quarter, $10,288,300.11; third quarter, $10,717,038.67.

Discussion of the new policy with respect to issuance of quarterly statements was voted by the board after suggestion of what directors believed to be a desire on the part of stockholders for current information regarding the company's affairs, it was stated. Comparative statements are being mailed to stockholders.

No fractional scrip will be issued for convertible lots of stock on which the 5 per cent stock dividend is payable. A cash distribution will be made in lieu of the fractional differences.

Option Taken on Old Vulture by Verde Extension

WICKENBURG (Ariz.) Nov. 4. (AP)—The United Verde Extension Mining Company announced today it had obtained an option on the famous Vulture mine, at one time the richest gold producer in the Southwest. The property is eleven miles from Wickenburg.

United Verde Extension officials, who declined to disclose the option price, said work will begin immediately on a three-compartment shaft which will be sunk to a depth of 2000 feet in an effort to strike a downward section of the old vein. Several diamond-drill holes, sunk from the property to a depth of 400 feet, revealed what United Verde Extension officers said was "mighty good ore."

The Vulture mine was discovered in 1863 by Henry Wickenburg, after whom the town on the Hassayampa river is named. The output from the diggings where free gold was found over a thirty-foot ledge is said to have been between $16,000,000 and $20,000,000.

During the last three years surface operations have been conducted by A. R. Flanagan, who negotiated the deal with the United Verde. Resumption of active operations at the mine, it is believed, will give added impetus to gold mining in Yavapai county.

TRADE TONE IN FOREIGN FIELDS LOW

Federal Bureau Report Notes Little Change in Principal Countries

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—European business conditions were reviewed by the Commerce Department today in a summary of cable and radio reports received from all principal countries.

"Reports from European countries generally show continued dullness with a tendency toward further depression in most countries, especially in Italy where lack of confidence has caused further slackening of business and in Hungary, where poor crops have been added to other unfavorable factors," the review said.

"In Norway export industries have been affected by the world depression, but crop returns were favorable. In Czecho-Slovakia unemployment has reached the highest figure in six years. The slump in Egyptian foreign trade continues as a result of the unfavorable cotton market.

"In the United Kingdom the depression does not seem to have become intensified and slightly better sentiment prevails in a few industries. Increase of unemployment in the Swiss machinery and textile industry has been offset by a seasonal gain in watch manufacturing.

"In Jugo-Slavia, although there was a sharp decline in exports during August, trade returns for eight months show a considerable improvement over last year."

Other parts of the world were touched upon with a declaration there was a "slight tendency toward improvement in South Africa," no appreciable change in Canada or in the Far East, while in Latin-American countries the prospect was "unencouraging, with political unsettlement and business dullness in most countries.

Few Favorable Trade Factors Noted in Survey

While unfavorable factors predominate, the business situation even at this time is not entirely without its encouraging aspects, according to a current survey of the Standard Statistics Company of New York, which continues in part:

"Commodity prices generally lately have displayed much stronger resistance to the prolonged downward movement, and in several instances have rallied quite sharply. Wheat especially has been giving a better account of itself, and should continue to display more strength than weakness in the near term. Then, too, it is significant that in numerous individual lines, with consumption now exceeding a sharply curtailed rate of production, inventories are being reduced to much more healthy levels.

"The automobile industry has this year been engaged in a thoroughgoing housecleaning and, with stocks of new cars at an unusually low ebb, improvement in demand for motor vehicles, which normally can be expected with the approach of the spring season, would be immediately translated into increased production. The fact that steel production probably will attain unusually low levels between now and the end of 1930 is sufficient reason for believing that this trade, too, would recover sharply with a definite turn in general business."

Loadings Show Gain for Week

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—Revenue freight loadings for the week ending October 25 were reported by the American Railway Association today as having totaled 959,335 cars.

This was an increase of 28,250 cars above the preceding week, but a reduction of 175,025 below the same week last year. Miscellaneous freight loadings for the week amounted to 366,230 cars, a decrease of 86,597 under the same week a year ago.

PARTIAL PAY PLAN DEVISED

San Francisco Bank and Brokerage House Offer New Method for Purchase of Common Stock

BY EARLE E. CROWE

In theory the purchase of common stocks on the partial payment basis is a desirable plan for the small investor, but in practice it has been subjected to so many abuses that the whole idea is tainted with suspicion. Too many bucket shops have ridden to quick riches on partial payments.

Partial payment sale of preferred stocks by public utility companies should not be confused with the general impression of the partial payment plan as applied to stocks. In this instance the financial integrity of the public utility or any similar company assures the investor the transaction will be completed according to contract and the securities delivered.

BROKER ONLY AGENT

To offer the small investor somewhat the same protection, a trust company and a brokerage house in San Francisco have devised a plan for the purchase of common stocks that seems to overcome most objections. Under this plan the brokerage house merely acts as the agent for the buyer, and turns the stock over to the trust company which takes the investor's note for the balance.

Upon receipt of an initial payment of 20 per cent of the market price, corresponding to a margin payment, the broker agrees to buy the stock in the open market, taking for his services the standard brokerage commission.

At this point the trust company comes into the picture. The transaction is turned over by the broker to the bank, which takes the customer's note for the balance of 80 per cent. The bank holds the stock purchased as security for the note, and in addition requires the customer to open a savings account with an initial deposit of $5 or more.

Regular monthly deposits in the savings account are then worked out so that the note may be paid off in ten or twenty months. Dividends on the stock purchased and interest in the savings account are expected to offset the interest charges on the note.

STANDARD OIL CHOSEN

As worked out by the Anglo California Trust Company and St. Goar & Co., member of the San Francisco Stock Exchange, this partial payment plan is initially applied only to the purchase of Standard Oil of California shares.

As a rule most partial payment plans for the purchase of common stocks have been introduced by unlisted brokers who attempt to carry the unpaid balance themselves. The difficulty has been the failure of the broker to actually buy the stock, depending instead on the axiom that 90 per cent of the public is wrong. These brokers expect the stock to decline so they can buy it at a profit when the customer completes his contract and asks delivery of the stock. In addition these bucket shops collect service charges, commission, and high interest rates on the unpaid balance.

Exposure of operations of this character through inability of the broker to deliver a stock that has risen in price has thrown the partial payment plan in disrepute. Most organized stock exchanges forbid members to make such contracts in which they agree to carry the unpaid balance.

Issue of City Bonds on Mart

Public offering will be made today of a $190,000 issue of city of Los Angeles 7 per cent coupon street bonds under the 1911 Act by Hames & Co., Ltd., it was announced yesterday.

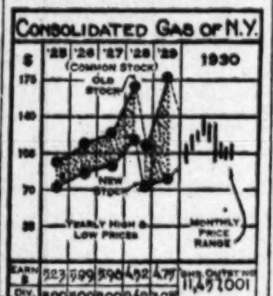
The bonds have been issued for the opening and widening of South Flower street between Washington and Thirty-eighth street. The property securing these bonds is practically 100 per cent improved, and the land only has an assessed valuation of $2,542,500, as against this issue of $190,000.

DIVIDENDS VOTED

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—The following dividend declarations were reported today:

Southern California Edison Company, declared 1¾ per cent on preferred "A," 7 per cent, payable December 15 to stock of record the 20th inst., and 1½ per cent on 6 per cent preferred "B," payable December 15 to stock of record the 20th inst.

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK



This leading utility company, with its several affiliated units, constitutes one of the largest utility systems in the world, serving almost the whole of New York City and a large part of Westchester county with gas, electric, and, to a smaller extent, steam-heating facilities. Another service, carried on by Consolidated Telegraph and Electrical Subway Company, a subsidiary, is the construction, operation and leasing of underground ducts and conduits in New York City. Merger possibilities are seen in the close operating relationship the company maintains with the Niagara Hudson Power Corporation. While the lowered rates in prospect as the result of the downward revision suggested by the Public Service Commission would decrease present revenues by about $5,000,000, increased consumption of power at the lower cost would eventually make for a sales increase.

Net income in 1929 amounted to $65,006,000. This compares very favorably with $59,583,000 reported for the previous year and $52,310,000 in 1927. Company does not report interim earnings.

CAPITALIZATION

Total funded debt (including subsidiaries)	$240,632,790
$5 cumulative preferred stock (no par) shares	2,067,726
Common stock (no par) shares	11,437,001

Current data: Electric sales of the New York Edison system, controlled by Consolidated Gas, increased 7.4 per cent in the first half of 1930 over the corresponding period of 1929.

New Type Trust Share Security on Market Soon

Public offering will be made soon of Selected Income Shares, sponsored by the originators of Selected American Shares, according to an announcement made yesterday. While definitely a fixed-type trust, a plan has been worked whereby profits from the increased value of the underlying common stocks may be realized and distributed to the shareholders.

A base value has been assigned to the investment in each stock and once every six months the trustee figures the then current value of the shares of stock in the units. If the units have appreciated over their base value, then the trustee sells the net profits and pays the entire proceeds to the investor on January 1 and July 1.

Bowes Brothers & Co., Pacific Coast investment banking house, has been appointed a distributor of Selected Income Shares and further appointments in the Southern California field will be announced shortly, it was stated.

MARKETS CLOSED

In observance of election day throughout the United States banks, stock markets and commodity markets were closed yesterday in all large centers.

ICE CREAM EARNINGS REPORTED

Chapman Company Shows $1.93 a Common Share in Ten Months

With October net profits before Federal taxes estimated at $4000, net earnings of Chapman Ice Cream Company for the first ten months of this year were approximately $96,424 before Federal taxes, equal to $1.93 a share on the 50,000 shares of stock outstanding, according to a statement issued yesterday by A. A. Comey, president.

Gross sales for October amounted to $46,976.42, bringing the total gross sales for the first ten months of the year to $539,887.64.

For the full year 1930, Mr. Comey estimated the company will show net earnings of around $100,000 before Federal taxes, or about $2 a share on the outstanding stock. Such earnings would exceed the regular dividend requirement of $1.25 a share annually by 75 cents.

With all bills paid to date, the company has bank deposits exceeding $50,000, after allowing for expenditures during the past eight months of approximately $100,000 for improvements and expansion of the business, Mr. Comey said.

No additional stores will be opened by the company in Los Angeles for the next two years and from now on it will be the policy of the company to allow the cash surplus to be built up, according to Mr. Comey. He added the company will pay the next regular quarterly dividend on January 15 to stock of record December 25.

BEAR MARKET RECORD SET

Figures Compiled by Boston Economist Show Present Decline Heaviest on Percentage Basis

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—R. W. McNeel, Boston economist, has collected some interesting figures concerning the extent of stock market declines in the past and compared them with the present recession in prices. He finds that the current decline has made a new record, if viewed from a percentage basis.

From the peak of the latest bull market to the bottom of the present bear market, the decline to date has been 51 per cent. This compares with a 46 per cent decline in the 1919-21 deflation, 40 per cent in the deflation of the war market, 43 per cent in the decline which culminated late in 1914, 45 per cent in the 1907 panic, and 38 per cent in the 1903 panic.

"Consequently, on the basis of past history, the decline to date should be enough," says Mr. McNeel.

Here are some of his other figures:

The decline which ended in the panic of 1903 occupied a period of thirteen and one-half months. From the peak of the 1906 boom to the bottom of the 1907 panic thirteen months elapsed. From the top of the war boom November, 1916, to the bottom of that deflation, December, 1917, covered thirteen months. Only twice during this century have we had a major decline which ran longer than the present one. The first was the one which started in 1912 and ended late in 1914. It occupied a period of twenty-seven months. The other was the deflation which ended in August, 1921, running for twenty-one months.

"So we are in the extreme low levels of the present deflation," concludes this Boston economist.

Think of savings deposits in the banks and trust companies of the United States standing at $28,485,000,000 on June 30, last—a new all-time record—and an increase of $230,000,000 in the twelve-month period!

It's hard to explain. Pay rolls have been down. Wages, in many places, have been cut. Millions of men are out of work in every part of the United States. Conditions are bad everywhere. Many people

PROFITS OF LOEW'S, INC., SHARPLY UP

Theater Chain Reports Net Gain of 21 Per Cent for Fiscal Year

Net profits of Loew's, Inc., including all subsidiary and affiliated corporations, for the fiscal year ended August 31, last, amounted to $17,036,705, after all expenses, depreciation and Federal taxes, as compared with $14,074,688, in the preceding year, an increase of $2,962,017, or 21 per cent, according to a statement issued yesterday.

Profits available for common dividends after allowing for the minority interests' share of affiliated corporations and preferred dividends, amounted to $13,046,369, equal to 9.90 a share on the average number of common shares outstanding during the year and to $9.65 a share on the total number outstanding at the end of the year. This compares with $7.92 per share earned in the previous fiscal year.

While inventories increased approximately $4,000,000 during the year from $33,566,229 to $37,880,353, the charge for amortization of films was increased by approximately the same amount from $19,711,888 to $23,872,047, David Bernstein, vice-president and treasurer of the company pointed out.

The company's balance sheet which includes its 100 per cent-owned subsidiaries as of August 31, last, showed total current assets of $41,359,770, as against current liabilities of $9,247,292.

BUILDING-LOAN GROUP THRIVES

Los Angeles Associations Hit Record Asset Total

Third-Quarter Increase Set at 3.2 Per Cent

Figures for Nine Months Up $12,536,652 on 1929

Combined resources of the Los Angeles building-loan associations attained the record total of $131,196,158 as of September 30, an increase of $4,071,040, or 3.2 per cent, for the third quarter and a gain for the year of $12,536,652, or more than 10.6 per cent, the California Building-Loan League announced yesterday. The figures are based on the report of condition to Charles A. Whitmore, California Building and Loan Commissioner.

Through mergers, development of accounts and new business the average size of the thirty associations now stands at $4,373,203. There are seven institutions with resources in excess of $7,000,000, and four with more than $10,000,000 of assets. On a per-capita basis there is $118 invested for each inhabitant of the city, the league pointed out.

Fidelity Savings and Loan, the oldest and largest maintaining its head office in Los Angeles, increased its resources by more than $4,000,000 during the year. Others showing sharp increases included Armor, Coast Mutual, Great Western, Guaranty, Insurance Plan, Liberty, Los Angeles Mutual, Railway Mutual, Southern California, State Mutual and others, including Golden State, North American, Security and United States, which purchased other companies or their assets during the year.

During the year a number of associations which maintain their head offices elsewhere have opened branch offices in Los Angeles. There are today nine such associations with branch offices here.

Resources of the Los Angeles associations as of September 30, 1930, showing the percentage increase or

Buy Bonds for Conservative Investment

The drastic decline in prices of practically all common stocks and the many omissions or reductions in dividends during the past year have emphasized the truth of the old saying that "It is always a good time to buy bonds for safety and income."

In addition to these well-known advantages, sound bonds at the present time offer the purchaser unusual opportunities for future profit. Bonds which might be termed "market leaders" have already risen materially in price as a result of easy money conditions and declining commodity prices, but many issues of unquestioned security that are somewhat less well-known have thus far responded very little to these forces.

Believing that bonds of this class now offer the greatest possibilities for appreciation we have prepared the following list, diversified broadly in location and industries, which we offer subject to prior sale and change in price:

COTTON OUTPUT AT HIGH LEVEL

Crop in Pacific Southwest Near 1929 Peak

Gins in District Running at Full Capacity

California Leads in Yield Per Acre

Despite a 12 per cent planting reduction, a cut considerably in excess of the curtailment for the nation as a whole, cotton growers in the Pacific Southwest will produce a crop this season approaching the record of last year, Charles Provost, Los Angeles cotton merchant, predicted yesterday.

Growers in the territory are now at the peak of their harvest and all gins of the district are running at full capacity.

Unusually favorable weather and growing conditions have brought about the large production, Mr. Provost stated. The yield per acre in all sections of the territory, California, Lower California, Arizona and New Mexico, is showing a sharp increase over that of a year ago. California has the greatest yield, estimated this year at 400 pounds per acre, against 350 last year.

HEAVY YIELD

A striking illustration of growing conditions in the San Joaquin Valley, largest cotton district of the State, is shown by the results of one grower in Kern county, who, Mr. Provost points out, is harvesting a yield of 1100 pounds, or more than two bales per acre.

Merchants are of the opinion that the average price this season, ending next summer, will run about 14 cents a pound, against an average last year of 18 cents. Early last month futures fell below 10 cents, the lowest in fifteen years, but since that time have rallied 150 points. Other historical low periods were 7 cents in 1914, 11½ cents in 1921, 11 1-4 cents in 1926, and 9.80 cents last month.

Experience has shown that in periods of extremely low prices in the fall there is an increase in world consumption, and a reduction of acreage the following year. This in the past has brought higher prices in the spring and summer following.

NEW MARKETING PLAN

The abnormally low prices this season, Mr. Provost said, have led to the development of a new marketing feature. The larger merchants, together with the Federal Farm Board, are advancing the grower 90 per cent of the value of his crop on the date of delivery, of gin receipts, and giving the grower the option of fixing the price of any portion or all of his crop at any time on or before June 1, 1931.

The superior quality and staple of the Acala variety of cotton, which is the only type grown in the Pacific Southwest, has been further improved by the unusually favorable weather and growing conditions this year. Because of the abnormally low prices the Acala has been brought into demand in new and wider markets, and merchants are anticipating the increased demand will be sustained and strengthened when the world prices again return in an upward direction.

BEAR MARKET HELD RECORD

have been forced to draw heavily on their savings accounts in the last eighteen months.

And yet, in spite of it all, the total number of savings depositors in the banks moved up to 52,769,175—a gain of 5048 in the last twelve months.

W. Espey Albig, deputy manager of the savings bank division of the American Bankers' Association, commenting on this record savings in the midst of the present depression, said:

"When conditions in industry and employment are not satisfactory, there is a tendency on the part of those whose income is derived largely from wages to go to extreme lengths in safeguarding themselves financially. They deposit more of their income in the savings' departments of banks. If the depression is long continued, these deposits are slowly but gradually withdrawn."

Yet—this achievement in savings is probably the most surprising accomplishment in the present depression.

"I got a great kick out of that amazing plant of the A. O. Smith Company in Milwaukee," said Stuart Chase, after his visit to Milwaukee recently to study at first hand the Smith plant.

L. R. Smith is gradually turning his vast organization, employing thousands of men, into a laboratory of engineering and research. He has deserted entirely the field of high-powered salesmanship.

Mr. Chase, in the periodical, Fortune, tells the detailed story of the astonishing development of the Smith organization, whose rapid progress in new fields is the wonder, not only of Wisconsin, but of the entire country.

"I regard the Milwaukee experiment as the most extraordinary in the United States. It promises to give American industry a wallop beside which the late stock market crash was a chuck under the chin," says Chase. "Any determined adoption of its principles will turn the economic structure upside down and inside out, scrap billions of dollars of investments, shatter the nerves of untold bankers, and set the exalted profession of high-pressure salesmanship in the roadside ditch."

Now Mr. Chase has never been one to grow enthusiastic about American business. He has been one of its most severe critics. He has challenged it, criticised it, laughed at it, pounded it, but rarely praised it.

But he concludes this surprising article on the Smith experiment as follows:

"But when the hurricane is over, we may find a world where poverty has disappeared, where robots are unheard of, where working hours have been cut in two, where waste is at a minimum, and where the era of the salesman has given away to the era of the engineer."

And I put my own observations alongside of Stuart Chase's and say that in the next twenty years the name of L. R. Smith will be as well known in American business as the name Henry Ford is today.

In the first ten months of 1929 China purchased 50 per cent more American cotton than in the same period of the previous year.

GLASS MAY GIVE VIEW OF COLUMBUS'S CRYPT

HAVANA, Nov. 4. (AP)—If a proposal before the Catholic diocese of Havana is adopted, the crypt in Columbus Cathedral where for more than a century the bones of Christopher Columbus are supposed to have rested will be exposed to public view through a plate-glass partition, replacing the masonry which has sealed the crypt for thirty-two years. In 1898 the discoverer's remains were removed from the historic old cathedral here to the cathedral of Seville in Spain.

COPRA, HEMP

Condition of the copra and hemp market at Manila, P. I., as of October 29, was radioed to the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce as follows.

"Hemp market resumed to quiet state with actual decline on London market and small interest from New York. Local hemp market, however, firm with few sellers and no transactions. Receipts in Manila increased due to the past market improvement. Saturday Manila prices nominal at E. 19; F. 18¼; G. 17; 12½; Jus. 12; Jux. 10½; X. 9½; L. 19½. Stocks on hand Philippine ports October 27 totaled 120,000 bales, against 220,000 bales on October 28, last year. Exports week ending October 27 totaled 24,400 bales, of which 5400 bales were to United States.

"Copra market firm and arrivals good, with three mills operating. Saturday prices, pesos, Manila, 7.625; Cebu, 7.25; Legaspi, 7.875; Houdagua, 7.50."

Six Branches Combined by America Bank

Six branches in Los Angeles of the Bank of Italy and Bank of America of California have been merged under the recent consolidation of the two institutions forming the Bank of America National Trust and Savings Association, E. J. Nolan, chairman of the consolidated bank, announced yesterday. Bank of Italy had forty-six branches in the city and Bank of America of California, thirty-three. Under the merger the new bank is operating seventy-six.

The Third and Spring branch has been consolidated into the Fourth and Spring branch, with T. C. Deane, vice-president and manager, and H. B. Kelley, vice-president, as senior officers in charge. The Hollywood-Wilcox branch has been consolidated into the Hollywood-Whitley branch. J. Earl Mair becomes manager of this branch and O. K. Cole has been promoted to the position of assistant vice-president. The Forty-seventh and Central branch has been consolidated into the Twenty-fifth and Central branch, with P. H. Streeton, manager, and Charles C. Hiskey, assistant manager.

The Los Angeles main office, headquarters for the Bank of America in Southern California, is located at Spring and Seventh streets. The former main offices of the Bank of Italy become the Seventh and Olive office, while the building takes the name "Transamerica Building."

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—A moderately active and generally steady market took practically all offerings. Buyers from Pacific Coast intermountain and southwestern districts furnished most of the supply, with a few loads of near-by feed-lot cattle included.

A load or two and some small lots of Utah and local-fed steers of medium to low good quality brought 7.50@8.00, averaging from 803 to 1100 pounds. Some light steers on the yearling order went to feeders at 7.25, with a load at 6.75.

A few small lots of intermountain cows cashed at 5.85@6.00, with bulk of common to medium cows at 4.50@5.50. Low cutters and cutter cows ranged from 2.50@4.25. About three loads of medium to good intermountain heifers brought 6.75@7.00. Some young light bulls turned at 6.00, with medium to good butcher kinds at 4.50@5.75.

CALVES—The plentiful supply of calves met with a good demand at fully steady rates. A few odd head of milk vealers brought 10.00@12.00, with one at 13.00. A load of light southwestern calves went to a killer at 9.25, with others at 8.50. Stocker and feeder buyers took several loads at 7.00@8.00, with two loads of Texas Brahma calves at 6.50.

HOGS—Trade was rather slow on the five loads available, but salesmen were finally able to clean up at about steady prices. A load of desirable weight Utahs topped at 10.75, with four loads going at 10.50@10.60. Packing sows ranged from 9.00@9.90.

SHEEP—Trade was rather slow in this division, but with the exception of four decks of lambs everything had changed hands by the noon hour. The lambs were held fully steady at around 8.00. Four decks of 113-pound aged wethers held at 4.00, and returned to quiet state with a few cut to each deck. Two decks of good ewes brought 4.00 straight and about two loads of the same kind sold with a 10 per cent cut at 3.50. Two decks of common to medium ewes brought 2.25@3.25.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—Ohio and similar fleece wool of 64's and finer quality move occasionally at firm prices. The strictly combing class of these lines sell at 30 to 31 in the grease, or 73 to 75, scoured basis. French combing offerings are bringing 26 in the grease, with exceptionally choice lots realising a slightly higher figure. Scoured basis values on recent sales are being estimated in the range of 67 to 71 cents.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—Daily Steel Trade today says: A variable flow of heavy finished steel specifications is resulting from the forced requisitioning of material to cover depleted inventories. Nevertheless demand is well diversified and one western steel works reports another gain in specifications the last few days, which brings its shipping orders ahead of its sales volume. The total tonnage ordered out, however does not make an impressive total. Mills frankly do not expect anything that looks like important back logs for some time. The irregular specifications makes operating conditions difficult.

COTTON MARKET

A New Leader

The United Gas Corporation, supplying natural gas directly or indirectly in ten states and in the Republic of Mexico, is the largest gas company in the world from the standpoint of volume of sales.

During the twelve months ended June 30, 1930, the Corporation produced and purchased over 190 billion cubic feet of natural gas, an amount equal to more than 44% of all the gas produced by manufactured gas companies.

We recommend the purchase of both the Preferred and Common Stocks at present prices.

Consider these FACTS . . . Before You Invest

APPLY the following "acid tests" in measuring the true value of prospective investments. Note how well CORPORATE TRUST SHARES meet every requirement.

1. DIVIDEND RECORD Has the security in question paid dividends without interruption for a long period? The 28 companies back of C. T. S. have an unbroken dividend record on the average since 1897.
2. STRENGTH AND SECURITY Is your investment well-protected? C. T. S. represent ownership in 28 outstanding corporations—all leaders in basic industries, with assets of over $23,000,000,000 and a surplus of $5,800,000,000.
3. RATE OF RETURN How much return will you receive? For the past 17 years, based on actual record of underlying stocks, C. T. S. would have paid 14.7% average annual distributions on average price. Present distribution, protected by reserve fund, amounts to 9% on present price.

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

No provision is made in the new California proration schedule, just released, for the handling of daily excess production from the Kettleman Hills, Santa Fe Springs and Venice oil fields, nor for small production from new fields, which emphasizes the importance of 100 per cent co-operating to curtail drilling operations.

According to the new schedule, there is a 10,000-barrel daily excess production from Kettleman Hills. This is said to be due to the Superior Oil Company's Huffman No. 1 on the north dome structure, which is flowing at the rate set at 4000 barrels daily.

There still remain a half-dozen operators in the Santa Fe Springs field who have not signed the curtailment program. These operators are asserted to be responsible for the excess recorded there, which is at at 4000 barrels daily.

The general situation in the Venice oil field remains practically the same as it was one month ago, with the exception that the daily yield is mounting steadily. The report gives that field a potential of 34,575 barrels—more than 10,000 barrels a day above the old figure.

Still High

The new proration report discloses that the daily average production for the entire State for the period from October 16 to 31, inclusive, was 599,860 barrels, against an allowable of 540,000 barrels. No change was made in the fixed allowable for the new period of curtailment, although the State's potential dropped 36,000 barrels.

Beaned Back

The Dabney-Johnston Oil Corporation's No. 76 in the southeasterly portion of the Signal Hill field has been beaned back to a daily production of about 1900 barrels of oil. It recorded a daily potential of 3300 barrels and its allowable has been set at 1600 barrels daily by Umpire Nell H. Anderson.

Rigging Up

The General Petroleum Corporation is rigging up Orloff No. 1 wildcat near Maricopa Flat and will make a deep test for oil. This new undertaking is located on Sec. 28, 11-24, and is in the same general vicinity where shallow production has been developed.

Nine miles west of the Elwood field General's Erburu No. 3, a deep test, is making progress with the drill below 2800 feet. This project is near the operator's other Erburu producers that have been shut in. All have developed a shallow zone good for 20-deg. gravity oil.

Preparing to Spud

The McKeon Oil Company is preparing to spud Sunnyside Heights No. 1 wildcat at the southwest corner of One Hundred and Sixth street and Denker avenue, midway between the Potrero town-lot area and the Athens oil field. McKeon controls approximately 280 acres in that vicinity and is equipped to make a deep test for oil.

To Recement

Due to a faulty shut-off the Prairie Oil and Gas Company has recemented Sexton No. 1 wildcat due east of the Ventura-avenue field. Nine-inch casing is set to 7326 feet with bottom of the hole at 7518 feet. Another production test is expected to be made soon.

Shut In

The General Petroleum Corporation's More No. 1 near Goleta recently was subjected to a production test and is reported to have yielded 200 barrels of 40-deg. gravity oil per day along with 17,000,000 cubic feet of gas from a depth of 4532 feet.

General's More No. 1 was drilled more than a year ago and suspended. The operator drilled More No. 2 and developed considerable gas pressure at about 4300 feet and now is making progress with More No. 3 below 2900 feet.

Completes Another

Otis Hoyt yesterday brought in his No. 11 in the extreme southeasterly portion of the Signal Hill field. His project recorded an initial yield of 600 barrels of oil a day.

Near the Lovelady pool at Signal Hill the Texas Company's Robinson No. 4 came in for 350 barrels daily. In the Los Cerritos field, Wood Callahan's No. 4 completed for about 250 barrels and the Chiksan Oil Company's Robertson No. 4 was brought in at the rate of 200 barrels per day. Signal Hill's new potential was set at 202,000 barrels daily, being 1000 barrels less than the old figure.

Plans Completed

With more than forty reservations recorded and others expected to be received, plans are ready for the booster trip of Los Angeles oil officials to attend the annual convention of the American Petroleum Institute in Chicago. The special Southern Pacific train leaves at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Frank Morgan, chief geologist of the Rio Grande Oil Company, and chairman of the entertainment committee, left by plane today for El Paso to prepare for arrival there of officials from this city who will be guests of the company all day Friday. The special train is scheduled to arrive in Chicago Sunday evening.

Bullet Pierced Auto of Slain Gangster Found

NEWARK (N. J.) Nov. 4. (AP)—Pierced by a bullet, the automobile of Dominick Paselli, New York gangster who was shot to death last night in the General Hospital, was found today by police trying to capture the killers.

The victim's car, found in the rear of John Caruso's home in Belleville, led police to believe there was an earlier attempt on Paselli's life Sunday.

Four men were arrested on open charges and questioned by police, but they denied knowledge of the crime. They are Ralph Russo, 25 years of age, alias Johnny Russell, pugilist; Harold Corbett, 25, and Ernest Piumaja, 25, of Newark, and Tony Boy, 30, of New York.

43% LESS Obligations of Subsidiaries

The relatively small amount of subsidiary company obligations increases the earnings of the Associated Gas and Electric Company directly applicable to the parent company bonds.

The Associated Company has only $34 of subsidiary company obligations for each $66 of parent company stock, compared with a composite average, based on 20 comparable companies, of $60 for each $40 of parent company stock.

VARGAS TO STEP OUT FOLLOWING REFORMS

RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 4. (AP)—The Brazilian provisional government, of which Dr. Getulio Vargas became head yesterday as the victor in a brief revolution, plans to step out as soon as it has effected reforms and democratic elections then will be conducted. This was the assurance today of Dr. Osvaldo Aranha, associate of Vargas and just named Minister of the Interior and Justice in the temporary government, who told the Associated Press the new administration will represent the will of the Brazilian people.

GERMAN FASCIST MOUTHS THREATS

BERLIN, Nov. 4. (AP)—The Fascist leader, Joseph Goebels, declared at a meeting of his supporters today that should the Fascist party come into power and he attain the post of Minister of the Interior the castor-oil treatment inaugurated in Italy would be applied to editors unfavorable to the National Socialist party. If the Reds do not behave in the Reichstag, he said, they should be so badly beaten they will not care to return. The same treatment he recommended for persons who drive automobiles of foreign manufacture.

HERMOSA READY FOR ANNUAL ROLL CALL

HERMOSA BEACH, Nov. 4.—Organization of a general committee of twenty-one representatives of civic and fraternal societies here, for the annual Red Cross roll call, has been announced by Mrs. W. W. Wilkinson. The drive is expected to be well under way this week. Frank C. Russell, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is vice-chairman. The quota for this district has been set at $1500.

Now more than 10 MILLION Corporate Trust Shares

ON November 1, 1930 there were outstanding with investors 152,231 certificates representing more than 10 million Corporate Trust Shares.

*Seven months before, on April 1, 1930, there were 2,152,000 Corporate Trust Shares outstanding.

Sales by investment houses and banks of more than 8 million Corporate Trust Shares in seven months evidence their wide appeal to investors.

The strong companies included in the portfolio (listed at the right) together with the convenience and advantages of the trust form of holding and the exceptional return afforded by the Corporate Trust Share plan, have contributed to this widespread favor. In our opinion, however, two outstanding Corporate Trust Share features are largely responsible, because of their inherent fairness to the investor:

(1) Unclaimed coupon monies or unclaimed principal are not paid over to the sponsors by the Trustee at the end of six years. These always remain with the independent Trustee where holders of certificates or coupons may always claim such funds.

(2) The portfolio is 100% efficient because both the underlying stocks and the cash in the Reserve Fund work for the investor. The cash now deposited in the Reserve Fund to stabilize future distributions is earning interest for Corporate Trust Shareholders. Using the average interest rate applicable for the 10 years ended January 1, 1930, and based upon present cash in Reserve Fund only, this earning compounded semi-annually amounts to during the life of the trust. The creation of additional Corporate Trust Shares will increase this amount; all of it, however, will represent earnings for the holders of Corporate Trust Shares.

*Active selling in eastern territory was not begun until March 1930.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Earl's, Eighth, between Broadway and Hope—"Animal Crackers." The four Marx Brothers in a delightful form of nonsense.

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont — "Up the River." A funny satire on prison life with a fine cast headed by Spencer Tracy.

California, Main and Eighth—"Mr. Wu." A very good version of an old success with the Spanish artist, Ernesto Vilches.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Just Imagine." A fantasy of the future, with El Brendel and Maureen O'Sullivan.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood — "The Big Trail," a spectacular in setting and photography, that proudly demonstrates the power and sweep of Grandeur film.

Criterion, 642 South Grand—"Billy the Kid," an exciting picture keeping interest breathless by the large film. John Mack Brown.

Egyptian, Hollywood Boulevard—"The Last of the Duanes," The popular Rahel Grey story with George O'Brien.

Figueroa, Figueroa at Santa Barbara— "Let's Go Native."

Filmarte, 1228 North Vine—"Because I Loved You." A German musicale which means lots and lots of music.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third— "Let's Go Native." Not too good, but there's Jack Oakie.

Paramount, Hollywood at Vine—"So This Is London." Will Rogers and his wit are always good.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"The Virtuous Sin." The eternal triangle theme, a puzzling combination of good and bad. Kay Francis.

Rialto, Wilshire at La Brea—"Monte Carlo." A delightful satire and fine comedy from Jack Buchanan and Jeanette MacDonald.

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"Big Money." Good light entertainment from that boy-comedian, Eddie Quillan.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Check and Double Check." Amos and Andy bring their act talk to the screen in an efficient and humorous vehicle.

Tower, Broadway at Eighth—"Reno." Trash. With Ruth Roland.

Uptown, Western at Tenth—"Monte Carlo."

United Artists, Broadway near Ninth—"Du Barry, Woman of Passion." Norma Talmadge in a rather quiet portrait of a spectacular favorite.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"The Life of the Party."

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"The Life of the Party." A jest of matrimonial popular order and Winnie Lightner.

Wilshire, 8440 Wilshire Boulevard — "Those Three French Girls." Vivacious entertainment suitable to its title. Phil D'Orsay.

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th—"Young Sinners." More of youth's wild doings, which should prove popular. John Darrow.

Biltmore, 5th near Grand—"New Moon." Romberg's lovely music and the spirit of adventure pervade this operetta which presents Perry Askam.

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland—"Parlor, Bedroom and Bath." Charlotte Greenwood strides onto this stage and her play matters not at all. Destined for a healthy and wealthy run.

Hollywood Playhouse, Vine near Hollywood Blvd.—"Mister Antonio." The favorite Leo Carrillo returns in an ancient vehicle that creaks.

Mason—Broadway near 1st—"Women Who Take." A dramatic conflict of marital conditions in which Irene Rich acquits herself creditably.

Music Box, Hollywood Blvd., nr. Gower—"The Apple Cart." George Bernard Shaw's prediction of the future is ably portrayed by Alan Mowbray and fellow-actors.

Vine St., Vine near Hollywood Blvd.—"My Girl, Friday." A fast and funny farce about the business man at play. With John T. Murray.

BURLESQUE

Follies, Main at Fourth—Burlesque.

VALLEJO TAILOR DIES

PRINCETON SUSPENDS TWO SCORE

Students Who Took Part in Riot Called Beneath Reds or Gangsters

PRINCETON (N. J.) Nov. 4. (AP)—Their conduct described by the dean as being beneath Reds or gangsters, forty-two Princeton University undergraduates have been suspended for participating in a riot last Wednesday.

The names of those suspended were not given out by Dean Gauss. Four were dropped for a year, two until the end of the Christmas vacation, five for one month, three for two weeks, fourteen for one week and fourteen for an indefinite period.

The riot was an aftermath of a football rally designed to arouse enthusiasm for the Princeton-Chicago game last Saturday which ended in a scoreless tie.

After the rally the students rushed into Nassau street, blocked traffic by pushing parked cars into the middle of the roadway, wrecked a theater ticket booth, rocked buses, turned on fire hydrants and ended by pulling the statue of "The Christian Student" from its pedestal and dragging it through the street.

SEATTLE STREET CAR PLAN GIVEN TO MAYOR

SEATTLE, Nov. 4. (AP)—A citizens' committee today recommended to Mayor Edwards that the municipal street railway be placed in the hands of a nonsalaried operating commission to be provided for at the next Legislature. The committee, headed by Carl Williams, has been studying the problem two months. The system was bought by the city for $15,000,000 and was taken over March 31, 1919. Another recommendation was for the imposition of a municipal vehicle tax on all private automobiles to add to the general fund.

STAFFORD TRIAL MAY BE CLOSED

Dismissal of Attack Case Expected Today Because Girl Refuses to Appear

Refusal of Miss Rae Schade, former secretary to Clayton C. Stafford, El Monte, whose testimony once convicted him on an attack charge, to appear as a witness today may cause the new trial of the merchant to be dismissed when it is called in Superior Judge Schauer's court.

Miss Schade at Stafford's first trial was the complaining witness, charging that he took her to his cabin in Turnbull Canyon and attacked her.

Stafford in his defense stated the girl accompanied him voluntarily.

Since Stafford's conviction Miss Schade went to Utah to attend school and, according to deputy district attorneys, now refuses to return to California to prosecute the case again.

Stafford won a new trial by appealing to the Superior Court, charging the court erred in keeping from the record testimony concerning Miss Schade's character.

POSTAL WORKER TO SPEAK

Efforts of postal employees to obtain a forty-four-hour week will be discussed by Thomas F. Flaherty, secretary-treasurer of the National Federation of Postoffice Clerks, at two meetings at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. today in Patriotic Hall, 1816 South Figueroa street. Flaherty while in Los Angeles will be guest of the Los Angeles federation of the postoffice clerks and of Milton Kanode Post of the American Legion. He will leave for San Francisco tomorrow to attend the jubilee celebration of his organization.

DO ANGELENOS HAVE A HEART?

Rabbi Magnin Puts Question at Chest Luncheon

People Urged to Lay Aside Selfish Interests

Drive Declared to Be Test of Civilization

In a broadside that came straight from the heart Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin loosed a few plain statements upon the ears of Community Chest campaigners yesterday at the daily report-luncheon at the Biltmore, which brought to them new conviction, new inspiration and new determination for the completion of the task they have undertaken.

Subscriptions to the campaign fund yesterday amounted to $147,-3.5, bringing the total to date to $1,338,997, or 41.84 per cent of the goal of $3,200,000. Pledges have been received from 86,991 persons.

TEST OF DEMOCRACY

"I believe in the fundamental principles back of the Community Chest," said Rabbi Magnin, "because it is the most effective and sensible method of doing charity and because the idea of every element of a community working together is the only correct one.

"These 124 agencies existed before we had a Community Chest and they will continue to exist whether we have a Chest or not, because they render service. It is not a question of maintaining them, for we must do that in any event, but only of the method. Do the residents of this city want 124 drives a year—for it will come to that if we fail with the Chest—or do they want one drive to cover the whole thing? I believe your common sense will answer that in only one way.

"I consider the Community Chest a great experiment in Americanization. The American government is comparatively new. Democracy still is an experiment and people are beginning to question its virtues and its merits. One of the chief principles of democracy unity—unity of the whole—whether it be city, State or nation, and a second great thing about democracy is that it demands service and public spirit. No democracy can endure unless its people will lay aside their petty differences and selfish interests and work for the common good.

DO PEOPLE HAVE HEARTS?

"If the Community Chest doesn't go over in this city there is just one explanation. It will mean that the people of this community haven't a heart. There is but one place to get the money, and that is from the well-to-do, and if the ones with money can't give in correct proportion to their means, this community is not a fit place in which to live.

"Don't misunderstand me. I am not railing against wealth, but only against those people who don't know how to use it. If civilization is to endure, we must learn to give to such causes as this one in direct proportion to our means, and the success of this campaign is a spiritual, a patriotic and community challenge to the people of Los Angeles."

WORK EXPLAINED

Mrs. James K. Lytle, president of the Parent-Teacher Association, next explained the work made possible by that organization because it is an agency of the Community Chest.

"Our work," she said, "is to keep underprivileged children physically fit so they may stay in school. Our motto is 'equal opportunity for every child' and every day we feed approximately 5000 to 6000 children, hundreds are clothed, hundreds are fitted for glasses, equally as many are sent to dentists and in every other way that contributes to the physical welfare of these children our organization operates. Not one cent of the taxpayers' money that is collected for school use is allowed to be spent in this way, but through the Community Chest we can give these underprivileged youngsters the chance to which they are entitled. We grown-ups are responsible for them and we must not fail them now."

OBJECTION ANSWERED

Dissatisfaction has been heard from several quarters over being asked to contribute to the Community Chest when such organizations as the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts are agencies of the Chest. The answer to that objection was made yesterday by a Chest official, who said that the budget for the Boy Scouts is based solely on the needs of those who are unable to pay their own way. Parents who are

Juvenile Hall Report to Supervisors Reveals Most "Problems" Come From Broken Homes

Sixty-three per cent of the children received at Juvenile Hall are boys and girls who come from broken homes, according to the annual report for the fiscal year ending June 30, last, of the Los Angeles County Probation Committee. The report, signed by Elizabeth McManus, chairman of the committee, was filed yesterday with the Board of Supervisors.

During the year there were 5034 children in the institution. Of this number 2201 were girls and 2833 boys.

Out of 838 children taken at random and examined during the course of the year 229 or 27.3 per cent had some definite mental disorder, the report says.

"We have just completed our first year in the new buildings at Juvenile Hall and already we feel that the county funds spent has justified itself in the better care of the children," the chairman reports.

"Juvenile Hall," she continues, "is fast becoming the county's clearinghouse for juvenile problems. During July 1929, following the national conference of social work held at San Francisco we had hundreds of visitors from all over the world, men and women eager to see the place and know how the children's clinic was developing.

"There has also been an increase in the number of colleges, universities, clubs and social organizations that hold conferences at the hall for the purpose of learning about the work that is being done there.

"The children who come here hating their parents, the police or probation officers, are our real problem. They must be reasoned with and finally brought to see that the hall is the place where they can prove all they believe about themselves and convince the authorities they should be given another chance in society."

One portion of the report scores officers who threaten children with the statement they are to be sent to the Juvenile Hall until they are 21 years of age.

"This creates in the child an antagonism and suspicion which is hard to overcome," the report declares.

CUT IN STREET COST URGED

Reduction of Proposed Width of Hoover Suggested to Council Committee by Jessup

A reduction in the cost of the Hoover-street project, with a consequent lessening in its importance, is contained in a report now before the Street Opening and Widening Committee of the City Council, submitted by City Attorney Jessup.

As originally designed, Hoover street was to have run as a street 100 feet wide from the Hollywood hills to its junction with Figueroa street near Exposition Park. It was known as the backbone of the Major Traffic Street Plan.

The suggestion of Jessup is that the southerly link of Hoover street terminate at Wilshire Boulevard, leaving the opening project north of Wilshire to be consummated at some future date.

From Thirty-second street to Burlington avenue he proposes that Hoover be 100 feet wide, from Burlington to Alvarado street ninety feet wide and from Alvarado to Wilshire eighty feet wide. It also is suggested that Menlo avenue be extended at a width of sixty-five feet from Exposition Boulevard to McClintock avenue.

The acquisition of land for the opening and widening of Hoover between Thirty-second street and Exposition Boulevard is complete except for a few parcels, Jessup reports. This section is to be 100 feet wide.

COUNTY TO USE DRUG BUILDING

Brunswig Structure on New High Street Will Be Utilized for Offices

Plans to renovate and remodel the five-story reinforced concrete building of the Brunswig Drug Company on New High street, for use as a county office building, were approved yesterday by the Board of Supervisors. The structure recently was acquired jointly by the city and county in the condemnation proceeding for the extension of Spring street from Temple street to Sunset Boulevard.

The building will be used to house the County Agricultural Commissioner, Farm Adviser and the offices of Registrar of Voters William Kerr, according to Chairman Graves of the Board of Supervisors.

According to Graves, the county will take over the city's share of the building in consideration of assuming the task of changing its frontage so as to remove it from the line of the proposed Spring-street extension. The project will cost approximately $84,500 according to County Architect Muck.

Acquisition of the property cost the county $109,871.

FORESTERS TO OPEN BAZAAR TOMORROW

With lodges from all parts of Southern California participating, the annual benefit bazaar sponsored by the Independent Order of Foresters will open tomorrow at Foresters' Temple, 1329 South Hope street. It will continue for three days, ending Saturday night. The affair, known as the Purple Cross Bazaar, aims at raising funds with which to add new units to the order's sanatorium in Lopez Canyon, near San Fernando. The institution is supported entirely by the organization.

BLIND VETERAN VOICES SUNSHINE PHILOSOPHY

Eighteen years ago William James Sterling, 56 years of age, of 1251 Federal avenue, West Los Angeles, known by his old pals of the Spanish-American War as "Smiling Jim," went blind from the effect of injuries received when a gun backfired while he was serving on the United States Army transport Sherman as chief gunner's mate.

Though his days in the Navy ended then, Jim Sterling's career didn't end. Instead, he has become a blind philosopher whose purpose in life is to prove to disabled veterans that being blind isn't so bad, or that being crippled in any way doesn't mean that one cannot accomplish any more good for himself or others.

"Life isn't tough," Sterling tells his friends at the National Soldiers' Home. "What's a little ailment when we can all be optimistic and bring happiness to others easily? There is plenty of work to be done."

Mr. Sterling but recently returned from a lecture tour of the principal cities of the United States where he addressed war veteran groups and imparted to them his philosophy of life. Accompanying him on his tour was his wife, Mrs. Mae F. Sterling, who has complete faith in her husband's ideals.

The veteran was born in England He ran off to sea at the age of 13 years, landed in Peru, joined the navy and rose quickly to the post of quartermaster when he was 17. A year later he became an officer in the Nicaraguan rebel army.

He served the United States at the battle of Manila Bay and re-

WILL HAYS HERE FOR FILM EVENT

Says Nation Mobilizing to Lead Recovery

Revived Interest Noted in Political Issues

Will Be Guest at Academy Awards Banquet

The wealth, energy and initiative of the United States is unaffected by economic depression and those forces are gathering momentum to lead the world in a great industrial recovery, is the view of the nation expressed yesterday by Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, on his arrival here from New York.

Hays came to Los Angeles to attend the annual business meeting and awards banquet of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, which is to be held tonight at the Ambassador.

"This country," he said, "is gathering momentum to lead in the world's recovery industrially. Business will revive—not as from a sickbed worn with wasting remedies—but strong and vigorous. We will go through the present situation without doles, without pauperization and without onerous taxation."

INTEREST REVIVED

While millions of citizens were balloting on many candidates and issues throughout the nation, Hays, who has retired from a once prominent place in the Republican party, also predicted a revived interest in the power of the vote.

"This election is important," he said, "as every other election is important. It is too late to make predictions. They would be remembered. The majority of the citizens will go to the polls to vote on many important issues they are facing. It is their highest sovereign privilege. It is, as a matter of fact, the only way to practice patriotism in peace times. That there is a great interest means increasing patriotism in the politics of the country. The result will be the will of the majority and with that every real American citizen will be satisfied."

On the same train with Hays was Hiram S. Brown, president of Radio-Keith-Orpheum and chairman of the board. He said that his visit is mainly for pleasure and with other than a few conferences it has no special significance to the policies of the organization which he heads.

HONOR AWARDS

Tonight at the Academy banquet where Hays will be the honor guest, announcement will be made of honorary membership in the organization conferred on Thoma. A Edison and George Eastman in recognition of their outstanding contributions to the sciences and arts of motion picture production.

A movietone of Edison has been prepared for the occasion and sound equipment has been installed in the Ambassador's Fiesta Room for its exhibition.

Merit awards in motion-picture production for the past year will be made at the dinner. Branches to receive the awards are for the best performance by an actress, art direction, sound, cinematography, direction, writing, production and for the best performance by an actor.

Medical Board Raises Number of Licentiates

With the issuance of seventy-nine licenses by the Board of Medical Examiners, the total number of licentiates operating under the jurisdiction of the board was raised to 12,605, with thirteen deaths reducing the total to 11,592, according to a report to Gov. Young by James F. Collins, director of the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards.

Director Collins reported that considerable success is attending a campaign against unlicensed persons employed in drug stores who undertake to sell poisons and other prohibited commodities to customers.

The number of licensed barbers increased to 17,286 with the issuance of 443 additional licenses.

NEW FIRES CAUSE SUSPICION

Pyromaniac Active in Mountains, Warden Believes; Man Trapped by Flames Dies

A pyromaniac is at work setting brush fires in the Santa Monica Mountains, said County Fire Warden Spence Turner last night just after he and his men, following a frantic battle, had subdued two more fires near Ventura Boulevard—one of which menaced Picture City and the valuable motion-picture sets on the Paramount ranch, and caused the death of one man.

Hemmed in by the suddenly advancing flames Ray Taylor, 38 years of age, proprietor of a poolroom in Picture City, suffered burns which caused his death last night at the Van Nuys Hospital. His wife, Mrs. Ora Taylor, was at his side in the hospital when he died.

Reports from the fire-swept area said Taylor was trapped by the wind-blown flames and suddenly was surrounded by fire. Other workers hearing his calls for help were unable to give him immediate aid because of the wall of flame

"I think these fires were incendiary," declared Turner as he paused after an all-afternoon battle with the flames. "One man is under suspicion. This man was seen near the place where a serious outbreak occurred in the Decker Canyon fire line last week and his automobile was again observed hurrying from the places where today's fire originated. I have notified the District Attorney's office of my suspicions."

The new fires broke out in two spots near the Ventura Boulevard highway shortly after noon. The first originated near Picture City, close to the Paramount Ranch, and immediately assumed the aspect of a serious blaze.

Residents of Picture City and employees of the Paramount Ranch joined with a hundred of Turner's men and an all-afternoon fight to subdue the fire began.

HUNDRED PERCENTER AS NIGHT WATCHMAN

Shirley Anne Davis

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 4. — No burglar is going to get away with ripping out the screen and entering the home of Shirley Anne Davis, 1 1-2 years of age, as long as Shirley plays night watchman for the family.

Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Davis, 353 Nineteenth street, this city, were sound asleep when a burglar crawled into the bedroom at 3 o'clock in the morning. But Shirley was on the job, and she objected so strenuously when the burglar started ransacking a dresser drawer that Mrs. Davis was aroused.

The mother couldn't imagine what the baby was crying about until daylight revealed the traces left when the burglar doubtless realizing he lacked qualifications as a nurse, beat a hasty retreat without the plunder he sought.

County Plans Replacement of Padres' Bells

Many mission bells that were placed along trails used by the padres on their journeys in the State are to be given some attention and where repairs are needed they will be made.

Such was the action of the Board of Supervisors yesterday in response to a communication from Mrs. A. S. C. Forbes, past president of the El Camino Real Association, who declared that many of the standards of the bells have rotted, letting them fall to the ground, while others have been removed by contractors when widening roads.

The matter was referred to Supervisor Beaty, who will make an investigation.

In 1913 the county set up forty bells on the trails that at one time were used by the padres. Historical societies and civic bodies matched the number the county donated.

INSURANCE MEN TO MEET

The Life Underwriters' Association of Los Angeles, an organization of insurance men, will have a sales conference Thursday, the 20th inst., at the Philharmonic Auditorium, Roy Denny, president, announced yesterday. The program will begin at 10 a.m. and continue to 4 p.m. with recess from noon to 2 p.m. It will include addresses by Dr. Ernest S. Holmes, Howard H. Jones, football coach; Joseph D. Brady, R. H. Ballard, Robert A. Brown and Arthur G. Arnoll.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

ARTHUR HAMMERSTEIN, the New York producer, has bought his railroad ticket back to where he came from, having decided to leave talkies to their fate.

One of the weirdest inspirations with which the Hollywood movie magnates ever collided was the idea that stage producers were chosen by heaven to put on talking pictures. As a result the picture business has come to the ragged edge.

TOO SOPHISTICATED

Motion pictures will always be naive. They go to naive places. That is the whole point of pictures—that they bring real drama to towns where the only theatrical entertainment was an occasional Uncle Tom show in the I.O.O.F. hall over the drug store.

If Mr. Hammerstein and his confreres had been able to make Newton Center over into a pocket edition of New York he might have known something about the business of making motion pictures.

SWELL PARTY

His Majesty Ras Tafari Makonnen may not be able to be so much as a king, but he is the only one who can get up a swell party and be crowned without having to ask a Mussolini what he has to do next.

THE DARK PLACES

And at that, these dark kings are of more importance than they seem.

One of the troubles and dangers that roil the world is that the strategic spots of the world—the military key positions—are largely in the hands of queer little monarchs who wear rooster feathers and worship strange gods. If he were not squatting in the middle of the Khyber Pass the Ameer of Afghanistan would get about as much consideration from the great powers as the janitor.

STUNTS

The illness of Tom Mix offers no mysteries. The stunt men of Hollywood never last long. Most of the stars leave the stunts to the hired help. Tom Mix and Fred Thomson rolled their own.

There is a limit to the amount of diving over cliffs, jumping out of second-story windows onto horses' backs that can be done without wrecking the human machinery.

I ALSO ADORE MARY

I don't wonder that the furious young Texas columnist, Gene Howe, backed off, coughed and said he was Mary Garden's devoted admirer for life.

To say that a young lady is so old she teeters and then sit down to a tea table with her and have to explain what you meant is beyond the endurance of any columnist.

As Mary is headed out this way I wish to remark right now that she is so young that the Geary Society ought to have a teacher in her dressing-room between acts. She is so beautiful that she makes Helen of Troy look like a cartoon, and she can sing to beat the band. And, anyhow, I don't like tea.

TOO OLD

Some worms found in Blue Island, Ill., are estimated to be 390,000,000 years old. No, that's too old.

Every time a geologist or an archeologist makes another find he pushes it back another 50,000,-

CRIMINALS GET $4000 PLUNDER

Four Robberies and Score of Burglaries Reported

Red-Haired Woman Drives Car for Cafe Bandit

Safe in Store Blown Open by Group of Yeggs

Showing a marked increase, the crime score recorded by police yesterday showed four robberies were perpetrated Monday night and three early yesterday morning. Burglaries in the same period totaled twenty-one, with an aggregate loss of more than $4000 in cash and valuables.

All three robberies yesterday morning were in cafes and were carried out by a bandit accompanied by a red-headed young woman as driver of his automobile.

CASH OBTAINED

Their first appearance was at Olles's Cafe, at 1201 South Main street, where P. S. McKinley was robbed of $20. At Hanning's Lunch at 1111 West Seventh street John Whalen was held up and robbed of $30. The third appearance was at the Show Case Cafe at 2239 San Fernando Road, where W. B. Douglas lost $15.

Other robberies reported before midnight included: E. F. Koats barber shop at 1047 North Alvarado street, one bandit, $22; Elmo Holbrook grocery at 1731 South Hoover street, one bandit, $10 and half a dozen cartons of cigarettes, and a service station at 2454 West Pico Boulevard, J. Rubensohn robbed of $30 and locked in a small room by one bandit.

FILIPINO CAUGHT

Chased and captured by several Chinese youths, a Filipino, Leo C. Verdadere, 28 years of age, of 128 East Fourth street, was held on suspicion of robbing Tom Wing of $300 in a Chinese club at 765 North Alameda street. Verdadere, according to police, knocked one of his pursuers unconscious with brass knuckles he had used to threaten Wing.

Outstanding in the list of burglaries was the blowing of a safe in the Clarence Saunders store at 4263 South Western avenue. After gaining entrance to the store by jimmying a rear door the burglars wrapped the safe in clothing and blew it open with nitroglycerin. They obtained $1530 from the safe and seventy-five cartons of cigarettes from the store shelves.

ELDERLY MAN FAILS IN SUICIDE EFFORT

Jerry O'Brien, 73 years of age, made an unsuccessful attempt at suicide yesterday, according to a police report, by slashing one of his wrists with a razor in a bungalow at 2062 East One Hundred and Third street. Georgia-street Receiving Hospital surgeons report he will recover. Members of his family, from whom he has been estranged, told police O'Brien's act probably was prompted by despondency resulting from heavy drinking.

SEVEN ACRES OF ROSES IN BLOOM

Thousands Lured to Sunken Garden in Exposition Park

Filling Air With Perfume

Magnificent floral display and one of the visitors it attracted, Miss Brownella Baker, who was especially pleased by a rose of gorgeous yellow.

SEVEN acres of roses of many varieties and colors are now in bloom in sunken garden, Exposition Park. The unusual display is attracting many visitors who stroll along the paths delighting in the perfume-laden air and wide vistas of beautiful plants. Each variety is in a section by itself, marked by its name on a card.

One of yesterday's visitors was Miss Brownella Baker, who posed with a gorgeous yellow rose that seemed a vision of gold in the bright rays of the sun.

able to do so contribute to the movement, which is constructive as a builder of character and as a maker of future good American citizens. According to figures from Chest headquarters, $7 per year will take care of one Boy Scout, but it takes $700 per year to take care of one criminal. A recent United States government survey shows that of the number of men arrested on criminal charges last year not one of them ever had been a Boy Scout, and Community Chest officials point to this as a convincing argument for its accomplishments.

Rabbi Julius A. Leiber of Temple Emanu-El delivered the invocation and Earl Burtnett and his Biltmore Orchestra supplied the music. Dr. Gustav A. Briegleb will be the speaker at today's luncheon.

have been the most serious fire in years," said Turner later. "Luckily I had a full crew still guarding last week's burned-over area in the Santa Monica Mountains and was able to hurry them down to the new blaze in a few minutes."

Approximately 100 acres of brush was destroyed before the blaze was brought under control, and the flames burned to the border of the Paramount Ranch.

The second fire broke out near Brent's Canyon, four miles further up the highway, but was brought under control after only about five acres of watershed had been burned over.

TORCH GIVES MURDER CLEW

Blood-spattered Flashlight Found in Suspect's Car; Discovery May Solve Mrs. Ells's Killing

What is considered the first definite clew in the search for the murderer of Mrs. Merle Ells, 22 years of age, slain with a shotgun in the home of her sister at 323 East Ninety-ninth street last Sunday morning, was uncovered yesterday by Detective Lieutenant Savage of the Seventy-seventh-street Division and Detective Hamlin of the South Gate Police Department. Savage reported that a flashlight, heavily splattered with dried blood, was found in the automobile of Alfred Ells, brother of Emory Ells, ex-husband of the slain woman. Thereupon Alfred Ells was charged with suspicion of murder. His brother, Emery, is held on the same charge.

The car containing the flashlight was located in the garage at the rear of Alfred Ells's home at 8153 Elisabeth street. This car is the one, Savage says, which Ells uses in patrolling his district in South Gate as a deputy constable and was driven both by him and his brother on the morning of the murder.

AUTO BLOODSTAINED

Besides the blood found on the flashlight other stains were also found in the automobile, Savage says, but these did not appear to be as fresh as those on the electric torch. When questioned by Captain of Detectives Davidson of the Central homicide squad Alfred explains the car stains as a result of nose bleed, Davidson said. He was not asked, however, to explain the presence of the flashlight in his machine.

Definite value of the discovery of the flashlight as a clew pointing to the possible identity of the person who killed Mrs. Ells in her sleep will not be certain until Police Chemist Welch has concluded his analysis of the blood today. This will then be compared to the blood of the slain woman.

INQUEST TODAY

Outside of the discovery of the flashlight Capt. Davidson said no other developments marked yesterday's investigation of the mystery. The inquest will be held at the Coroner's office at 1:30 p.m. today.

Mrs. Ells, who divorced her husband recently, according to police, was living with her son at the home of her sister, Mrs. James Cannon, at the Ninety-ninth-street address at the time of the slaying. The murder was discovered shortly after dawn last Sunday when her baby son, failing to awaken her, ran to the Cannons' bedroom crying. Shortly after detectives began their investigation the ex-husband and his brother were taken into custody at the latter's home. Ralph Moulton, an acquaintance, also was held.

LAST RITES FOR GAS MAN TO BE TODAY

Henry W. Burkhart, Who Died From Auto Injuries, in Southland Thirty Years

Funeral services will be conducted at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Glendale, at 2 p.m. today for Henry W. Burkhart, prominent gas engineer, who died at El Centro Friday from injuries received in an automobile accident. He was 59 years of age.

Mr. Burkhart was injured fatally October 28, when his automobile turned over as he applied the brakes to avoid a collision with another machine. He was on his way to Calexico to attend the formal opening of a new unit of the Natural Gas Corporation of California, of which he was a member of the executive staff.

Coming to Los Angeles from Illinois thirty years ago, Mr. Burkhart helped organize the Southern Counties Gas Company. He also served for many years as vice-president in charge of the gas properties of the Southern California Edison Company. He lived at 163 South Larchmont Boulevard, where he leaves his widow, Mrs. Sofia De La Cuesta Burkhart, and one son, Harold C. Burkhart.

He was a member of the American Association of Engineers, the Pacific Coast Gas Association and the Rotary Club of El Centro.

TURNKEY AT COUNTY JAIL KILLS SELF

Edgar Stevens Takes Own Life on State Highway; Suicide Third in Chain

Financial difficulties which brought about despondency yesterday were ascribed by friends of Edgar M. Stevens, County Jail turnkey, as the probable cause of his suicide early yesterday on the State highway near Salinas.

Shot through the head, the body of Stevens was found seated in a roadster about five miles north of Salinas by Sheriff Abbott of Monterey county. A revolver with one empty chamber was found on the seat. Physicians expressed the opinion that Stevens had been dead about an hour when found. The body was taken in charge by Coroner Cornett of Salinas.

Stevens had been absent from duty since last Saturday. He was 38 years of age and had served as a jail turnkey since May, 1929, previous to which time he was employed as a deputy at the Altadena Sheriff's substation. At the time of his death he was living in the officers' dormitory of the jail, and customarily worked from 4 p.m. to midnight.

The suicide of Stevens marks the third in the last month in the personnel of the Sheriff's office. On October 3, last, James Richardson, 52, contact officer, fatally shot himself at his home in Monrovia, and on October 25 Vernard M. Locke, 42, Norwalk substation deputy, died as the result of a bullet wound he had inflicted while at home on sick leave, according to Sheriff's office records.

W.C.T.U. MEETING TOMORROW

The Los Angeles Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet tomorrow at 1:45 p.m. at the First Methodist Church, at Eighth and Hope streets. Devotionals will be in charge of Mrs. E. E. HEROIC OFFICER SAVES WOMAN

Victim of Smoke in Fiery House Carried Out by Policeman Small

Heroism of Policeman W. B. Small of Hollenbeck Heights division in carrying Mrs. Amanda Simpson, 80 years of age, out of a burning house at 351 North Chicago street early yesterday, was officially commended last night by Chief Steckel.

To make the rescue Small crawled through a window from which smoke was pouring. He found Mrs. Simpson unconscious from smoke.

Another woman, Mrs. Elizabeth Fray, 82, owner of the house, was carried out by a motorist who then proceeded on his way, without disclosing his identity.

Three Weeks Will Be Spent in Trade Extension

Many Cities of Southern Republic on Route

With hundreds of friends at the depot to see them on their way, the sixth trade excursion of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to Mexico, with 161 merchants, manufacturers and bankers and members of their families aboard, left the Arcade Station yesterday afternoon on a special Southern Pacific train.

The delegation was headed by John C. Austin, president of the Chamber. His wife and three daughters accompanied him. The trip will consume three weeks, the party planning to return here on the 22nd inst. The trip is a friendly gesture of the Southland to the neighboring republic. Charles P. Bayer, field secretary of the Chamber, is in direct charge of the excursion and is being assisted by Clarence H. Matson, manager of the department of foreign commerce and shipping.

ENTER AT NOGALES

Entering Mexico by the Nogales gateway, stops will be made at Hermosillo, Ciudad Obregon, Navojoa, Los Mochis, Culiacan, Mazatlan, Acaponeta and Tepic, en route to Guadalajara. Entertainment has been arranged in nearly all these places. The States of Sonora, Sinola, Nayarit and Jalisco are held to be primarily Los Angeles trade territory and these areas will be studied with trade expansion in view. Two days will be spent at Guadalajara and six days in and around Mexico City. The return trip will be made on the Mexican National lines through Zacatecas, Chihuahua, entering the States again at El Paso.

versity of California holds the high position in the educational world that it does today is because of the great men who have constituted its faculties. The student who goes to a university where there are no great teachers gets a gold brick.

"The prime purpose of a State university is the development of intelligent leadership in the body politic," said Dr. Sproul. "If the university fails in this, it is subject to a grave indictment. There is no better remedy for the troubles of the world than trained intelligence, and if leaders are not developed at our universities, to what institutions shall we look for leadership?"

Late Actor's Brother and Sister Demand Accounting by Administrator

Rudolph Valentino, once the film idol of millions, will once more hold the spotlight of public interest today, when the case involving settlement of his estate is called for trial in Superior Judge Stephens's court.

S. George Ullman, executor of the estate, represented by Attorney Leonard Wilson, will appear to give a final accounting of his management of the dead star's financial affairs. Ullman's stewardship of the estate was attacked by Alberto Guglielmo, brother of the decedent, and Maria Guglielmo Strada, the actor's sister, who assert the fortune left by their brother is being dissipated.

Seven Helps In One For Difficult Coughs From Colds

Creomulsion is a better help than some coughs need. It combines seven major helps in one, to do the best that men know for any cough from colds.

There is creosote—the world's supreme help—blended, emulsified and palatable. There are white pine tar, wild cherry bark, menthol, ipecac, etc. Each is best for a certain type of cough. But even doctors might disagree on what is best for yours.

So experts have combined in Creomulsion all major helps in one. This to deal with all conditions in a most effective way. No narcotic in it.

Creomulsion is for people who wish to do the utmost. In coughs from colds that hang on it is essential. One dare not trust such coughs to any lesser help. But don't think that any cough calls for best help known?

Creomulsion costs a little more than some helps—$1.25. The druggist guarantees it. So it will cost you nothing if you think it fails to render help that is quick and complete. Careful people, more and more, demand this maximum protection. Use it promptly.

FILIPINO SLAIN IN GIRL'S ROOM

Jealous Rival Shoots Him and Wounds Woman

Companion of Pair Tells of Fatal Encounter

Suspect, Arrested, Said to Have Confessed

Surprised, while visiting a taxi-dancer, by a jealous countryman he had never seen, Raymond Demaya, 21-year-old Filipino, was murdered yesterday in a shooting affray at 2941 West Eleventh street. The shooting, according to police, was done by Graciano Sidora of 119 South Fremont avenue, who, having slain his rival, then turned the gun on the girl, Maxine Williams, 20, inflicting a flesh wound in the left thigh.

Following an all-day search, Detective Lieutenants Craig and Bain of Wilshire division located Sidora working as a bellboy in a hotel at 4077 West Third street, and booked him on a charge of murder. He confessed the slaying, they reported, the investigation.

Miss Billie Woods, who occupies an apartment at the West Eleventh-street address with Miss Williams, told Captain of Detectives Cahill she and her friend met Demaya at a Main-street dance hall several weeks ago and later, on another occasion, made the acquaintance of Sidora. The two Filipinos, she said, did not know each other.

Yesterday morning Demaya called on the girls. The three were sipping tea when Sidora appeared at the apartment. Brushing Miss Woods aside when she went to the door, Sidora stormed into the room, whipped out a .25-caliber automatic pistol and challenged Demaya to a duel. Demaya protested he had no gun. Sidora continued to brandish the weapon and as the other youth sought refuge in a closet the rival fired, Miss Woods told the officers, the bullet entering Demaya's body near the heart and killing him instantly.

MODEL IN JAIL CELL AS WRECK SEQUEL

Madge Walker

Admitting that she was more frightened than she had ever been, Madge Walker, 20 years of age, a model, yesterday was occupying a cell in the County Jail following her arrest on a felony warrant by police.

The young woman declared the accusation against her was the outgrowth of a trip to Oakland in a rented automobile. While in the northern city, she said, the automobile was wrecked and placed in a garage, after which she notified the party from whom she had rented it and returned to Los Angeles with the intention of paying for the damage.

She was arrested at her home, 1835 North Garfield avenue, last Monday.

British Action on Palestine Assailed Here

A Jewish declaration of purpose was sounded last night by speakers who addressed a mass meeting held at the Philharmonic Auditorium protesting the restriction of land ownership and immigration in Palestine. The protests were directed against the provisions of the white paper recently issued by Lord Passfield on behalf of the British government.

Rabbi S. M. Neches, after a recital of the history of Jewry and the rights extended to his people in Palestine after the World War, denounced the action of Great Britain in the withdrawal of the rights of settlement.

"Jews we are," he said, "and Jews we ever shall be. Palestine was ours, is ours, and forever shall be ours."

Other speakers included Judge B. F. Bledsoe, Rex Goodcell, Rev. Edwin P. Ryland, Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin, Mayor Porter, Chaim Shapiro, Herman Bachrack and the chairman of the meeting, Mendel B. Silberberg. Cantor Theodore Kittay sang in Hebrew two ancient Jewish songs.

A resolution appealing to the British nation for a reconsideration of the Palestine action was adopted at the close of the meeting.

TRUANT OFFICER NEAR DEATH IN ACCIDENT

Joseph H. Larson, 56 years of age, a Board of Education truant officer living at 2808 Denby street, is near death in Georgia-street Receiving Hospital as the result of a mysterious accident. Pedestrians yesterday found him unconscious from internal injuries and a fractured skull near the tracks at the end of the Edendale car line.

FOUR FAIL TO IDENTIFY BANK BANDIT

Efforts to Link Slain Man to Other Robberies Here of Recent Date Not Success

Efforts by police to link with other robberies of recent date the name of John Steindl, ex-convict, who was slain Monday after holding up a bank, failed yesterday when several victims were unable to identify his photograph.

A picture of Steindl was exhibited to four persons who have been held up and robbed within the past few weeks, but each of the four stated it was not that of the bandit who accosted him. Detective Lieutenants Woolman and Malina thereupon reached the conclusion that the robbery Monday was Steindl's first attempt here since his release from San Quentin in 1929.

Steindl was shot to death by Woolman and Malina while attempting to escape after obtaining $1625 in a spectacular hold-up of the Echo Park avenue and Sunset Boulevard branch of the Bank of America. Police records show he was 43 years of age and had served eight years of a sentence for robbery in San Francisco.

An inquest into the killing will be conducted today.

Legion Post Hears Charge of Brutality

Following the report of a special committee, Blue Devil Post, No. 368, American Legion, at its meeting last night at the Hotel Californian, voted to bring the matter of asserted brutality of instructors in Los Angeles schools for delinquents before the county council of the American Legion at its meeting Friday night at Patriotic Hall, with the request that a thorough investigation be made and, if conditions are found to warrant it, to take the matter up with the Board of Education.

A committee composed of R. H. Gentry, Lloyd Stevenson and Harry Walker last night reported that one of the members of the committee witnessed the flogging of a 10-year-old boy at the Alvarado special school. He also charged that he saw instructors in other corrective schools carrying heavy leather straps in their pockets.

"If this condition exists in all the schools something should be done to stop it," Chairman Gentry said in making his report. "If it is an isolated case, an investigation will show this and no harm will be done anyone."

"The matter has not come before my attention," said Frank A. Bouelle, city superintendent of schools, last night. "I doubt very much if the punishment meted out might be called brutal. There are regulations of the school board and State laws that govern the infliction of corporal punishment in the schools. The teachers are told repeatedly that corporal punishment is always to be the last resort and never to be severe or administered in such a manner as to leave marks."

FUNERAL CONDUCTED FOR EDWIN H. GRAVES

Funeral rites were conducted at Reed Brothers' chapel yesterday for Edwin H. Graves, former Mayor of Ames, Iowa, who died Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ben H. Read, 356 South Oakhurst Drive, Beverly Hills. Interment was in Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Mr. Graves came here two weeks ago for a visit, but was taken ill a few days after his arrival. He was 66 years of age. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Gertrude W. Graves; two daughters, Mrs. Leone Graves Read and Miss Genevieve Graves, and one son, Norman D. Graves. His father was Andrew Jackson Graves, pioneer Californian, who came to this State from Vermont during the gold rush in 1849.

ARE YOU DRUNK ON NOISE?

Health Officer Pomeroy Asserts Din to Blame for Many Ills of Modern City Dweller

If you're nervous, irritable, grouchy, bilious, underdeveloped, disposed toward heart disease and sometimes murderously and criminally inclined, you're a victim of noise—the ever-growing handicap of modern civilization and cities.

Noise is causing more problems of social and public health administration than any other one factor, Dr. J. L. Pomeroy, county health officer, declared yesterday afternoon in an address before the Friday Morning Club.

If noise—the clanging of bells, blatting of radios, screech of brakes, roar of motor exhausts, fiendish rat-a-tat of riveters, sassy squawk of horns, squeal of street-car curves, howls of penned-in dogs and sundry nerve-destroying vibrations—continues, cities soon will be depopulated by persons moving into more secluded localities to obtain peace and tranquillity, Dr. Pomeroy stated.

MANIA EXPLAINED

Medical tests on a live man with a celluloid "window" in his head show that the bursting of a paper bag inflicts four times the normal pressure on the brain, Dr. Pomeroy said. Annoying sounds also cause abnormal functioning of the thyroid, pituitary and adrenal glands, which, in turn, cause a physiological anger or mania which cannot be controlled by mental action. Various stages of noise cause as much heart and nerve stimulation as alcohol and morphine, sometimes being held responsible for sudden death from heart disease or bursting blood vessels in the cranium.

Constant exposure to noise leads to thickening of the blood vessels, degenerative heart and nervous conditions, chronic headaches, or resorting to such stimulants as alcohol and drugs. The increasing death rate among persons more than 40 years of age, Dr. Pomeroy attributes to a large extent to the increasing of nerve-destroying sounds.

Tests in industrial plants show that the worker housed in quiet surroundings is 15 to 25 per cent more efficient than the worker harassed by a number of distracting sounds which decrease concentration. White mice, exposed to the noise of city streets, showed 10 per cent less growth than mice fed the same nourishment, but protected from noise, the health official said.

Gangsters and pugnacious rowdies result from irritableness caused by the incessant noises of metropolitan cities. It is noteworthy that a majority of automobile accidents occur at the most noisy intersections, Dr. Pomeroy said, demonstrating the distraction of sound.

The outlook is optimistic, despite appearances to the public, the physician said, because the majority of city noises are preventable. Engineers' figures show that the average city street has 60 decibals (the unit of noise measurement) of noise, while the normal amount that should be inflicted upon the human ear is around 30 decibals. City noise could be reduced to 40 decibals through the co-operation of the public, industrial concerns, engineers and city officials, Dr. Pomeroy said.

Mrs. John C. Urquhart, chairman of the noise abatement committee of the Friday Morning Club, presided at the meeting and banquet. The club was commended by Dr. Pomeroy for its activity in attempting to reduce noise.

COMMITTEE TO MEET

Mayor Porter's Noise Abatement Committee will meet today at 2:30 p.m. to discuss ways of curbing unnecessary noise.

The members of the committee are N. P. Alexander of the Downtown Business Men's Association; Frank Kitson, acoustical engineer for the Johns-Manville Company; Gordon E. Nott, engineer for the Southern California Telephone Company; City Health Officer Parrish and Mrs. Ella F. Atchley, chairman of the municipal affairs committee of the Woman's City Club.

Next Wednesday the Health and Sanitation and the Public Welfare committees of the City Council will conduct a public hearing on a noise-abatement ordinance recently submitted by Councilman Williams.

CITY OFFICIAL SCORES POLICE

Royal G. Wilkie and Wife Held in Pasadena

Rough Treatment and Denial of Rights Charged

Deputy to Take Case Up to Grand Jury

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Nov. 4. (Exclusive) Charges of rough treatment at the hands of local police officers were made today by Royal G. Wilkie, deputy Los Angeles City Attorney and World War hero, following the release of himself and his wife from the City Jail, where they were lodged on joint complaints of intoxication and reckless driving this morning.

ROYAL G. WILKIE.

MRS. ROYAL G. WILKIE.

Mr. Wilkie asserted that he and his wife were sitting quietly in their automobile on South Fair Oaks avenue when Patrolman Mallonee and Lay rushed alongside them in a patrol car and shouted at him to get out of his machine.

"I asked them what the trouble was," Wilkie declared, "and their only answer was to drag me out and handcuff me. I resisted arrest because they refused to explain their actions except by profane wisecracks.

"They refused to grant my citizenship rights at the police station, denying my demand for a sobriety test and an opportunity to telephone the nurse who was caring for our children. We were not intoxicated, we were not driving and there was no liquor in the car. It may have been a case of mistaken identity, but it looks to me like a case where grand-jury investigation would be in order."

To bear out his contention of rough treatment, Wilkie pointed out that every button had been ripped from his shirt.

HERO OF WAR

After making a name for himself as the star halfback of the State championship Pasadena High School football team in 1917, Wilkie obtained a commission in the United States Aviation Corps. He was shot down in combat over the American lines in France and spent six months in a hospital. His skull was fractured and an arm and leg broken, not to mention three broken ribs.

According to arresting officers, they received a report from their radio receiving set on the police car that a man had driven along Colorado street at a mile-a-minute gait and had turned south on Fair Oaks avenue. They declared that they discovered Wilkie's automobile parked near the intersection of South Fair Oaks avenue and Glenarm street, and that it answered the description of the machine they were after.

"We had a terrible time getting Wilkie out of the car," Patrolman Lay asserted, "and found two bottles of liquor on the front seat."

POLICEMAN'S STORY

"Mrs. Wilkie, who was at the wheel, suddenly backed the machine and then headed for us so that we had to jump aside to keep from being killed. After getting her husband in the police car, we told her to drive to the police station and she did—at the rate of fifty-six miles an hour—so fast we couldn't catch up to her."

Capt. Hugh Morgan, head of the uniformed police division, declared that the patrolmen were acting within their rights in declining to grant Wilkie a sobriety test and an opportunity to telephone friends. The police captain declared that any police officer should be able to determine whether or not his prisoners are drunk without any sobriety examination.

After being kept in the City Jail for eight hours, Mr. and Mrs. Wilkie were released on bail and ordered to appear in Police Court tomorrow at 9 a.m. They reside at 532 Plymouth Road, San Marino.

BURNS MAY PROVE FATAL FOR CHILD

Suffering probable fatal burns, Carmen Robles, 7 years of age, of 1931 McAllister street, was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital yesterday morning. Police reported her clothes caught fire from a gas stove. She was later transferred to the General Hospital where her condition is reported as serious.

BLUE MONDAY FOUND VERITY

Monday's Arrests on Monday and Succeeding Days Cause for Blues

Shakespeare when he asked "What's in a name?" didn't know Abner Monday.

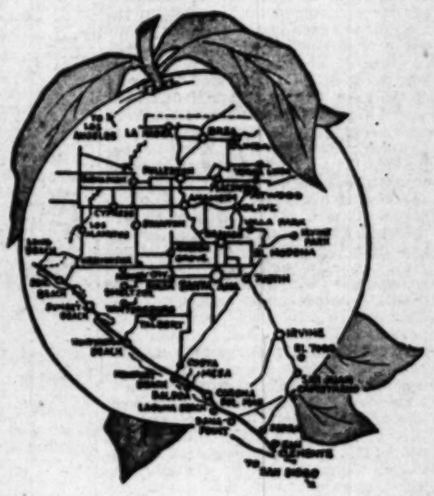
Monday, records at the Hollywood Police Station show, has been arrested seventeen times on Monday. He also has been arrested three times on Tuesday and four times on other days of the week. All the arrests have followed asserted overindulgence in forbidden liquors.

Monday was arrested Monday by Officers Welshans and Walker of the Hollywood police and booked as a habitual drunk on a vagrancy charge. He gave his age as 53 years, and his address as 1231 North Las Palmas avenue.

Changing Ideas About California Climate

Not so long ago the tourist came to Southern California only in winter. He thought our summers would be too hot. His ideas have changed, and the summer tourist crop is abundant. And all because folks everywhere have LEARNED THE TRUTH ABOUT OUR CLIMATE.

Another Idea Is Changing



Another idea is now undergoing a change—the idea that the beaches are good for summer residence, but not for winter.

The old idea was not born in California. It came from the upper Atlantic coast with its bleak, freezing winters.

CALIFORNIA IS DIFFERENT

Here is a statement made by the Chamber of Commerce of Newport Beach, an attractive coast city in Orange County:

"The proximity of the South Coast section to the ocean makes the temperature higher in winter and lower in summer, than inland. The average minimum here is 50.7 degrees and the average high is 70.5 degrees."

How About the Investment

Let the Following Facts from Just a Few Orange County Coast Cities Tell the Story

And picturesque San Clemente. A flower of Old Spain transplanted to the Pacific Coast. You must see San Clemente to appreciate it. Its buildings are delightfully Spanish in architecture. The main boulevard is being widened to 100 feet, brilliantly lighted; an expenditure of $150,000. The new sewer system is complete at a cost of $376,000.

But one cannot tell all about these eight or ten coast communities in an advertisement. There is the development at Capistrano Beach, where the Doheny interests will spend millions to make it another Orange County beauty spot.

At Laguna Beach. Laguna, home of the artists, whose souls are intrigued by its charm. Laguna, also, is growing rapidly. A new $160,000 hotel is its latest improvement.

Newport-Balboa with its new $400,000 high school. With its building permits for 1930 reaching above $1,000,000. With its marvelous bay, destined some day to become a great harbor.

Huntington Beach—with a half million dollars in the city treasury, is adding 500 feet extension to its great pier. $100,000 will be spent in street work. $10,000 in lighting and plans for a new hotel.

Other places there are—Sunset Beach and Seal Beach. Costa Mesa, a mile or so back from the ocean and San Juan Capistrano with its historic mission.

Today's Bible Text

I have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first love. Remember therefore, from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent.—Rev. ii:4, 5.

GALACTIC
The galactic universe is now announced to be hundreds of quadrillions o' miles smaller than supposed. Possibly it has just adopted the Hollywood diet.

RIPENED YEARS
There are no limitations in wedlock. Here was a couple married the other day in which the bride and groom are each beyond 80 years of age. It is also noted that each had been married more than fifty years to a former partner. There is room for reminiscence.

NEW PHOTOGRAPHY
A professor of the University of Illinois has been showing the American Chemical Society an entirely new X-ray tube which can take photographs of atoms and other bric-a-brac in a few seconds. Some of the same pictures used to call for exposures of upward of 100 hours. It is not yet known what the results may be, but the discovery is a highly important one.

PRACTICE THRIFT
A Harvard professor of economy says that if everybody in the land was able to save 10 per cent of his annual earnings there would be no terror of unemployment. But if there are no earnings, what happens? If a man has been getting $5000 and saving $500 a year he can pull through, but if a man has been able to garner only about $40 a month he will have some trouble in backing the wolf off the front porch.

LAYERS OF CIVILIZATION
Explorers from the Chicago University, who have been digging deep in the ancient land of the Hittites, are said to have come upon no less than ten layers of civilization, harking back to the dawn of time. This is a couple more layers than have been disclosed in other delvings and leads to the larger wonder why the ancients should have piled up on top of one another in this careless fashion. Maybe they wanted to continue the use of the family cellar.

TELL THE TRUTH
Now the New York Stock Exchange is promising discipline and punishment for members and brokers who are found guilty of spreading gossip and evil rumors calculated to depress the value of stocks. It is hard to make a distinction between bulls and bears, but the exchange is almost doing it. It isn't so much of a crime to circulate stories that will tend to advance prices. But the guy who stretches the truth in order to run down the value of any listed shares is going to be jumped on.

KEEPING THE MIND ACTIVE
A novel question was asked by Dr. Charles H. Mayo recently at the convention of the American College of Surgeons. What is the good of extending the span of life, as science is now doing, if the brain cannot be kept alert?

There seems to be little question that the average life span is being lengthened. Some scientists say that the expectancy of life at birth is now more than fifty-five years, while twenty or thirty years ago it was but thirty-five. Dr. Mayo says that people undoubtedly will be able to live longer than formerly in the next century. But he asks if there is any advantage in attaining the age of 90 if the mind becomes inactive at 70?

"We see scores of people in institutions and homes," says Dr. Mayo, "in their second childhood, merely vegetating, just like trees, possessed of strong bodies, but with brains that are almost through functioning. Until we teach them how to live so that their brains will continue to function there is little use in increasing the life span."

Of course there have been notable exceptions to this mind feebleness of old age, among living examples being Thomas A. Edison, Justice O. W. Holmes, Elihu Root, Cyrus H. Curtis and Dr. Thomas Masaryk, all over 80 and with keenly alert brains. Their experience shows that if the intellect is whetted by daily use in a proper way there is no need for the mind to fail in fuctioning before the body loses its vigor.

FOUR ANGLES OF A PROBLEM
Yesterday's newspapers contained four news articles bearing directly and with considerable force upon the greatest of our national problems, that of crime. One was Al Capone's impudent attempt to make terms with the law in Chicago, one the execution of a gangster in a Newark (N. J.) hospital, one the report of a child-welfare committee at Washington that crime and juvenile delinquency cost $16,000,000,000 a year and one the slaying of a bank bandit on a Los Angeles street with the proceeds of a robbery—the third in three years of that particular branch bank—clutched in his grasp. Two of these articles may be said to state the problem; the other two indicate effective remedial measures.

Capone's brazen offer, one which, a few years back, would have caused gasps of amazement at its effrontery, was to cease his leadership of union labor racketeering in Cook county in return for the dismissal of the only criminal charge pending against him, that of vagrancy, and a free hand in the beer business. Chief Justice McGoorty of the Cook County Criminal Court reported the offer to the grand jury and added—an addition which ought not to have been necessary—that it was not being considered. Not even Chicago is ready to surrender to its most conspicuous, if not most powerful, crime baron. It may not put Capone in jail, where he plainly belongs, but at least it may save itself the shame of tacit approval of his activities. No doubt a compromise with Capone would have been the cheapest and easiest way out, assuming that he would have kept his part of the bargain, but it would have involved such a costly moral sacrifice that the money saving could not be weighed in the balance against it.

Only slightly less brazen was the action of the Newark gunmen who sought their victim out on his hospital cot and put an end to him before nurses and attendants discovered what was going on. This incident has its precedents. Gangsters have similarly been slain in other cities, and in New York it was found necessary to remove the wounded "Legs" Diamond to an island in the East River to protect him from his enemies, hospitals on the mainland declining the responsibility of his safety.

While one may be somewhat suspicious of the estimate of $16,000,000,000 a year as the cost of crime (the amount is about a fifth of the national income) there is no doubt whatever that the real figure is enormous. If the average criminal amounts to a debit against society of $16,000 a year, as this committee estimates, it must be plain to anyone that drastic measures are justified. The annual expenditure of $5,000,000,000 in child welfare work is small in comparison. This expenditure, the committee believes, benefits 50,000,000 young people, and to the extent that it tends to keep down criminality is evidently a splendid investment, considered from an investment standpoint alone—as of course it should not be. The committee, of course, does not estimate that $16,000 a year is the average criminal's income; it presumably includes the cost of criminal courts, police, jails, penitentiaries and other protective devices together with the monetary damage done by criminals. The "overhead" of crime, considered as a business, is extraordinarily high, and the net returns very small. There is such a vast amount of inaccuracy necessarily involved in calculations of this character that the committee might have done better to hasard no guess at a total, even in the roundest of numbers. But the figure may serve to give emphasis, though the cost does not genuinely matter. Crime is crime- and certainly is immensely costly to society, whatever the precise figures.

The report as to remedial suggestions is not in detail. Doubtless when it is produced before the child-welfare conference soon to meet, it will recommend educative measures and moral training as the best correctives. It is suggested that city planning commissions can do much by insisting upon parks and playgrounds in real estate developments. But most juvenile delinquency—and this, of course, tends toward adult crime—originates, the committee finds, in run-down neighborhoods. The rehabilitation of these is of extraordinary difficulty, but not impossible.

A complete solution, so far as one individual criminal was concerned, was furnished by the Los Angeles police in the case of John Steindl a few seconds after he had obtained $1000 from a branch bank at the point of a gun Monday morning. Another such case or so and the present epidemic of bank robbery in this city will disappear with great suddenness. Such actions by police are a more effective object lesson to the criminal world than jailing. Detectives Woolman and Malina were entirely justified in taking no chances with an armed enemy.

INDEMNITIES AND SCHOLARSHIPS
Two prominent eductors, Dr. Philip G. Neserius of the University of New Hampshire and Dr. Emerson P Schmidt of the University of Minnesota, have made public a suggestion they have forwarded to Congress that scholarships be established for European students in American universities out of the war-debt payment funds received by the United States Treasury. They cite the scholarships established with the Boxer indemnity funds as precedent and suggest the allocation of $1,500,000 yearly for 1000 scholarships of $1500 each.

The parallel between the Boxer indemnity fund and the European war debts is a poor one. The Boxer indemnity was an admitted overpayment for the losses that was used to establish scholarships. The European war debts represent a fraction of money actually borrowed and, morally owing, whether collectible or not. If the United States set aside any portion of these receipts for a scholarship plan, it would be construed in Europe as admission that, as in the Chinese case, the bill of the United States was artificially high, whereas the contrary is the fact. Whatever argument there may be for cancellation, in whole or in part, of these war debts, there can be no admission on the part of this country of such an untruth. A plausible case may perhaps be made out for not collecting, but none for denying that a legitimate debt exists.

In addition, Europe has excellent educational institutions of her own and the offering of scholarships in American institutions might be considered somewhat patronizing. There was no modern education to be had in China. A preferable plan would be one for an exchange of students, somewhat as an exchange of professors is now provided. The American people have something to learn as well as to teach and a candid admission of the fact would be beneficial all around. While the idea has certain merits, its linking with the war debt situation would be unfortunate. If Congress is to finance an exchange of students it should do so out of regular revenues, and let the war debt payments be applied to reduction of war debt.

TOOTS AND SHOOTS
A noise-abatement ordinance has been submitted to the Council and has been committed for investigation and meditation.

This is a somewhat belated effort on the part of our city dads to curb the racket and rescue the nerves. When the roosters crow up the sun and street hawkers cry aloud, a visitor might suspect himself among the sticks.

New York recently engaged in a successful campaign against the hubbub and whoopee of her inhabitants. The machine age has not had a tendency to quietude. Screech, rattle and bang are the peculiar accompaniments of enginery. Bedlam has been reduced to a minimum in Gotham.

Some local noises singled out to be silenced are the blaring of trumpets to sell wares, playing hand organs, blowing automobile horn needlessly, shooting firearms and firecrackers, operating noisy engines, the scream and clang of street cars and vehicles with radios for publicity purposes.

Other sounds that might become targets at which to shoot are motor-cop mufflers, ambulance sirens when not racing for patients, police patrol sirens for scamps that are in no hurry to reach the hoosegow.

It may not be easy to put the kibosh on all these nuisances; but an honest effort to reduce the crimes of jangle and bang would not only prolong life, but encourage religion. It would be interesting for some scientist to make tests and find out how much energy is wasted in senseless sounds. Officials filled with a sense of importance who rush around disturbing the peace they are supposed to compel others to keep ought to be dehorned and beheaded. Giving swift and safe conduct with noisy signals through the streets to various parties out for a joy ride does not add to the comfort and peace of the vast majority of the people.

Springs, rubber tires, mufflers and smooth streets are going far toward eliminating the din. But some humans who are always blowing their own need to be dehorned.

NO HARM IN ASKING
By James J. Montague

(Japanese farmers have appealed to their government for aid)

I have gazed at the miniature charms
And the myriad picturesque scenes
Of a number of Japanese farms—
I mean in the new magazines.
And I always have thought that the bucolic Jap
Who could not be calm and contented
Upon such a Utopian spot on the map
Must be either stone blind or demented.

I am rather a calm-minded man,
From emotion I'm commonly free,
Yet the cows and the cats of Japan
Can get a real rise out of me.
One would think that a farmer who spent all his days
Where the Goddess of Gardens is reigning
And whose every path leads through flowery ways
Would discover small cause for complaining.

Yet the farmers, exactly like ours,
Of late have been loud in their grief.
In spite of their fruits and their flowers
They are shouting their need of relief.
No boll weevils gnaw at their tender young plants,
Yet they clamor for government action,
No corn-borers gather their crops in advance,
But they're still filled with dissatisfaction.

But I never have followed the plow,
Nor tended the sheep or the shoats.
I never have curried a cow
Or planted an acre of oats.
And I fancy, if I were a farmer myself
And so little my industry made me
That I hadn't a dollar laid up on the shelf,
I'd appeal to the nation to aid me.

The LEE SIDE O' LA
By Lee Shippey

"WHAT!" we thought, "have talking pictures really progressed to grand opera?"

We were walking through the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio when suddenly a glorious outburst of song came from the building we were passing. It was singing the part of Scarpia in "La Tosca." And we recognized the voice. For there's only one voice in the world like that: Lawrence Tibbett's.

Then we realized that the voice was not coming from a so-called sound-proof studio, but from Lawrence's dressing-room. We turned inquiringly to our companion, Clarence Locan. Clarence grinned.

"Lawrence sings in his dressing-room and even under the shower," he said. "He has to. He's been working hard here every day for weeks and he leaves for New York November 5 to sing with the Metropolitan again. He'll have to sing a dozen different roles during the season, and Lawrence is far too intelligent a young man not to keep himself in first-class shape. He realizes that his appearance in motion pictures has brought a new audience to grand opera and feels his obligation not to disappoint those new people. Since he appeared in 'The Rogue Song' hundreds of people who used to shy away from grand opera have attended every opera performance in which he sang. In Baltimore the biggest crowd that ever attended grand opera turned out to hear Tibbett. Everywhere he went the same interest of new people was noticeable. In New York he appeared twice in the dullest week of the season, and those two performances were crowded, and for the first time hundreds of people were at the stage door to see him come out—though he had been a grand opera star for six years before that. Lawrence isn't going to disappoint those folks. In voice and in appearance he is more pleasing than ever."

Opera-Talkies Co-operation

Clarence was right. We went in, when the song ended, and never had seen Lawrence looking so well. He is as careful of his magnificent body as he is of his glorious voice. He is in better physical trim right now, we believe, than is Jack Dempsey. Success brings artists to easy self-indulgence, but Lawrence has too great a sense of obligation to his public. Being called the world's greatest baritone isn't enough for him. He works steadily to make himself better and keeps physically fit as part of his job.

And what he is doing for both talking pictures and grand opera is worth considering. Not only do thousands of people who see him first in pictures want to hear him in real opera, but thousands who have been stirred by his singing in opera have realized that motion pictures are getting up in the world, culturally, when they feature such stars.

Two-Sided Uplift

"This closer union between pictures and opera is going to be good for both," Lawrence told us. "The new public that each has secured by it must be considered. Motion pictures are, above all, realistic. Opera is a high convention, anything but realistic. Already opera is being made more natural. When I first sang in 'The Girl of the Golden West' I was directed to be a crouching and stealthy sheriff who opened a door an inch at a time and then thrust in his gun at arm's length ahead of his body. Being the son of a western sheriff, I couldn't do that. I flung the door open suddenly and stood there with my gun on my hip, so as to be able to cover any part of the room by a quick turn of the wrist. There is growing realization among grand opera producers that opera must be made more logical, more true to life, or this new audience of picture lovers is going to laugh at it. On the other hand, picture producers are realizing that the new audience of opera lovers now taking interest in pictures must be given real quality and art, or they will laugh at pictures.

"Undoubtedly screen opera will come before long, but it will have to be opera in our own tongue and reasonable enough to satisfy an audience trained to expect realism from the screen. The talking screen may be the means of developing a new kind of grand opera, artistic enough for the highbrow yet understandable enough to be really popular. Opera never has been really popular in this country. People have attended it as a matter of duty, or for fear they would be thought uncultured if they didn't or because they would be classed as out of society if they were not seen there. What we need is opera people will love for itself alone. The talking screen will send a new audience to opera, and if they get that kind of opera they will be converts. The appearance of stars of the spoken drama and of opera in pictures is bringing new audiences to pictures, but unless they are given satisfying art they will not come back. Important changes, good for both, are taking place in both lines of art. They tell me that in Spain a bullfight today is conducted as bullfights were centuries ago, but opera in America does not have to be a thing of such sacred tradition. The great hope for opera here lies in change—and growth."

Ethiopiums

In the meantime, Lawrence has just finished making a picture, "The Southerner," in which he sings "The Glory Road" in a way which will make 1,000,000 picture fans long to see and hear him in person It's a plantation picture in which an extremely interesting new local organization will make its bow to the public. This is called the Ethopian Etude Chorus, organized and directed by a negro woman who knows both her music and her race. It is one of the most melodious choruses we ever heard and so genuine that some of its members call themselves Ethiopiums.

THE PLOT THAT FAILED
BY EUGENE BROWN

During the early days of November about all we have here is an election in which the citizens laboriously study a ballot about the size of a garage door in order to determine some details of the government they are to have.

But in England for more than two centuries the 5th of November was regularly recalled as the anniversary of the famous gunpowder plot, which rocked a nation, even though the powder was never touched off.

Many of the Britons called the anniversary Guy Fawkes's day and it was reminiscent of that 5th of November, 1605, when King James wandered into the subcellar of the House of Lords and found this Guy serving as custodian of some thirty barrels of black gunpowder which was about to be shot off with the purpose of blowing his majesty and the British Parliament into shreds. It was to be a real clean-up and pave the way for an entirely new government.

But instead of that Guy was pinched by the law and the country was merely shocked to its foundations by an exposure and not an explosion. Fawkes was tortured and executed, as were practically all of the dozen or more conspirators who had by this time been admitted to the plot.

It had been long brewing. Really this shake-up had been planned nearly a year before and the details were worked upon from time to time in a rather desultory manner. But when the thing was about ripe one of the conspirators who had a friend in the House of Lords wrote an anonymous but kindly warning urging his lordship to remain away from Parliament for a few days, as something dreadful was about to happen. The recipient of the letter was supposed to keep silent, but he nevertheless undertook a little inquiry with some of his friends and as a result the gunpowder was discovered—the King himself being in on the play.

It would seem that the conspirators might as well have bulletined the affair. The plotters would have fared better had they been able to import a couple of pineapple artists from Chicago to do their heavy work. Those experts would have been able to blow up the whole shooting match within the span of a few hours and England might have had a new dynasty.

But the trouble was that there was no Chicago at that time and bombing had not become a fine art. So this Guy and his amateur wrecking crew merely blundered on to their fate.

As a crime it was an overwhelming fizzle, but the English people took a few weeks off to hang and quarter the conspirators and to thank heaven for preserving their king and his parliament.

TRAVEL IN ENGLAND
BY SUZANNE PENKOFF

The railways in England are fighting a losing battle for patronage, according to students of conditions there. The busses are responsible for this plight of the railways. In England motor transport has found wide favor with the public, both for passenger and freight service. The splendid roads, excellent busses and general cheapness appeal to the traveling Britisher. The visitor to the British Isles can now visit scenes and those lovely winding lanes that were out of his beaten track before, thanks to the busses.

While the motor transport has struck the railways a body blow, it has injected new life into an ancient but failing British institution. The old inns, famous in song and story and travelers' tales as well, were about to close up for lack of patronage. But the crowds that came to formerly unfrequented localities via these more modern conveyances, have gladdened the heart and filled the pocketbook of mine host. Visitors to England who have not been there for some years, will be charmed to learn that they can now wander leisurely over out-of-the-way countryside and stay at inns that still retain their Elizabethan flavor. One man's loss is another man's gain.

EMPTYING THE DRAGNET
Every morning at 9 o'clock in New York City's police headquarters the catch of the police dragnet of the preceding day is emptied for inspection by local and visiting detectives. This show is officially known as the "line-up." Ten spotlights flood a narrow stage. Below, and in comparative darkness, sit the plain clothesmen. The deputy chief inspector mounts a small platform and faces the stage. He speaks into a microphone, his voice reverberating metallically. The "line-up" suspects are ordered upon the stage, where the deputy inspector charges them, one by one, with present and past derelictions. As a culprit is addressed a microphone is shifted in front of his face and his words roar mightily through the room. It's an ordeal for a nervous man.

German Feminists Gain
Although the feminist movement is less vocal in Germany than in some other countries it continues to make substantial progress Much attention is being given to the education of girls and women, not only in household matters but in training that fits them for all the many professions opens to them. One of the most popular institutions of the kind is the Lette-Verein, Berlin, which has been leading in feminist education for half a century. The principal, Dr. Lily Hauffm, is a leading figure in the feminine world of Germany.

Hoover From Swiss Stock
Researches of a German genealogist indicate that the ancestors of President Hoover lived, some 200 years ago, in the Swiss Canton of Bern. From here Andreas Huber born in 1723, came to the New World to become Andrew Hoover, it seems.

Cotton-Pickers' Pay
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I read with interest a letter from a Mr. Frank Owen, representing the Independent Cotton and Oil Company, regarding cotton pickers in today's Times.

Being one of the thousands of job hunters I feel I can reply to his letter. Weeks ago, when the call first came out for cotton pickers I went down to the Federal government employment office to get information regarding it. On being told the rates of pay for laborers I asked some friends who came from Virginia (as I know nothing about cotton picking) about how much a person could pick in a day. From what they told me and also another friend who was raised in the cotton belt of Arizona, I figured that by working long hours I might be able to make $1.50 per day and take my board and lodging out of that.

Until the rates of pay are increased I do not see how or when they will get their laborers. Mr. Owen says that 75 cents to $1.25 per hundredweight is all they can pay. Well, we laborers have to live also.

Street Beggars
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—[To the Editor of The Times:] There is now a drive for funds for the Community Chest for about $3,000,000. This should be enough to provide for all persons deserving charity. Beggars should not be allowed to further tax the people by their appeals, some of which no doubt are fraudulent. Every case should be investigated by the officials, and the deserving should be sent to the charitable institutions which are maintained for that purpose. The impostors should be jailed.

These beggars parade the crowded streets. They mostly parade in front of the large stores where shoppers are most numerous, thus blocking the streets, which are at all times overcrowded. Most of these panhandlers come from the frozen East, as there are more begging days in a year and the hours are longer and the people more easily imposed upon.

The crowds of beggars on the streets do not speak well for this city from an outside view. Yet, it gives about $3,000,000 a year to charity. J. M. S.

Echo of Clean-Up Week
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Your paper can do a great deal to help the unemployment situation by running a strenuous campaign, urging the city to enforce its laws regarding cleaning up the dirty, unsanitary and glass-strewn lots, especially all along Wilshire and adjacent streets. The city can improve its pride to strangers in our midst and many poor people will find some work.

Trusting that you will start the ball rolling and assuring myself of your full success, I am your subscriber.
JOSEPH MANN.

Sober Thinking Needed
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 31.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Permit me to express my appreciation for your editorial entitled, "In the Dry Light of Reason," appearing in your issue of October 19 of this year.

So far as I am informed, your paper is one of the very few metropolitan dailies which supports prohibition, both editorially and in the news columns.

Your leadership in this matter is sane and intelligent and is especially needed at this time to assist in resisting the onslaughts now being made against the Eighteenth Amendment.

Most of the opponents to the amendment are inspired by selfish interests, but some of their arguments are so plausible and adroitly presented that well-intentioned people are beginning to express doubt regarding the soundness of our prohibition legislation.

A thoughtful consideration of the question leaves no room for doubt, but in these busy times of stress, few of us have time to think.

Again, expressing my appreciation for your consistent advocacy of law enforcement and particularly with reference to prohibition, I am sincerely yours,
ARTHUR W. ECKMAN.

JUDGE KNEW BOYS
On a recent morning when Magistrate Reit opened court in New York City there appeared Herman Kaminsky, 12 years of age, who charged that James Madison, 19, had stolen his Spitz dog Tootsie six months before, and still had him. James, with the dog on a leash, denied the charge just as stoutly. The magistrate ordered the dog released and told Herman to call him. The animal leaped up on the boy wagging his tail with the speed of a flywheel. Then James was told to call him. The dog bounded to the older boy, licking his hand, but wagging his tail appreciably less. "He appears to have more affection for you, Herman," said the judge. "I believe he is your dog. Take him home. James, I find you guilty, but suspend sentence. Next case."

Why Shaw Is Solvent
George Bernard Shaw, replying to a request to contribute to the Bournemouth Little Theater, which is to cost $100,000, declares that he made a vow early in life never to put a farthing into any form of public entertainment, especially theatrical entertainment. "Hence my present solvency," he postcards. He adds, however, that if he were to break his vow it would be for a theater with a vast auditorium and low prices, for, he asserts, "the bijou theater has been the ruin of the drama and really athletic acting."

PEN POINTS

England's troubles are similar to America's, except they aren't home made.

Now another preacher says civilization is coming to an end. If only he'd tell which end.

A girl doesn't really make a fool of any man. She merely allows nature to take its course.

The world now has almost every kind of government except the kind they promised us.

RIPPLING RHYMES
by Walt Mason

TOO LAZY TO FIGHT
I never was too proud to fight, but I have always been too lazy to scrap around, with might and might, to me seems crazy. I know a man who's quick to scrap, no armored knight is ever bolder; a challenge he will clap upon his map, he hits it upon his shoulder. He's me, "Come out of doors, old matter we must settle, for will cover you with scars, I find if you have any." Perhaps I show a craven streak when I refuse to seek the fray and have him yank me apart, while dead game sports are keeping tally. But I refuse to do hard work unless drawing seemly wages, confess I am a shirk of duty up men's battle stages. All energy's required to prop the head of some strong man, and when I'm winded, worn and tired, what is the gain to me my labor? Who pays me for my honest sweat that I have lost while swatting noses? Is whipping some one pay a raise or make my lot a bed of roses? Professionals may well pay for slugging other thinkers; there's nothing in it for private jay except bruises and blackened blinkers. The living in my neighborhood gladly pay me useful money when they saw their piles of wood, to herd their cows or gather honey. They'll pay me promptly, pay me well, when I am toiling sanely, neatly; but in the local B. & L. I deposit rubies weekly. Who would pay me for the scars which I sometimes am wearing? Who'd pay me for my battle map, and for my peace so blighted?

CITY HARBOR ENGINEER MARRIES

G. F. Nicholson and Widow Go to Altar

Mrs. Enola M. Cossart and George F. Nicholson

WEDDING ceremonies at Angeles Mesa Presbyterian Church, Baldwin Hills, yesterday united George F. Nicholson, 47 years of age, one of the nation's outstanding harbor engineers, with Mrs. Enola M. Cossart, 31. The services, attended only by immediate relatives, were read by Rev. T. P. Smith.

Mr. Nicholson has been associated with the Los Angeles Harbor Department as port engineer since 1924. Previously he held a similar position with the port of Seattle. He is a lieutenant-commander in the United States Naval Reserve and a graduate of the class of 1906 at Rose Polytechnic Institute.

Fayette Fisbeck Nicholson, Mr. Nicholson's former wife, died in 1926 after a long illness. He has three children, Dorothy, 16 years of age; Donald, 13, and Norman, 11. Mrs. Cossart has one son, Benjamin, 13. She is the widow of Benjamin Cossart, Los Angeles realty dealer.

JUAN REYNA TO HEAR HIS FATE TODAY

Slayer of Police Officer Will Get Term of Two to Twenty Years in Prison

Facing a term of from two to twenty years in San Quentin Prison for the slaying of Verne Brindley, Los Angeles police officer, May 10, last, Juan O. Reyna, Mexican youth, today is to appear before Superior Judge Hardy for sentence.

Reyna was convicted of manslaughter and assault with a deadly weapon.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Bialock, who prosecuted the case, charged that Reyna seized the officer's gun and shot him to death after he had been arrested on a traffic charge.

During the trial, however, testimony was introduced by Nathan O. Freedman, defense attorney, intended to prove that Reyna was beaten over the head by the officers before he finally seized Brindley's gun and fired.

This testimony, it is believed, prevented the jury from finding Reyna guilty of murder.

At a former trial the jury failed to reach a verdict, and was discharged.

UNLICENSED BUS DRIVER GIVEN TERM

Five Days in Jail Ordered After Passenger Carrier Fails to Pay Fine

Pleading guilty to operating a wildcat bus without a license, Alfred A. Reinfried, 42 years of age, was fined $50 by Municipal Judge Bush. Reinfried, unable to pay, went to jail for five days.

Police Officer Bassett and Reynolds reported they answered an advertisement for some one to help drive to San Francisco for their fare and that Reinfried collected $6 fare and left a downtown hotel in his automobile with one of them and four other passengers. They stopped the automobile at Vermont avenue, the officers said, after being informed by the other passengers that they had each paid fare of $6.

A city ordinance requires operators of automobiles for hire to be licensed and to post a bond covering possible damages.

Official of Air Line Visits City

Jerry Marshall, operations manager of the Southern Air Fast Express division of American Airways, Inc., is in Los Angeles on a monthly trip of inspection. Marshall, whose headquarters are in Dallas, expressed himself as highly pleased with the reception accorded his reception here, and said predictions made prior to opening of the Los Angeles-Atlanta route have been more than borne out by actual operations.

"It usually takes a new line from thirty to sixty days to reach the point of efficient operation," he said, "but the normal conditions along this southern route are so favorable that at the end of fifteen days we find ourselves clicking along with nearly perfect precision."

Marshall, who is accompanied by Mrs. Marshall, will be at the Ambassador until tomorrow.

BUSINESS DIALS OFF BLUES

Chamber of Commerce's Monthly Review Reports Improvement in Southland Conditions

The low point of depression in business conditions has passed and improvement henceforth will rest largely in the hands of executive leaders, according to the monthly Southwest Business Review, issued yesterday by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Intelligent salesmanship coupled with dealer helps to the distributor and more courteous attention to customer requirements will produce splendid results, it is predicted.

Building permits for October were considerably higher than in October, 1929, the survey reveals, and the record for the month, together with that of the three preceding months, shows a definite stabilization of general employment.

ORDERS INCREASE

The wearing-apparel industry is working on volume orders, according to the review, the furniture industry is keeping busy on current orders, with conditions improving steadily, and the motion-picture studios are preparing programs entailing heavy employment and expenditures.

Increased activity by city, county and State agencies in the construction of public improvements has been a strong factor in supporting the general construction business, the report states. These improvements do not require building permits but must be considered in any analysis of building-permit figures.

BETTER OUTLOOK

There is a general outlook for more construction during this month and December, according to Melville Dozier, Jr., manager of the Southern California chapter of the Associated General Contractors, whose statement appears in the review. A number of large projects are being pushed, and every effort is being made to get street improvements and other public works under way.

Stock exchange transactions for October were marked by an increase of $1,500,000 in volume over September, indicating a general strengthening of local security markets, and renewed confidence on a firmer basis.

IMPORTS GAIN

The volume of commerce passing through Los Angeles Harbor during October aggregated nearly 2,250,000 tons, which is considerably above the average and a slight increase over that of September. While exports showed a decrease over those of October, 1929, imports totaled 75,000 tons and $5,000,000 in value, making the month one of the highest on record.

Industrial development for the month includes purchases of plant and factory sites by Rheem Manufacturing Company, Inc., sheet metal products, and Philadelphia Quartz Company; general expansion by Standard Brands of California; Vernon Tool Company, Ltd.; Los Angeles Lighting Fixture Supply Company; Taylor & Watson, Ltd.; Sand-Art Studios, Ltd.; American Company, Ltd.; Supreme Aluminum Foundry; United States Rubber Company, through affiliation with the Samson Tire and Rubber Company of Los Angeles; Edison General Electric Appliance Company, Inc., Ontario; R.-K.-O. Studios, Inc.; Inca Manufacturing Company; Overhead Door Company; Western Metalcrafts Company, Inc.; Ganzel Manufacturing Company; Limoneira Company, Santa Paula; C. U. McClellan Corporation, Ltd.; Copra Oil and Meal Company; United States Porcelain Enamel Company; Exchange Lemon Products Company, Corona; Southern California Waste Materials, Inc., and Empire China Company of Burbank.

DAYLIGHT BANDITS GET SMALL SUMS

Three Stores Robbed in Quick Succession, One in Dime-Novel Manner

Three daylight hold-ups of stores and markets were reported in quick succession yesterday.

Three boys, none more than 18 years of age, flourished revolvers and terrorized three departments of the private market at 2613 West Slauson avenue. From Earl Matthis, the butcher, they took $42; from G. W. Senno, grocer, $15, and from W. H. Gardner, salesman making a delivery of cheese, $41. They then locked the three men in the washroom and escaped in an old automobile.

The next hold-up was at the Children's Salvage Company 712 Maple avenue. Mrs. S. M. Newmark, cashier, lost $8 to a bandit who is said to be Edward Scott, 34, recent arrival from Texas, who was trailed to an apartment at 1105 East Seventh street and arrested.

Detective Lieutenants Miller and Thomason, who made the arrest, declare Scott fits the description of a bandit who has been operating extensively in the Georgia-street district for a month.

In the third hold-up a bandit with a pistol in each hand made a dime-novel entrance into the grocery store at 1349 Wilshire Boulevard and took $35 from J. H. Boyer and his brother, the proprietors.

Rails to Slash Christmas Fares

Rail fares from California, Arizona and Nevada to all eastern territory are to be reduced during the Christmas holidays, officials announced yesterday. Round-trip tickets to Chicago, St. Louis, Memphis, New Orleans, Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Washington may be purchased for a fare and one-third, from December 16 to 20, inclusive, the return portion being good until January 15, 1931.

Stopovers will be allowed at all points.

DREAD PEST INFESTATION PREVENTED

Quarantine Station Men Find Japanese Beetles and Larvae in Autos

Importance of border quarantine stations in the protection of California crops from pests is emphasized by G. H. Hecke, director of the State Department of Agriculture, in a report to Gov. Young, in which he tells of several interceptions of Japanese beetles.

"A number of live larvae of this insect pest were taken from the soil about the roots of plants at the Yermo station," said Director Hecke. "The plants were being transported by an automobile tourist and undoubtedly would have been responsible for the establishment of an infestation of the beetle within the State."

More larvae was taken from soil at the Daggett station, Hecke said. Earlier in the season, he continued, two adult beetles were shaken from a coat carried in an automobile which had come direct from New Jersey.

Director Hecke said that the new Yuma inspection station to be maintained by the department jointly with the Department of Public Works will soon be completed and opened. The station, he said, will serve as a model for future stations at permanent inspection points.

Eastman Buys Hollywood Lot for $250,000

Purchase by George L. Eastman and F. A. Hartwell from A. E. Boyce, of the northeast corner of Vine street and Yucca avenue for $250,000, was reported yesterday. Eastman is a former president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and Hartwell is president of the Hartwell Publishing Company.

The lot has a ninety-eight-foot frontage on Yucca by 165 feet on Vine. The Harold G. Ferguson Corporation negotiated the sale, which was said to establish a price record for property in that vicinity. The 1919 assessed valuation of the lot was $2980.

New Residence Scene of Suicide

Twenty-four hours after moving into an apartment at 1445 Beverly Glen Boulevard, Mrs. Anna Fuhrer, 55 years of age, shot herself through the heart, police reported yesterday.

Ill health is believed to have been the cause.

KERSEY WILL SPEAK

Night Worker Wins Divorce

Night life lured his wife while he did night work, Carl Jorgensen complained in getting a divorce from Violet Jorgensen, on file yesterday in Superior Judge Yankwich's court. The husband asserted cruelty.

"I work at night and when I was at work she would go out with other men," testified Jorgensen, a machinist. "She displayed a bracelet and a ring given her by other men. She told me preferred these gifts to things I gave her."

Judge Yankwich granted him a divorce.

Of Interest to Women

Society

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

The marriage of Miss Geraldine Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Kelly of Princeton avenue, Salt Lake City, to Lieut. Richard M. Oliver, U.S.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Oliver of Van Buren, Ark., was solemnized last Saturday, the ceremony taking place at 7 o'clock in the evening in the Wee Kirk o' The Heather, Glendale, with Chaplain Parks of the U.S.S. Tennessee officiating.

The lovely bride was charming in gown of ivory satin, semiprincess model with long circular skirt, the veil of tulle held in place by a cap of lace and she carried a shower of white sweet peas and butterfly rosebuds.

Miss Maurine Kelly, maid of honor, wore seagreen satin with hat of black velvet while Miss Ida Mae Hulen was in gold satin with hat of black velvet, Miss Jean Jobe Johnson was in tea green satin with hat of black velvet, and Miss Florence Kelly in pink satin with black velvet hat, all carrying armfuls of pastel shades of sweet peas and roses.

Lieut. James Voit served his brother officer as best man, and Lieuts. William Allen, Monte Price, Valdemar Peterson and Fritz Harbecker ushered and formed the archway of sabers beneath which the bridal party passed from the church after the ceremony.

The bride was graduated from University of Southern California and is a member of Chi Omega Sorority at University of Utah, while Lieut. Oliver was graduated from the naval academy at Annapolis and is detailed with the Pacific Fleet aboard the U.S.S. Tennessee.

After a wedding supper at the Hollywood Roosevelt for twenty-five guests Lieut. and Mrs. Oliver left for a motor honeymoon to British Columbia and will make their home in Coronado after their return.

At U.C.L.A.

Alpha Chi chapter of Alpha Chi Omega Sorority held an inspiring initiation ceremony at the chapter house. An impressive formal banquet followed at which Mrs. Hazel Otto was the guest of the evening, and Rebecca Brandt was toastmistress. The decorations were carried out in the colors of the sorority, scarlet and green. The new initiates honored were the Misses Elinor Courtney, Betty Barklew, Helen Knox, and Virginia Wood.

Honoring the pledges initiated Saturday, the 18th ult., the advisory board of Delta chapter of Pi Beta Phi Sorority entertained with a delightful picnic supper at the chapter house. Initiated were the Misses Mary Elizabeth Campbell, Ruth Ann Walker, Dorothy Welbourn, Dorothy Cannon Davis and Lorraine Smith.

Beta Delta chapter of Alpha Phi Sorority held initiation ceremony recently at the chapter house in Westwood. A charmingly appointed luncheon followed, at which the initiates honored were the Misses Carolyn Bowker, Margaret Pinkney, Virginia Dee, Claire Ramseur and Helen Van Brunt. The Alpha Phi colors of Bordeaux and silver were beautifully carried out in the decorations, which were in charge of Miss Marjorie Thorson.

Honoring the parents of the active members, the pledges of Alpha Phi chapter of Alpha Chi Omega Sorority entertained with a charming formal tea at the chapter house. The delightful affair was in charge of Miss Polly White, assisted by Miss Virginia Burgess, Miss Alice Wheatley and Miss Marion Schlegal.

Entertaining active members, the pledges of Alpha Chi chapter of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority gave a formal dance at the chapter house Saturday evening. A futuristic motif was featured at the affair, which was in charge of Miss Rhoda Tracy.

Pledge hostesses are the Misses Constance Dennison, Sylvia Hopper, Dorothy Simpson, Dorothy Christensen, Dorothy Graybill, Elizabeth Tomy, Elizabeth Kiehl, Dorothy Roberts, Barbara Nichols, Mildred Banks, Maxine Koffman, Marion Edlund, Jacqueline Wood, Doris Charleton, Katherine Rutzel and Betty Jane Hunt.

Holding their traditional ceremony, Theta Pi chapter of Delta Delta Delta initiated at the chapter house the Misses Esther Bulpitt, Mary Quinn, Alic Murphy, Carolyn Woolcott and Norabelle Hifflin. A formal banquet, with Miss Eleanor Dow in charge followed the ceremony.

Alpha Sigma chapter of Delta Gamma Sorority initiated at a beautiful, solemn ceremony recently at the chapter house, the Misses Helen Dunn, Louise Knudsen, Barbara Hardacre and Mary Ellen Firmin. Bronze, pink and blue, the colors of the sorority, were carried out in the exquisite decorations at the formal banquet, held at the University Club, which immediately followed, with Miss Beth Moreno in charge.

In celebration of Founder's Day, alumnae, members and pledges of Beta Epsilon chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority, were entertained at a formal banquet recently at the chapter house in Westwood. A special meeting was held immediately after the affair.

Decorations were carried out in the sorority colors of turquoise and gray. A brief after-dinner speech was given by Miss Grace Harper, a charter member of the chapter, and Miss Lois Watson, president, presided.

Gamma Xi of Kappa Kappa Gamma on the U.C.L.A. campus held initiation ritual recently at its chapter house, 744 Hilgard avenue.

The new wearers of the gold key, which distinguishes members of Kappa Kappa Gamma are Misses Mary Louise Frances, Elizabeth Newland, Patricia Stimson, Ida Hull Lloyd, Dorothy Hamilton, Elizabeth Palmer, Barbara Van Brunt and Dorothy Baumgarten.

Miss Dorothy Davida made all arrangements for the banquet honoring the initiates, which followed the ceremony. Traditional shades of blue and the fluer-de-lis, as the sorority flower, were combined in decoration.

ARMY OFFICER TO CLAIM BRIDE

Wedding Scheduled for December

[Lansing Brown studios]
Miss Julie Smith

ONE OF the smart weddings scheduled to take place December 6 at Del Monte is that of Miss Julie Smith, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Smith of 601 South Gramercy Place, and Lieut. John J. La Page, son of Mr. J. J. La Page of Birmingham, Ala. Since the announcement, many affairs have been planned for her.

Miss Smith was graduated from Girl's Collegiate and attended U. C. L. A., where she is affiliated with Chi Omega Sorority.

Lieut. La Page attended Birmingham College and was graduated from West Point in 1929. He is stationed at Monterey, where they will make their home.

Miss Smith's cousin and her husband, Lieut. and Mrs. Trapnell, who are stationed in Monterey, will be attendants at the wedding.

INVESTMENT TRUST SALES REPORTED

More than 900,000 Corporate Trust Shares have been sold during the past three weeks, John Y. Robbins, president of Administrative and Research Corporation, sponsors of the investment trust, announced yesterday. This brings the total Corporate Trust Shares outstanding in the United States and several foreign countries to well over the 10,000,000 shares mark, Mr. Robbins stated.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

Every Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

CHAYOTE AND AVOCADO SALAD

Peel three medium sized chayotes, remove the seed, and cut them in strips and then into even-sized dice. Cover the dice with boiling water, cook until tender, but not soft. Drain well, place in the ice box to chill. Peel a large avocado, cut it in half, cut the half in strips, then in dice and place in a cold bowl, add the chayotes, and mix lightly with a seasoning of salt, paprika, four tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, and eight tablespoonfuls of oil. Mound on cold lettuce covered plates, and sprinkle lightly with finely chopped chives.

APPLE COBBLER

Mix five cupfuls of peeled and diced apples with three-quarters of a cupful of sugar, two teaspoonfuls of ground cinnamon, half a teaspoonful of salt, a fourth of a teaspoonful of mace, or nutmeg, and one tablespoonful of lemon juice. Place in a deep, well-buttered baking pan, and add three tablespoonfuls of butter, broken in small pieces, and pour over a half a cupful of water, cover with a short sweetened biscuit dough, brush with melted butter, cut three slits in the top and bake in a moderate oven for twenty minutes. Pour over a syrup made by boiling three-quarters of a cupful of water with one and a half cupfuls of sugar, and one tablespoonful of grated lemon rind. Bake ten minutes longer and serve.

PAPRIKA SCHNITZEL

Heat four tablespoonfuls of butter or shortening in a saute pan, add one finely chopped onion, and cook until slightly yellow, add two teaspoonfuls of paprika and one tablespoonful of flour, stir and cook for two minutes. Stir in one cupful of boiling water in which has been dissolved two teaspoonfuls of meat extract, one tablespoonful of capers, one tablespoonful of grated lemon rind, and one-third cupful of lemon juice. Stir and cook for six minutes, and strain into a hot dish. Take six even-sized slices cut from a leg of veal, one and a half inches thick, freed from all bone and gristle, dip in sifted flour and saute until brown on both sides in butter. Do not allow them to cook too fast. Season with salt and paprika, place the cooked cutlets on a hot platter, place around them fried noodles and pour over them the sauce.

PEAR SALAD

Take three cupfuls of dry cottage cheese, add a seasoning of salt and paprika, one tablespoonful of finely chopped parsley, and enough cream so that the cheese can be rolled into even-sized balls. Cut in dice four medium sized pears, and mix them with an equal amount of diced pineapple, one cupful of celery cut in small pieces, and a half a cupful of chopped, toasted almonds. Mound the salad on lettuce-covered plates, cover over with a thin layer of mayonnaise, and garnish with the cheese balls.

SCALLOPED OYSTERS AND MACARONI

One pint of oysters, one small package of macaroni, one cupful of thick white sauce, one-half cupful of fine cracker or bread crumbs, boil the macaroni until tender, place a layer of it around the bottom and sides of the baking dish, that has been well oiled, in the center place the drained oysters and season with salt and pepper. Cover with the macaroni, then the white sauce, which has had half a cupful of the oyster liquid added to it. Sprinkle with the cracker crumbs and dot generously with bits of butter, place in the oven, and bake until the crumbs are well browned.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

PRUNE JUICE CANNOT BE SUBSTITUTED FOR ORANGE JUICE

Because orange, tomato and prune juices are mentioned as the three desirable fruit juices for baby's diet, the mother naturally assumes that prune juice is a substitute for the others. This is not true. Orange juice and tomato juice are given to a child because they are rich sources of vitamin C, and this vitamin is noticeably decreased, sometimes destroyed, in modern bottle-formulas. Boiling, canning, drying, condensing, even pasteurizing milk decreases or destroys this particular vitamin, and it must be replaced daily by sufficient quantities of either orange or tomato juice.

WHY WE USE PRUNE JUICE

Prune juice is useful as a laxative. It has an acid ash when digested, while orange juice has an alkali ash. Dried fruits do not, as a general rule, furnish sufficient quantities of vitamin C to make up the deficiencies of a cooked diet, so for the young baby we must put our emphasis upon orange juice or tomato juice. In cooking or canning, tomato juice does not appreciably lose its vitamin C content.

Mrs. H. M.'s letter is along these same lines. "My baby is almost 5 months of age and his first tooth has appeared," she writes. "He had no trouble at all and is a big baby weighing twenty pounds.

"I have started him with orange juice and tomato juice, but he seems to dislike them both. He likes cereal. Can I give him anything in place of those two? How about prune juice?"

STARTING THE JUICES

Perhaps you have made an unwise choice of oranges, or have used them without water dilution and baby hasn't enjoyed the new, sharp taste. Use naturally sweet oranges, squeeze the juice, strain it, and add as much water as there is juice. Start with one teaspoonful of orange juice and increase up to one ounce, giving an equal amount of water. Give by spoon and if baby still spits it out, put it right with the bottle formula. Tomato juice may be started with one tablespoonful of the strained juice of canned or ripe tomatoes. Increase to one ounce or more daily. This may also be added to the bottle formula if necessary. To accustom baby to various tastes it is better to offer these juices alone. They are too important to be discontinued because of baby's dislike, so if he doesn't take them readily, they should be included in the formula.

Your other requirements right now are cod liver oil and the cereal which you said baby enjoyed. Plain or flavored cod liver oil is started in five-drop doses and increased up to two teaspoonfuls a day. This last amount, being too large an amount for one dose, is divided into three doses. The concentrated oils must be advised and doses suggested by a doctor. They are too powerful to be handled by amateurs.

A Bedtime Story

BOBBY COON RECEIVES A SHOCK

Confidence is good, but may Make one's judgment go astray.
—Bobby Coon.

It was the dreadful hunting season. Everybody knew it. Dreadful fear made most of the little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows very, very unhappy. You know no one can be happy and fearful at the same time. Even those who were not being hunted by men with terrible guns felt the fear that was everywhere, and so could not be truly happy. Those who lived in the Green Forest and on the Green Meadows of Farmer Brown's Farm were less fearful than those who did not, for they knew that Farmer Brown would not allow hunters on his land if he could help it. But there was always the chance that a hunter might slip on when no one was about at Farmer Brown's to see him. And you may be sure that these little folk took care not to get off that farm if they could help it.

He knew that Buster would not bother him as long as he kept out of Buster's way

Bobby Coon could remember several dreadful hunting seasons when he had had to run for his life more than once. This year, however, no hunter had ventured on Farmer Brown's land and Bobby had grown to feel quite safe. Perhaps it was partly because he and Farmer Brown's Boy had become such friends. You know every evening Bobby went over to Farmer Brown's woodshed for his dinner, and as he ate he would allow Farmer Brown's Boy to stroke him.

"No hunter will dare to come after me this year," said Bobby to himself more than once. "Farmer Brown and Farmer Brown's Boy won't let them hunt me. Never have I felt so safe, and it is a most comfortable feeling."

So Bobby became careless. He ceased to be watchful. There was no one in the Green Forest of whom Bobby was afraid, not even his big cousin, Buster Bear, for he knew that Buster would not bother him so long as he kept out of Buster's way. So Bobby went and came about as he pleased, but mostly at night. He likes to sleep by day and prowl about by night. Still, once in a while he would be out and about by day. You see, the one thing that Bobby wanted above all else was to get fat—just as fat as possible. He had a feeling that the coming winter would be long and cold and he would need a thick, warm blanket of fat beneath his skin to keep him warm while he slept the long sleep which is called hibernation. This is how it happened that Bobby was seen by a hunter who did not dare hunt on Farmer Brown's land just then, but who smiled a sly smile and said to himself:

"You don't know it, Mr. Coon, but some day I am going to have that skin of yours to help make me a coon-skin coat. Some night Farmer Brown and Farmer Brown's Boy will be away from home and then, Mr. Coon, you'll be mine."

This is how it happened that one night when beautiful Mistress Moon was flooding the Green Forest and the Green Meadows with soft, silvery light, driving out the Black Shadows wherever possible, Bobby Coon was startled to hear the barking of a dog in the Green Forest. Bobby had just returned from dining in Farmer Brown's woodshed. Only Jimmy Skunk had been there and Bobby had left a little disturbed because Farmer Brown's Boy had not been there. But this hadn't interfered with his appetite. Now as he listened to the barking of this dog it was without anxiety.

"I wonder who that dog is after," said he, talking to himself. "It must be Red Fox. Probably that dog is hunting alone. Well, he'll never catch Bobby."

He ambled along, paying no more attention to that dog until with a shock he realized that that barking was very loud and coming nearer. In fact, it was coming from a place where he had been only a few minutes before.

"It must be me he is after!" exclaimed Bobby, more in anger than fear. "Well, he never will get me. I can always climb a tree and he can't. As long as he is alone he won't worry me. Hello! What was that?"

He stood still, his ears cocked to catch every sound and fear growing in his eyes. For a moment the barking of the dog could not be heard. Then came a sound that gave Bobby a dreadful shock. It was a voice, a man's voice.

"Hunt him out! That's the dog hunt him out!" commanded the voice. Then the dog once more began to bark. Bobby took to those black heels of his and there was panic in the way he ran.

Health and Diet

ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

DESIRE AND EXPECTATION

Many people try to use the will in gaining better health, but I can assure you that you will have much better results if you use the powers of desire and expectancy. You will find that in every case where health or some other valuable prize is to be won that these are much more powerful agents than will power in bringing about the object you are trying to accomplish.

Jesus, one of the master healers, expressed the value of expectancy when He said, "Thy faith hath made thee whole." He meant that the patient was healed because he expected to be. The same thought is brought out by Sir William Osler when he said that it is necessary to arouse "the feeling of buoyant expectancy which is the real curative agent."

Expectancy, when applied to health, means that you expect to get well. When applied to digestion it means that you expect your meals to agree with you. Many people get into the habit of expecting gas and digestive troubles after meals. This habit is so strong that they actually look for such disorders to show themselves, and you will find that if you look for gas and a burning sensation in your stomach you will probably be able to find them. Expectancy works both ways. Train yourself to expect health.

Desire is another powerful force which you may use to help yourself to more abundant health. Without desire, no one would ever win anything. Think how much easier it is to do something which you greatly desire to do than something which you need to use your will for. If you will watch your own actions you will see that every one of them springs from some desire. If you greatly desire to be well, it will become much easier for you to do the things which build health. All of the great deeds of history have been accomplished because someone was consumed with an overpowering desire. Great fortunes are made because men desire to escape poverty or want to give luxury to some one they love.

You must desire health with all your mind and body. Dwell on this desire. Think how splendid it is to have a strong, well body. Think of the pleasant things which you could do with more vitality. You could enjoy an inspiring hike into the mountains. You could swim across the pool with swift, strong strokes. With more endurance you could win more success. If you had a little more energy you could go after many of the things you want for yourself or your loved ones.

Health is a splendid thing to desire in itself and with it you may win many of the things in life which are desirable on their own account. Imagine yourself as being well. Get a good mental picture of just how you are going to look when you have perfect health; see those rosy cheeks, see your eyes flashing with life and vigor, see your body rightly formed and expressing health and beauty.

When advertisers want you to desire something, they give you a glowing colored picture of it. Do the same with your health picture. Get that snapshot fixed in your mind of hte way you are going to look when you are gloriously, supremely well.

Judge Assails Use of Spies in Rum Cases

Declaring, "I do not approve of using stool pigeons to encourage violations of the liquor law," Municipal Judge Bush dismissed liquor-sale charges against Roy Lamb, 29 years of age, a bellboy at a Hollywood hotel.

Police Officers Carnahan and Selby reported they sent a police operative, dressed in cowboy clothing, to the hotel and that they concealed themselves in the room which he rented. He asked for gin and was refused, they said, but finally induced Lamb to go out and purchase a bottle for him.

Most of Motor Accidents Laid to Carelessness

Carelessness is the cause of most automobile accidents, in the opinion of Dr. W. M. Dickie, Director of the State Department of Public Health.

Dr. Dickie made this pronouncement after an analysis of the automobile accidents which occurred in the first six months of 1930 causing the deaths of 1058 persons. The death toll for the first six months of last year was 1004.

Pedestrians made up 367 of the automobile fatalities, said Dr. Dickie. A total of 270 persons lost their lives in accidents which involved motor vehicles alone and 200 more lost their lives in noncollision accidents. Collisions with fixed objects accounted for eighty-three deaths.

Only one horse-drawn vehicle was involved in an automobile accident.

Hermit Murder Case Postponed

Through a stipulation of prosecution and defense attorneys the trial of Gordon Gauss and Lloyd Dye, young Long Beach oil workers, charged with the murder of Wade Horton, which originally was scheduled for today in Superior Judge Aggeler's court, has been deferred until the 25th inst.

The two youths are charged with going to Horton's cabin in a secluded spot in Mint Canyon and shooting to Death Wade Horton, a hermit, during an attempted robbery. George Horton, 92-year-old brother of the victim, died a few weeks later. Since then his estate, totaling approximately $250,000, has become involved in a fight between heirs.

'JAKE' BLAMED IN DEATH

His hotel room strewn with two score empty Jamaica ginger bottles, the body of a man identified as J. O. Boyle, 45 years of age, was found at 413 East Seventh street yesterday. Detective Lieutenant Hickey of the homicide squad reported the man had ended his life by taking poison. Acquaintances stated he had been out of work and had been drinking heavily several weeks before his death. He was a laborer.

$5.30 and $1.14, respectively, by the amounts the patients themselves or their kindred pay toward the cost of their care.

SERVICE DESCRIBED

"What are some of the things which the $5.48 per day pays for?

"It pays for a long list of necessities of the desperately sick bed patient. This list includes his bed and board with special diet when this is necessary, his personal laundry as well as the laundry of his bed linen, the cost of the ambulance service with accompanying doctor and nurse when necessary which brings the patient sometimes from a distance of more than seventy-five miles to the hospital, the cost of all drugs, dressings, donors for transfusions, and supplies, the cost of janitor service and of the maintenance of all buildings and grounds including gardeners, the cost of all telephone service, the provision of such things as bathrobes, pajamas and slippers, even tooth brushes and combs for patients, the cost of the operating room and delivery room service including gas anesthesia, the cost of necessary laboratory and X-ray examinations, of all radium and X-ray treatments for those who need them, of all artificial limbs and braces and surgical appliances.

OTHER ITEMS LISTED

"All this in addition to the cost of providing nurses, orderlies and attendants to wait upon the patients day and night which requires three shifts of employees seven days per week, as patients of this type usually require to be given their meals in bed, to be bathed in bed and often they are not able to even go to the bathroom by themselves.

"The $5.48 per day is a small cost for this class of service.

"What would any good hotel charge per day if a guest asked to be given special diet in bed several times daily, and to be waited upon in bed and bathed in bed?

"The average cost for such service in 1929 among thirty general hospitals in New York City with a total bed capacity of 10,375 beds was $5.86 for ward patients.

"DR. N. N. WOOD,
"Superintendent."

World League Envoy Honored

Dr. O. E. W. Olsen of the department of economics, League of Nations, Geneva, was guest of honor at a dinner given by Dr. J. Rollin French, president of the Golden State Hospital, at the Jonathan Club last night.

Dr. Olsen is making a survey of the United States in connection with medical organization and practice and economic organization. Dr. Olsen came to Los Angeles to investigate the local medical system and economic organizations such as the citrus and walnut distribution organizations.

He will leave for San Francisco and midwestern and eastern points, where he will continue his survey. The medical situation was discussed at the dinner given in Dr. Olsen's honor.

Nurse Dies After Drinking Poison

Several hours after she is asserted by police to have swallowed poison and slashed her wrists at her home, 320 South Hobart Boulevard, Mrs. Helen Obenchain, 35 years of age, died in Hollywood General Hospital last night.

No motive was reported by investigators for the asserted suicide. The woman was a widow and a nurse.

FAMILY GETS MOST OF McCRAY FORTUNE

Nearly all the $200,000 estate of the late Edward I. McCray will be inherited by members of his family, according to his will on file yesterday. McCray, who died October 27 at 70 years of age, gave $1000 from life insurance policies to Muriel Everhardy and all other insurance to his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Annie McCray, 2151 Hollyridge Drive, Hollywood. Mrs. McCray will get one-half the residue, and the other half goes to four sons, Edward Ivor McCray, Robert James McCray, Maurice Coyle McCray and Allan Archer McCray.

INQUIRY ORDERED INTO MAN'S DEATH

Investigation into the death of Leo Davis, 53 years of age, 1514 Garden street, who died yesterday at the General Hospital was ordered yesterday at the Coroner's office. Assistant Autopsy Surgeon Schaefer today is expected to perform an autopsy which will be followed by a chemical analysis. The body of Davis was taken to the County Morgue after death resulted from what was believed to be asthma and heart disease.

WATER PROTECTION ASKED

The City Council has referred to the City Engineer the matter of providing protection from storm waters for the Southern Pacific tracks reaching from Fifth street, San Pedro, to the government reservation, as requested by T. H. Williams, assistant general manager of the railroad.

CAFE NEWS

Buster Keaton, Anita Page, Cliff Edwards, Raquel Torres, Bert Wheeler, Robert Woolsey, Katherine Dale Owen, James Hall, Merna Kennedy, Sally Blane, Neil Hamilton, Betty Compson and other noted film stars have been invited as guests of honor to appear in "The Voice of Hollywood," new talking picture which will be directed by Louis Lewyn of Tec-Art Studio at George Olsen's new club, Culver City, tonight. Lewyn will install a complete equipment of lights, cameras and microphones for the event, photographing Olsen's modernistic club and the stars and patrons from various angles. George Olsen will act as master of ceremonies. This will mark the second filming of a talking picture at Olsen's, as Mack Sennett personally directed the latest of his series of "Sennett Brevities" there last Wednesday night before a capacity audience.

"CELEBRIGHT NIGHT"

Featured by the attendance of many stage and screen artists both as guests and participants on the stellar entertainment program, "Celebright Night" will again take place in the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt Monday night. A special feature will be the presentation of an imported doll to the lucky feminine guest. Due celebration will also be given Armistice Day in the Blossom Room on next Tuesday night with many special events adding interest to the occasion. Ted Weems and his orchestra, in addition to playing their unusual dance rhythms, will be heard playing a program of specially arranged patriotic music, and appropriate favors, decorations and noise-makers of all kinds will lend gayety to the affair.

MORA'S ENLARGES

Mora's Wilshire-La Brea Grill, which opened several months ago, announces completion of its new annex, made necessary to care for the ever-increasing patronage. Italian spaghetti and ravioli dinners at a minimum cost are featured. According to Mrs. Angela Mora, a very low price is made possible because of the fact that all Italian food comes direct from their own factory. Special chicken and turkey dinners may be had on Sundays.

WALTZING AT SOLOMON'S

Revival of the old-fashioned waltz is proving an attractive feature for the middle-aged dancers of the city at Solomon's penny dance de luxe, which has just reopened for the winter season, according to Fred H. Solomon, Los Angeles dance magnate. Solomon's has been in existence twenty years as a dancing institution and many of the couples who were youngsters when the place was first thrown open to the public are among the patrons who have returned to the fold since the recent reopening. Solomon's features Waldemar Guterson and his orchestra, which has won international fame for having scored in many of the major motion-picture productions of Hollywood.

FIESTA QUEEN APPEARS

Senorita Mildred Costello has begun a limited engagement at the Casa La Golondrina Cafe on Olvera street. She will appear fiesta nights, Wednesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday, in a repertoire of specialty songs and dances of Mexico and Spain. Miss Costello will be remembered as Los Angeles' first fiesta queen commemorating its one hundred and forty-ninth anniversary, and according to Senora Bonzo, hostess, she is soon to start for the east on the Panchon and Marco circuit.

REAL CHINESE DISHES

Special Chinese dinners at all hours of the day are now being served at the Grand View Gardens on North Alameda street. Albert Chung, owner, announces that only real Chinese dishes made in his own establishment are served. Hawaiian music has recently been added and a la carte service is available.

CLUB WILL BUILD ON FIRE RUINS

Trio in Nightclothes Flee as Long Beach Structure Suffers $30,000 Loss

LONG BEACH, Nov. 4. (Exclusive)—Plans to rebuild the clubhouse of the Long Beach Country Club, which was destroyed by fire this morning, were launched by officials of the organization today. A stucco structure probably will replace the frame building which was destroyed.

Damage estimated at $30,000, resulted from flames originating in an oil feed to the kitchen range. Three women were routed from their beds by the flames and escaped injury. The clubhouse is located twelve miles east of Long Beach in Orange county, north of Sunset Beach. J. W. Ellis, manager of the club, started the range fire and while preparing to drive to Long Beach, noticed smoke pouring from the kitchen. An oil-feed line which had given trouble caused the fire, he reported.

Ellis's wife, his sister, Mary Ellis, and Sally Cartwright, waitress, were awakened b Ellis and escaped in their night clothing. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis suffered a financial loss of $5000, including three diamond rings left by Mrs. Ellis on her dresser while she rescued her pet canary. The clubhouse was valued at $25,000.

WRITERS TO HEAR GREEVER

Prof. Garland Greever of the department of English of the University of Southern California is to address members of the Los Angeles chapter of Western Writers Friday evening.

Kept Awake by Razor Threats, Declares Wife

With a razor under his pillow, her husband kept her awake three nights, Mrs. Leta Calhoun testified in Superior Judge Westover's court, where she won a divorce from Aulsey Calhoun, on file yesterday.

"On the night of January 15, last, my husband told me I had two hours to live. He kept me awake for three nights, in fear of my life," Mrs. Calhoun testified.

"Before that, when I was in a hospital, he wrote 1 order for my wages and collected them unknown to me. Then he used up the money and left me in dire need."

The Calhouns married in Yuma, Ariz., October 4, 1918, and separated January 21, last.

Concrete Facts Cement Divorce

Accusing her husband of nonsupport, Mrs. Harriet M. Seymore obtained a divorce from William J. Seymore, a concrete worker. They married July 3, 1928, and separated April 12, last.

"Why didn't your husband support you?" asked Superior Judge Yankwich.

"He did not make the effort," replied Mrs. Seymore.

Judge Yankwich ordered Seymore to pay $50 a month for the support of Lilly Grace, 1 year of age.

EXTRA! EXTRA!

WEBER'S WINS!

YESTERDAY, more women "voted" for Weber's Bread than for any other in the entire county. Once more this loaf scored a clear plurality over all other breads in the community.

Yet, to Weber employees, this was nothing new. Every day housewives buy more Weber's bread than any other. Week after week Weber's maintains its quality leadership. Every one in the Weber organization not only feels the responsibility of this leadership, but personally benefits through the Weber employee bonus system.

First place was won and is held on quality...and quality alone! Only by maintaining quality leadership is Weber's Bread enabled to retain this leadership in sales. The gingham wrapper enfolding the Weber loaf typifies the old fashioned goodness of the bread within.

Pure, wholesome ingredients that your grandmother would have been glad to use...equipment far better than she ever dreamed of having...bakers with years of experience...all these combine to produce the bread that maintains this Weber leadership.

Look for the loaf in the gingham wrapper...Weber's Bread!

FORD ENLARGES SHIPPING FLEET

New Freighter Due to Enter Intercoastal Run

Local Plant Expansion Plan Prompts Addition

Fortnightly Sailing Schedule Will Be Maintained

BY WAYNE B. CAVE

An additional ship will be filtered into the intercoastal run by Ford Motor Company, increasing the fleet to six freighters, and quickening the schedule of an arrival each eighteen days to one every fortnight. Announcement was made through the Los Angeles - Long Beach plant of the company yesterday.

The addition is prompted by the rapid enlargement of the local plant to handle the manufacturing of a number of items in addition to the assembling of cars.

The added ship will be the Lake Oaweya, of 2416 tons gross, a lake-type vessel taken over from the Shipping Board some time ago, and now being converted on the Great Lakes into a Diesellized freighter. She will come into the intercoastal run as soon as passage out of the Great Lakes waterway permits.

Other vessels of the fleet plying here are the Oneida, Onondaga, Lake Benbow, Lake Gorin and the Lake Ormoc. The latter, under command of Capt. George Hodges, is to depart the Long Beach plant today after discharging enough motors, front and back axles, assembled, and drive shafts for 3400 cars.

The assembling plant, now turning out 265 cars daily with 1300 employees, working five days a week, is expected gradually to filter in more help toward an ultimate capacity of 480 cars per day.

Four hundred employees will be added in February upon completion of the latest addition, in which sheet steel will be manufactured into fenders, hoods, aprons, radiator shells, running boards and dust shields.

Advices from Detroit recently were that Ford officials are considering building half a dozen fast freighters, but no construction program yet has been authorized. It is understood all will be used on the intercoastal run.

ENSENADA SCHEDULE OF ADMIRAL LINE OUT

Admiral Line's quickened schedule calling for three round voyages weekly between Los Angeles and Ensenada will start at 7 p.m. tomorrow, when the liner Admiral Rogers sails from her Wilmington dock on her first voyage in this service. Arriving at the Mexican resort the following morning at 7 o'clock, she will sail from there that evening at 5 o'clock, returning to Wilmington the following morning at 7 o'clock. Departures from Wilmington will be every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday night.

The Dorothy Alexander sailed last night on her final voyage to Ensenada, and on her return tomorrow morning will be cast into the run between here and Seattle.

Incidentally, the line's flagship, H. F. Alexander, will make her final visit here of the season this week-end. She will bring a capacity list of football fans from San Francisco Saturday morning for the U.C.-U.S.C. game, and will sail from Wilmington at 2 a.m. Sunday for San Francisco to tie up until spring.

The Ruth Alexander also will bring rooters Saturday morning as will the Lasso liner Harvard, both carrying their excursionists north over the week-end.

Two carloads of frozen swordfish from Japan were discharged yesterday from the N.Y.K. motor liner, Chichibu Maru, for trans-shipment overland to Boston. It is the first frozen swordfish from that source, although albacore have been imported regularly three years. The Chichibu Maru is scheduled to sail for San Francisco and home at 2 p.m. today, after embarking 200 passengers and 1600 tons of freight.

Royal Mail freighter Lochkatrine, which cracked a cylinder head departing her dock night before last, effected temporary repairs and sailed for United Kingdom yesterday after ten hours' delay.

As a foundation for future trade beyond the seas forty-eight Los Angeles shipping and transportation men have enrolled for the study of the Japanese language in a night class just formed by the Los Angeles Board of Education. Enrollment still is invited. Classes meet at 7 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays in Room 343 Science Building, Polytechnic Evening High School. It is declared the largest night class of adults studying Japanese in America.

The power yacht Carissima, has been sold to J. A. Talbot to Robert Law, and will come off Craig's yards today, preparatory to sailing for Miami, Fla., Saturday. She is a 180-foot Diesel craft, built in Germany, and brought out here about a year ago.

Stribling Gets Offer to Box Jack Sharkey

ATLANTA, Nov. 4. (AP)—The Journal says W. L. (Young) Stribling, Macon heavyweight boxer, has received an offer of $50,000 to fight Jack Sharkey in a benefit bout for the unemployed in New York next month.

UTAH ANXIOUS TO PLAY HERE

Rocky Mountain Champions Seek Rose Bowl Game

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 4. (AP)—Gus P. Backman, secretary of the Salt Lake Chamber of Commerce, announced today the chamber had opened negotiations with Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce officials with a view of obtaining the Rose Bowl at Pasadena or the Coliseum at Los Angeles for a possible football game between the University of Utah eleven and an opponent yet to be selected.

Backman said he talked over long distance telephone with A. G. Arnoll, Los Angeles chamber secretary, and the coast man was optimistic over chances of obtaining one of the two fields for a game in December. Backman said Washington State College, leader in the Pacific Coast Conference, or Southern California were under consideration as possible opponents for the Utes, who have not been beaten since midseason of 1927.

The Utes have been mentioned as possible rivals of New York University in a charity game, but Backman considered this game virtually impossible as President George Thomas of the University of Utah frowned upon a plan calling for the Utes to meet the University of Pittsburgh eleven due to the long trip.

Utah is reputed to be the strong-

BRUIN PLAYERS LEAVE TONIGHT

U.C.L.A. Grid Team Off for Oregon Game

Spaulding Taking 34 Men North to Eugene

Coach Not Optimistic as to His Chances

BY FRANK ROCHE

Bruin football players, thirty-four strong, entrain this evening for Eugene, Or., where on Saturday afternoon, the U.C.L.A. squad encounters the strong Oregon University team in a Coast Conference game. While there are quite a few rabid Bruin rooters who look for a victory for the Westwood outfit, the consensus of opinion among the football experts locally and otherwise is that the Webfooters will again take the U.C.L.A. into camp. Oregon won the last meeting, 27 to 0.

BILL SPAULDING

"Doc" Spears, coach of the Oregonians, has an undefeated team ready to throw at the Bruins. True enough, the Webfooters have not run into very stern opposition with one or two exceptions to date, but what they have met shapes up favorably with anything Spaulding has to offer in the way of a football team.

NOT SHOWN MUCH

The Bruins have not shown anything offensively that indicates that they can beat Oregon as yet. Against Southern California they were snowed under, 52 to 0. They beat Pomona, a former Southern Conference rival, 21 to 0 and lost to St. Mary's, 21 to 6. Caltech, a weak opponent, bowed by a 30-to-0 score. Last Friday the Bruins held Stanford to a 20-to-0 score. That is their season's record to date. They have lost three games and won two.

Oregon on the other hand has beaten Pacific University, Willamette, Drake, Washington and Idaho. The triumph over the Huskies alone stamps the Webfooters as a "big-league" outfit. Jimmy Phelan's team bowed to the Oregon eleven, 7 to 0. Drake lost, 14 to 7, and Idaho, 20 to 6. Incidentally Idaho is the last game on the Bruin schedule this season.

Spaulding really believes he has a find in Stickle, an end who was discovered in the gym class and played his first game for the Bruins last Friday night when he went in against Stanford at the right wing

GUNNING FOR TIGER MEAT

That's what these three Engineers will be doing Friday night at the Rose Bowl when Caltech plays Occidental in the outstanding Southern California Conference game of the season. The players are DeWitt Murdock, guard, on the left, and Randall Maas, end, with Red Watson, fullback, shown below.

ENGINEERS TO TACKLE OXY SQUAD

Rival Teams to Clash Friday in Rose Bowl Engagement

BY BRAVEN DYER

Those who are interested in the Southern California Conference situation, and their number is legion, can hardly restrain their surprises during these days which find W. L. (Fox) Stanton sitting in the golden chair. Mr. Stanton, who used to coach at both Occidental and Pomona, is now mentoring the boys at Caltech and strange as it may seem his team is the only undefeated squad in the circuit.

"FOX" STANTON

Friday night the Engineers play Occidental at the Pasadena Rose Bowl. For the first time in many, many moons Stanton has all the other coaches pointing for him. Since time immemorial the "Fox" has been content to sit back quietly and then bob up suddenly with a surprise victory over either Pomona or Oxy, when those teams were racing along to the championship.

Now the shoe is on the other foot and Stanton is in the golden chair, as they say in aeronautical circles. The "Fox" is the one now in danger of being surprised and it must tickle the old man greatly to have his time-honored rivals gunning for him.

If Caltech beats Oxy Friday night the Engineers then will be in a fair way to win the title, provided they get over San Diego State on Thanksgiving Day. Of course, there is no assurance that Stanton will be able to topple Walt Herreid's athletes, but Whittier's surprise victory over the Aztecs last Saturday night will give Caltech plenty of confidence.

CHICAGO BIDDING FOR SERVICE TEAM CONTEST

New York Committee Also Trying to Arrange Game Featuring New York U or Fordham

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)—Proposals for post-season college football games for the benefit of unemployment relief, fast accumulating today, have attracted widespread support and interest, especially in so far as they involve the possibility of Army and Navy patching up their differences to aid the common cause.

Chicago and New York, as well as Philadelphia, are prepared to bid high for a post-season benefit game between the rival football forces of West Point and Annapolis, despite the "many difficulties" which Secretary of the Navy Adams said would have to be overcome.

George F. Getz of Chicago, chairman of the Illinois Unemployment Commission has suggested Soldier Field as an ideal spot for the Army and Navy to meet on the gridiron again, for the first time since they broke off in 1927. He ventured the gate receipts would produce $750,000 for the aid of the unemployed.

The New York Daily News, which addressed an open letter to President Hoover on the subject of an Army-Navy game, called for united support of metropolitan agencies in bringing the game to New York. The newspaper predicted it would draw a "gate" in excess of $1,000,000 at either of the local ball parks.

Foremost among the obstacles to a revival of the service battle is the fact Navy already is scheduled up to December 6, when the midshipmen play Pennsylvania at Philadelphia. Army closes its season at Chicago the 29th inst. against Notre Dame and West Point officials have shown no enthusiasm for a post-season project.

Meanwhile a growing list of possible opponents was presented for New York University, which has put its football team at the disposal of a civic committee for purposes of a benefit game, for any date after the 22nd inst. Western Maryland, one of the few undefeated eastern teams, has expressed willingness to play N.Y.U. Inquiry also came today from the Far West on behalf

BATTALINO MAY FACE LA BARBA

Ring Match Proposed for Madison Square Garden on December 12 Benefit

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (Exclusive) Fidel La Barba, second among 170 amateurs and professionals to conquer the doughty Kid Chocolate, looked forward today to a meeting with Christopher (Bat) Battalino, world's featherweight champion. Plans for this match were launched immediately after last night's battle in Madison Square Garden.

FIDEL LA BARBA

The contest is being sought as the stellar attraction for the Christmas fund benefit ring carnival proposed for the Garden on December 12. Plans for a meeting between Jack Sharkey and Max Baer, Coast heavyweight, have been practically abandoned.

If Battalino declines to risk his crown here—which is not unlikely, since he won the championship in his native Hartford and has insisted on defending there exclusively—plans will proceed for a series of attractive featherweight matches designed to produce a boxer worthy of recognition as uncrowned champion.

JELLIFFE LEADS AT FOX HILLS

Shoots 74 Over Championship East Course to Head First Day Qualifiers in Invitation Tournament; Match Play Begins Tomorrow in Ten Flights

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

W. L. "Bill" Jelliffe, whose prodigious drives are the envy of half the amateurs in Southern California, opened up with a 74 over the east course yesterday to take a two-stroke lead in the first day of qualifying play for the Fox Hills Country Club first annual invitation tournament.

W. L. JELLIFFE

Ed Caudill, manager of the Culver City club, announces that Bill is now a member of the Fox Hills organization.

Jelliffe's 74 is three over par figures, and is not expected to stand up today when Fay Coleman of the California Country Club leads a flock of low handicap stars in quest of medal honors.

Today completes the qualifying play, match play starting tomorrow in ten flights. One round is scheduled each day through to the finals on Sunday.

H. E. Mortimer trailed Jelliffe with a 76, while two California players, President C. R. Cheney and Guy Hanson, registered 77's.

Milo Marchetti of Rancho, who played with Jelliffe, turned in a 78. F. V. Deliot of Wilshire and Chuck Berdrow of Fox Hills, two favorites, had 80's. H. K. Bachelder of Rancho scored an 81.

Among the well-known players planning to qualify today are L. P.

EASTERN TEAMS BETTER RECORD

Add to Intersectional List of Triumphs

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)—The East slightly increased its lead over the Midwest in number of intersectional football victories as a result of the games of the last weekend, but a general invasion by middle western elevens this Saturday may turn the tide.

Eastern teams, although getting no better than an even break with midwestern and southern adversaries in the latest set of intersectional struggles, sent their total number of victories from seventeen to twenty-one while the Middle West climbed from fifteen to eighteen and the South from ten to eleven. The Southwest and far

DECISION IN TUNNEY CASE WILL BE ANNOUNCED TODAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)—Supreme Court Justice Hatting will decide tomorrow whether trial will proceed in the suit of Timothy J. Mara to take away from Gene Tunney $500,000 of the $1,742,282.04 he earned as heavyweight champion of the world.

After Mara had rested his case Monday the justice dismissed the complaint against Billy Gibson, Tunney's former manager and a co-defendant, and took under advisement a motion to throw the whole case out on the ground if the charges could not be proved against one defendant they could not be proved against the other. He will announce his decision when court convenes tomorrow.

A detailed list of Tunney's earnings as champion, compiled by himself under court order, was read to the jury yesterday while fight fans in the court sat forward on the edges of the benches and listened eagerly. The list showed that during the year 1927, the champion's income was $1,157,465.79. That in 1928 he earned $574,955, and between September 23, the date of the Philadelphia fight, and December 31, 1928, he collected $47,881.25.

The biggest sources were the Chicago fight with Dempsey, for which Tunney, as champion, drew more than $990,000, and his match with Heeney in 1928, for which his purse was $525,000.

On the basis of an oral agreement, whereby he alleged Tunney

Poly vs. L. A. High, Manual vs. Hollywood to Feature Friday

ANCIENT RIVALS IN LIMELIGHT

Both Mechanics, Romans in Optimistic Mood

Stawisky Returns to Guard Job on Brennen's Team

Jim Blewett Missing From Toiler Grid Camp

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

Traditional rivalry vs. championship football, that's the problem offered prep fans this Friday afternoon, when L. A. High and Poly tangle at Wrigley Field in their annual classic, and the undefeated Hollywood Redshirts entertain the Manual Arts Toilers at Hollywood.

JIM BLEWETT

The Mechanic - Roman encounter will naturally draw more fans than the Toiler-Hollywood scrap for several reasons, the chief one being the thousands of alumni that yearly flock to the "big game."

While Vic Kelley and his Redshirts aren't being given much of a chance to turn back the Toilers, Kelley himself feels confident that the Manual Arts eleven will be given quite a surprise.

The Toilers have been somewhat handicapped this week. Jim Blewett has been isolated for ten days because of having been exposed to scarlet fever. In his absence Charley Toney, assistant mentor, has charge of the squad.

The atmosphere around Manual Arts is charged with the spirit to wallop Hollywood, and Toiler fans are hoping to run up as big a score as last season, when the Artisans ran wild to win, 46-0.

Blewett will most likely be on hand Friday for the Redshirt encounter.

Reports from both the Poly and the Roman camps are optimistic. Sam Stawisky, who was injured early in the year, will be in suit and will start in his regular position at right guard for the Mechanics.

The Romans are jubilant over the fact that Bob Hoeffer, who was banged up in a practice tilt with Riis High a month ago, is now in A-1 shape, and will hold down one of the halfback jobs.

Dewey Ralphs, Poly's best ball packer, who has been on the bench for the last three weeks with a broken thumb, is likely to see action against the Romans. However, Ralphs is still having trouble handling the ball and may not be a great deal of value to the Mechanics. In losing Ralphs Voyle Brennen lost quite a valuable player, as the speedy half was a very accurate passer as well as a good ball carrier.

Three other contests are scheduled for the City League, Fairfax at Belmont, Roosevelt at Garfield and Jefferson at Fremont.

For the past three years the Colonial-Belmont game has ended in a tie and as both elevens are very evenly matched again this season the same thing is very likely to occur.

While Coach Clark DeGroot's Roosevelt Rough Riders are heavy favorites to drub Garfield, the Bulldogs may surprise the dopesters. Garfield has had a complpete rest, not having played since October 17, and with the entire squad in good shape will be out to drub the Rough Riders.

On paper the Fremont Pathfinders seem to have a slight edge over Jefferson, but Harry Edelson's Democrats are figuring on knocking over the former Minor League eleven, so name your own winner.

One out-of-town league, the San Gabriel Valley circuit, winds up the season this Friday. Coach Bergie Bergstrom's El Monte Lions, who are perched on top of the league standings, tangle with the defending champions, Puente, in the feature contest. El Monte defeated Downey, 19-0; Citrus, 6-0, and Montebello 25-0; while Puente trimmed Montebello, 25-0, and has battled to scoreless ties with both Downey and Citrus.

In the other game listed Downey and Montebello tangle for the cellar championship Citrus has already cinched third place and draws a bye.

Young Corbett Meets Cooper in Oakland Go

OAKLAND (Cal.) Nov. 4. (AP) Young Corbett, southpaw whirlwind from Fresno, will make his first appearance in this section in a long time, tomorrow night when he meets Farmer Joe Cooper, Terre Haute, Ind., welterweight, in a ten-round bout. The stocky Italian, whose record includes decisions over two champions, in non-title bouts, will be a strong favorite to take the measure of Cooper. The bout will be a sort of "warm-up" affair for Corbett, who also will meet Sammy Jackson, Los Angeles Negro, in a San Francisco bout late this month.

RABBIT PUNCHES

BY PAUL LOWDEY

LOM'S FAKE PUNT

IF THERE is one play the Trojans will be looking for next Saturday it will be that fake short punt formation on which Benny Lom ran 85 yards to a touchdown last fall.

Of course, California hasn't got Lom this year, but it has Schaldach, who is said to be a pretty fair city type of a triple-threat artist—and the Bears have the same old play.

I haven't heard of the Bears using it this year, but that doesn't mean anything. They're probably saving it for the Trojans.

The Bears used it at Berkeley in 1928 when they tied the Trojans 0 to 0.

They used it against Georgia Tech, broke Lom loose for a 36-yard run with nobody between him and the goal line but Stumpy Thomason.

Stumpy dumped Lom, and saved the day for Georgia Tech in the New Year's Day game of 1929.

But the Bears won, 15 to 7, from the Trojans last year, scoring fifteen points in the first half, and holding the sons of Troy to a lone touchdown in the second period.

And it was that fake punt run of Lom's which turned the trick.

Nothing new about the play except the side over which it was directed. Ordinarily, it had been run to the right. This time it went to the left, and the Trojans were caught napping.

Nobody touched Lom, who sidestepped Russ Saunders on his road to the goal.

TROY'S ANTICIPATION

IF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA should defeat the Bears Saturday it will be the day the Trojans have been waiting for these many years.

Not since S.C. grew up and began playing in the back yards of Stanford and California have the Trojans achieved the dream of winning from both their major rivals in the same year.

Whenever they downed California the tables would be turned by Stanford.

Or if Stanford was taken, as was the case in 1926 and 1929, California either tied or won.

Two years ago it was a scoreless tie at Berkeley that broke the Trojans' heart in a year that they beat Stanford 10 to 0.

And after tipping Stanford 7 to 0 last season the Trojans felt sure of victory over California.

That was a grave error as they learned to their sorrow one week later, when the Bears and Benny Lom turned in a 15-to-7 win.

But this is the year, as the boys say, and the Trojans are saying little, but expecting much.

SEVEN LEAN YEARS

INCIDENTALLY, will California reach the promised land of a victory over Stanford this year?

Not since 1923, when Don Nichols led his 1923 team to a 9-to-0 victory over the Stanford boys, has a California eleven seen victory over the Cards.

There have been a couple of tie games—20 to 20 in 1924, and 13 to 13 in 1928—but no wins.

California almost won the 1928 game, but Simkins threw one of those prayerful passes to Frentrup in the last minute of the game, and Frentrup caught it out of a maze of players for a touchdown.

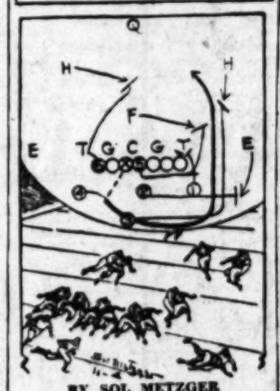
And just a minute before Phillips, California end, batted down instead of catching a Stanford pass thrown right into his arms.

Had Phillips caught the ball the Bears could have held on to the leather until the whistle and won the ball game.

If California should pull another of these upsets and beat the Trojans this year the "big game" will be bigger than ever.

California will want to round out the season with the first victory over Stanford in seven years, and Stanford will want to beat California to prove their showing against the Trojans was all a mistake.

Twin End Runs Fortify Goal



BY SOL METZGER

Here's the twin brother of the Navy end run shown yesterday, a play that with its companion will likely be one of the dependable hits of offense the Middies will use to beat down the strong Ohio State eleven with on Saturday when these elevens clash in Baltimore.

No. 4, in motion before the ball, gets the snap and the other three backs and two linemen, Nos. 5 and 6, act just as they did in the end run we explained in yesterday's article. There is a slight difference, however, in the interference of Nos. 2 and 3, who run shoulder to shoulder at the defensive left end.

In the other play No. 3 cuts him down as No. 2 turns sharply for the scrimmage line, making interference for No. 4, who circles around the upset end. In this play the reverse happens. No. 2 smashes the end out as No. 3 turns sharply downfield with No. 4, the ball carrier, following him on a dash off tackle.

Much the same these plays, but my what a difference! They are aimed to keep the defensive end in misery, and they sure do. Let us shift the scene to California tomorrow for a close up of Pacific Coast football, which grizzly old Pop Warner says is superior to the eastern brand.

Lions Toiling for Struggle With Aggies

Celebration over the 0-to-0 tie which the Lions played with the Olympic Club last Saturday came to an end at Loyola University yesterday and Tom Lieb resumed practice for the coming California Aggie game to be played at Sacramento a week from Saturday.

Only one injury came as a result of the Winged "O" contest. Kristovich, a guard, broke his nose in the encounter and will be out of a uniform for a week. He will be able to play in the Santa Clara game on the 22nd inst., however.

Lieb is trying to keep his men from getting overconfident for the Cal. Aggie contest. The Aggies have a weak squad, and the Lion mentor is afraid that his men will take the game too lightly.

The return of Jim Strutzel to his last year's form was one of the features of the Olympic Club game. Jim had not been playing up to par previous to Saturday's contest. Last year he was one of the best ball carriers on the team. He will be expected to be one of the chief ground gainers in the Cal. Aggie and Santa Clara games.

SOCCER HIGHSPOT REACHED SUNDAY

The highspot of the soccer season to date will be reached Sunday afternoon at Loyola Field where the Los Angeles A. C. team and the Hollywood Sheiks lock horns. The opening game finds the Victorias and the Richfield Oilers in combat. Tournament Park, Pasadena, will be the scene of a double-header also. In the opening game at the Crown City the Sons of St. George, fresh from a victory over the Scots, battle the Pasadena C. C. eleven. In the feature game which gets under way at 3 p.m. the Vikings and the Magyars take the field.

LES KENNEDY, COOK TO CLASH TONIGHT

Les Kennedy, Long Beach heavyweight, and George Cook, Australian heavyweight champion, clash in the ten-round main event at the Wilmington Bowl tonight.

"Pickles" Hintz, all-Navy heavyweight champion, meets Harry Lee, veteran Huntington Beach puncher, in the six-round semi-wind-up. Other bouts carded are Red Grigry vs. Mickey McLaughlin, welterweights, six rounds; Frank Rudenski vs. John Lamar, heavyweights, four rounds; Joe DeLara vs. Curley Muniz, featherweights, four rounds.

LION CUBS MINUS STELLAR LINESMAN

With his star player out of the line-up, Coach Sam Dagley is working his Loyola University frosh football team overtime in order to get it in shape for the coming game against Oneonta Military Academy. The "Baby Lions" meet the cadets Saturday afternoon on the Oneonta home field. Klitsky, Dagley's star tackle, was forced to withdraw from school. The Loyola yearlings have played two games so far this season. They have won both contests without having their own goal crossed.

OXY GETS CONFERENCE MEET

The 1931 all-Southern California Conference swimming meet will be staged in the new Occidental plunge on May 16, it was announced yesterday by Phil Ellsworth, graduate manager at Occidental. The new swimming pool is nearing completion and will be dedicated on the 17th inst., according to the statement made yesterday from the Comptroller's office at Oxy.

BROWN VICTOR IN VARNER GO

Veteran Earns Decision in Olympic Star Bout

Varner's best, he scored with three hard rights.

But not once did he get a good clean crack that had canvas labeled on it.

However, you have to hand Varner credit for forcing the fight at all stages. He never once let up, and he was the aggressor from the first round to the last.

It was he who made Brownie fight when the Newsboy, secure with a safe lead, elected to coast.

And it was only the superior generalship, experience and craft of Brown that decided the issue

SPLENDID PROSPECT

Varner has his reputation ahead of him. He is a splendid prospect.

Arthur the Great Shires refereed the semi-wind-up, but was spared the necessity of rendering a decision when Bobby Reister knocked out Don Burchard with a left to the solar plexus.

Burchard was leading when he got one that dropped him on the floor in the third round.

Billy Papke, son of the former middleweight king, continued his winning ways with a kayo over Big Ecklund, once a sparring partner for Ace Hudkins.

It was a technical knockout in the fourth, the towel sailing in from Ecklund's corner.

Guy McKenna won a six-round decision over Henry Rollins and Mike Cordova stopped Al Hamilton in the first round.

De Paolo Now Officiating as Engineer

Peter De Paolo, one of the outstanding drivers of racing history and national speedway champion in 1925 and 1927, hopes to make his Los Angeles debut as a racing-car engineer Sunday afternoon at the Legion Ascot Speedway. For the past several weeks Pete has been supervising the construction of a dirt-track "job" which has been designed exclusively for competition in this section. If the car, which is being given the finishing touches at the local factory of Harry Miller, is completed in time Lou Moore will go to the pole at the wheel of the chariot in the 100-lap feature Sunday afternoon.

The De Paolo-Moore combination has been causing considerable comment in the Los Angeles racing colony. The return of Moore to Ascot will mark his first appearance at the course, his starting grounds—in two years, while speedway followers are anxious to see what luck De Paolo will have as a racing-car builder.

The Miller creation, which is to be known as the Gilmore Lion, will carry number 35 and will contain a ninety-one-inch motor set in an oversized block.

It was announced yesterday that Phil (Red) Shafer, known for fifteen years as the "terror of Texas dirt tracks," has been signed to referee the 100-lap grind Sunday afternoon.

SOUTH WESTERN TRIMS URBAN SCHOOL ELEVEN

With Pete Bertola leading the attack, the South Western Military Academy handed the Urban Military School a 13-to-7 setback yesterday in a game played on the loser's gridiron. Bertola pounded through the line for a touchdown in the first quarter and repeated the process again in the second quarter. Perry, subbing for Schreiferman, accounted for Urban's only score. Capt. Ballou starred for the losers.

WAGNER, BITTO WILL MEET IN PICO RING

One of the most attractive cards billed at the arena in several months is scheduled for the Pico Bowl tonight when Matchmaker "Pop" Barrett will present six bouts, topped by an eight-rounder between Billy Wagner and Joe Bitto. The preliminaries, all four rounders, are: Billy Burns vs. Percy Rodriquez, 122 pounds; George (Twin) Burns vs. Arnero Palacios, 110 pounds; Paul Burke vs. Frankie Jeffredo, 130 pounds; Jack Groves vs. Ernest Murchison, 152 pounds.

LEO LOMSKI FORCES JACK SILVER TO QUIT

SEATTLE, Nov. 4. (AP)—Bringing forth his old murderous punches that gave him the name of the "Aberdeen Assassin," Leo Lomski, Aberdeen, Wash., punished Jack Silver, Seattle heavyweight, so severely in a boxing bout here tonight he refused to finish the fight after six rounds. Lomski was awarded a technical knockout when Silver gave up.

FIREMEN, ARIZONA ELEVENS TO COLLIDE

Firemen football players will meet the Arizona State College team Armistice night, E. O. Barnett, athletic director for the Smoke-eaters, announced yesterday. The Flagstaff team is one of the strongest ever to represent that institution. They beat Whittier College here early in the season. The Firemen will be looking forward to a tough battle, their coach, Bill Blewett, stated.

Berkeleyites on Edge for Great Effort

BY ED R. HUGHES

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—If the California football men expect to be tossed to the lions to make the Trojan holiday at the Coliseum at Los Angeles next Saturday, they do not act like it, as they know that a brave man dies only once, and they are not going to be whipped before the battle begins. They know they are going against one of the strongest teams in the West, and they know that the team has been well trained for the conflict Saturday. They also know they are not given an outside chance to win, and still they are unafraid.

"NIBS" PRICE.

They know the Trojans are still smarting over that 15-to-7 defeat the Bears handed them last year to the great surprise of all and sundry, and they know the Trojans think this is the best chance they have ever had to beat both Stanford and California the same year—something the Trojans have never been able to do—and still the Bears are full of fight.

OUT TO WIN

Hand it to the boys who are to do the actual playing. They are going to Los Angeles determined to win if they can, and sure they will do their university proud no matter how the game results.

Walter Gordon has been scouting the Trojans all year and his exhaustive reports last year had much to do with the Bears beating the Trojans. Walt thinks if the Bears get in and fight as he knows they can fight, and if they can keep on fighting for the full sixty minutes, they have a chance to win again this year.

Gordon scouted the Trojans last Saturday against the weak Denver University team. He knew the Trojans would win, of course, but he wanted to see if anything new would be sprung. He reported today. "Three more new passes," he announced. Nibs Price and the other members of the coaching staff made wry faces. They thought they had enough to guard against without hearing about these new passes. But they called the boys together and went to work behind tightly locked and guarded gates. The Bears will get a workout tomorrow and another Thursday and then will entrain for the south.

The California backfield is still uncertain and that is what is worrying the coaches. Ed Griffiths is a good blocking back and a pretty good ball carrier, but he is not a safety man. Besides that, he has been out of the game because of injuries. He may play part of the game Saturday, however.

What the Bears need badly is a safety man. One of those fellows who is a sure catcher of punts and who can lug the ball back a few yards. Kirwan looked like the man, but he was hurt in the St. Mary's game and has not been able to play since.

POTTER SHINES

Potter, the blond kid, looked good in the Montana game and his blocking was clever, but Potter is a small fellow and might not stand up long under the smashing of Arbelbide and Wilcox, the big Trojan ends, and the buffeting of the other Trojan forwards. The way things look now, however, Potter might start the game.

Lee Vallanos, a San Francisco boy, showed in the Washington game that he can catch punts, but he has played most of his football at left half. As Schaldach is the regular left half, the coaches are trying to figure some way they can get Schaldach and Vallanos in the game at the same time. California has some good linesmen, and it is not likely the Bears' forward wall will be shoved all over the lot as Stanford was against the Trojans. And if the Bears' line can repel the charge, Duffield and Mohler may not ramble as they did against Stanford. The Trojans showed in the Stanford game what good clipping can do, and if the Bears do some clipping, they may surprise.

Anyway the Bears are not whipped yet. That's their story and they stick to it.

...of Utah, Rocky Mountain Conference champions, also undefeated. N.Y.U. has referred all possible opponents to the civic authorities, taking the stand the university is not issuing or receiving challenges.

University of Michigan, in addition to offering a portion of the receipts of the Chicago game to unemployment aid, also stands ready to furnish the use of its stadium for a prospective post-season clash between Detroit and Michigan State.

Overtures may be made to book an extra benefit attraction involving Washington State's Cougars, the unbeaten leading contender for Pacific Coast Conference championship honors. Washington State already has a scheduled eastern appearance the 29th inst. at Philadelphia against Villanova. The Cougars might be offered a game the following week in New York against Fordham, leading contender for eastern championship honors, N.Y.U. or Colgate.

Husky Field Sold Out for Cougar Clash

SEATTLE, Nov. 4. (AP)—The "sold out" sign was hung over the entrance of the University of Washington stadium today indicating that Portland's new Pacific-Northwest record for a football crowd will be broken when the Washington Huskies and Washington State Cougars tangle here November 15. More than 40,000 fans are expected to jam the stadium to see the game, which may mean the Pacific Coast conference championship for the Cougars. Portland took the record away from Seattle this season, when 35,266 turned out to see Oregon defeat Washington October 18.

...position. He is a big fellow and showed all kinds of possibilities. With good ends the Bruin passing attack, their chief weapon, should annoy the Webfooters quite some Saturday.

There was some talk of switching Bob Decker to quarter for the game but Spaulding spiked that rumor yesterday. He will use Solomon and Bergdahl in the signal-calling position. Roberts and Decker will start at halfback and Norm Duncan at fullback.

Spaulding still believes that Norm Duncan has a great game in his system. It may come out during the fracas at Eugene. In his line Spaulding will have Pat Norfleet and Willoughby at tackles; Jones and J. Duncan at guards; Oliver at center and Wellendorf and Mulhaupt at ends. Wellendorf has a bad leg, but is expected to be all right by game time.

LEADING SCORER

Oregon has the leading scorer of the Coast Conference in Johnny Kitzmiller, the "flying Dutchman," who has tallied 58 points to date, to toss at the Bruins. Kitzmiller may find himself bottled up at that in the Bruin game as Spaulding did that very thing to Red Grange when that young gentleman was running wild some years ago for Illinois.

Incidentally Spears and Spaulding both coached Minnesota before coming west. They both may be eager to write back and tell how they won, no doubt.

The Bruins leave on the West Coast Limited from Glendale. They are scheduled to arrive in Eugene Friday morning.

The following squad will be taken to Eugene:

Ends—Haight, Mulhaupt, Smith, Sorensen, Stickel, Stoeffen, Waldron, Wellendorf.

Tackles—Baille, Hampton, McMillan, Norfleet, Willoughby, Zimmerman, Clark.

Guards—Carter, J. Duncan, Jones, Reinhard.

Centers—Goodstein, Milum, Oliver.

Quarterbacks—Bergdahl, Solomon.

Halfbacks—Decker, Forster, Guttormsen, Painter, Roberts, Dennis.

Fullbacks—Duncan, Grossman, Lowe, Thoe.

West had a rest from intersectional activity.

The East's victories were accounted for by Army over North Dakota, Pennsylvania over Kansas, Georgetown over Michigan State and Temple over Wake Forest. The West and South countered when Marquette trimmed Boston College, Oklahoma City stopped Davis and Elkins, Tulsa turned back George Washington and Duke beat Villanova. Several of the leading games wound up in ties.

Something like a crisis in the intersectional race will be reached this week with such games as Harvard-Michigan, Penn-Notre Dame, Army-Illinois, Navy-Ohio State, N.Y.U.-Georgia, West Virginia-Kansas Aggies and Detroit-Fordham on the schedule.

Here is the way the various sections stand at present.

GRIDIRON EXPERTS TIE IN BIG GAME

In the battle of the century, yesterday, the Morning "Glories" and the Afternoon "Re-Writers" staged a bitter gridiron battle on one of the U.C.L.A. fields, and the result was a scoreless tie. The newspaper grid experts played four chukkers of five minutes each, and, although both teams displayed great passing ability, neither was able to score. Ned (All-American) Cronin, Edward (All-American) Lawrence, and Ralph (All-American) Huston, sparkled for the Mornings, while George (Benny Lom) Glass, Edward (All-U.S.G.A.) Krauch, and Art (All-Fairfax) Daley, shone for the P.M.'s. The latter were somewhat handicapped by the presence of Harry (All-Wet) Culver, at center, but the backfield was potent enough to get a scoreless tie.

SECOND JEWFISH OF SEASON BROUGHT IN

HERMOSA BEACH, Nov. 4.—Proof that the winter deep-sea fishing season is under way in full style was given yesterday when W. B. Stevens, Pomona undersheriff, pulled in the second jewfish or black seabass caught on the big Olympic fishing barge so far this season. Stevens in landing his big 125-pound catch in fifteen minutes, broke all local records for bringing in jewfish.

Capt. J. M. Anderson reports that bonita, perch, sand-dabs and mackerel are still biting as hard as ever.

STRANGLER LEWIS MAY MEET JOSE DOMINGUEZ

Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former world's wrestling champion, who has not been seen in action here since his second meeting with Everett Marshall about six months ago, has been sent an offer to meet Jose Dominguez, the giant Mexican grappler, in the second bout of Lou Daro's wrestling program at the Olympic next Wednesday night.

Daro has already signed Dominguez to appear on the next card, and Lewis was among those the promoter had planned to obtain to face the Mexican in his third local start. Another grappler sought for Dominguez for this bout is "Wild" Bill Shaw, the Salt Lake City redhead.

Lewis has been on a five months' wrestling tour in Australia and the Orient, and is returning to Los Angeles undefeated, and in wonderful condition, it is reported.

Henri De Glane, former Greco-Roman mat king, is scheduled to meet Everett Marshall in the finish feature event of this mat card. The French star has started training at the Commercial Club, and according to those who have been watching him in training, he is a more versatile and rugged wrestler than any of the youngsters who have stepped on the local mat in many months.

BILL JELLIFFE IN GOLF LEAD

MRS. LEWIS WINS TOURNEY AT LOS ANGELES

Mrs. George M. Lewis with scores of 86-77-83—246 won the fifty-four hole medal play tournament sponsored by Mrs. Mary Young Moore at the Los Angeles Country Club last week. This event is an annual feature.

Tournament winners were based on net scores, Mrs. Lewis having both low gross and low net. She was awarded a fine set of matched irons. Mrs. F. S. Hardin and Mrs. George Kenson tied for second low net with 254. They will play off for a silver trophy over thirty-six holes. The play-off is scheduled for Thursday and Friday of next week.

Ranft Beaten by Powers in Mercury Play

Joe Powers, the defending champion, defeated "Murder Ball" Bill Ranft yesterday at the Los Angeles Athletic Club in the feature match of the Southern California handball championship play. The scores were 21-19; 21-17; Hayek won over Hubble, 21--7; 21-13. Grant Kuhns defaulted to Art Sterns. By virtue of his win Powers is now in the semi-final round.

COURTNEY FAVORED OVER PATRICK IN LEGION GO

George Courtney of Oklahoma should win from Tom Patrick at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium Friday night if Courtney is as good a fighter as his record leads one to believe.

Hollywood fight fans may see another upset Friday night. They are nothing new at the stadium and Patrick can win if he will open up and fight. A lack of aggressiveness has been the one drawback to Patrick's fighting. He backs up and hits going away. A fighter with his physique and sock should be a champion. Patrick has proved in all of his fights that he is able to stand up under a heavy barrage of punches. He showed that when he fought Jimmy Hanna two weeks ago.

The winner of the Courtney-Patrick fight may be matched with Hanna, who is seeking a main event at Hollywood. Hanna is the best-looking light-heavyweight in California.

General Padilla is rated the best flyweight among the sailors in the fleet. He should be a favorite over Leonard Rahming when these two boys square off for the semi-windup.

The two four-rounders will feature Johnny Previs and Ralph Cota, junior lightweights, in the second spot and Lucky Baldwin and Jimmy Berg, lightweights, in the curtain raiser.

Mrs. O. J. Johnson won the low net for thirty-six holes with 168, and carried off a set of matched woods.

Mrs. Clark Reynolds captured a golf bag for the least putts.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY HOLDS TOURNEY AT BRENTWOOD

Mrs. Opal S. Hill of Kansas City, medalist in the National Women's Championship, will play with Mrs. Gregg Lifur of Riviera in a thirty-six hole medal play tournament at the Brentwood Country Club tomorrow and Friday. This event is sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the Southern California Golf Association.

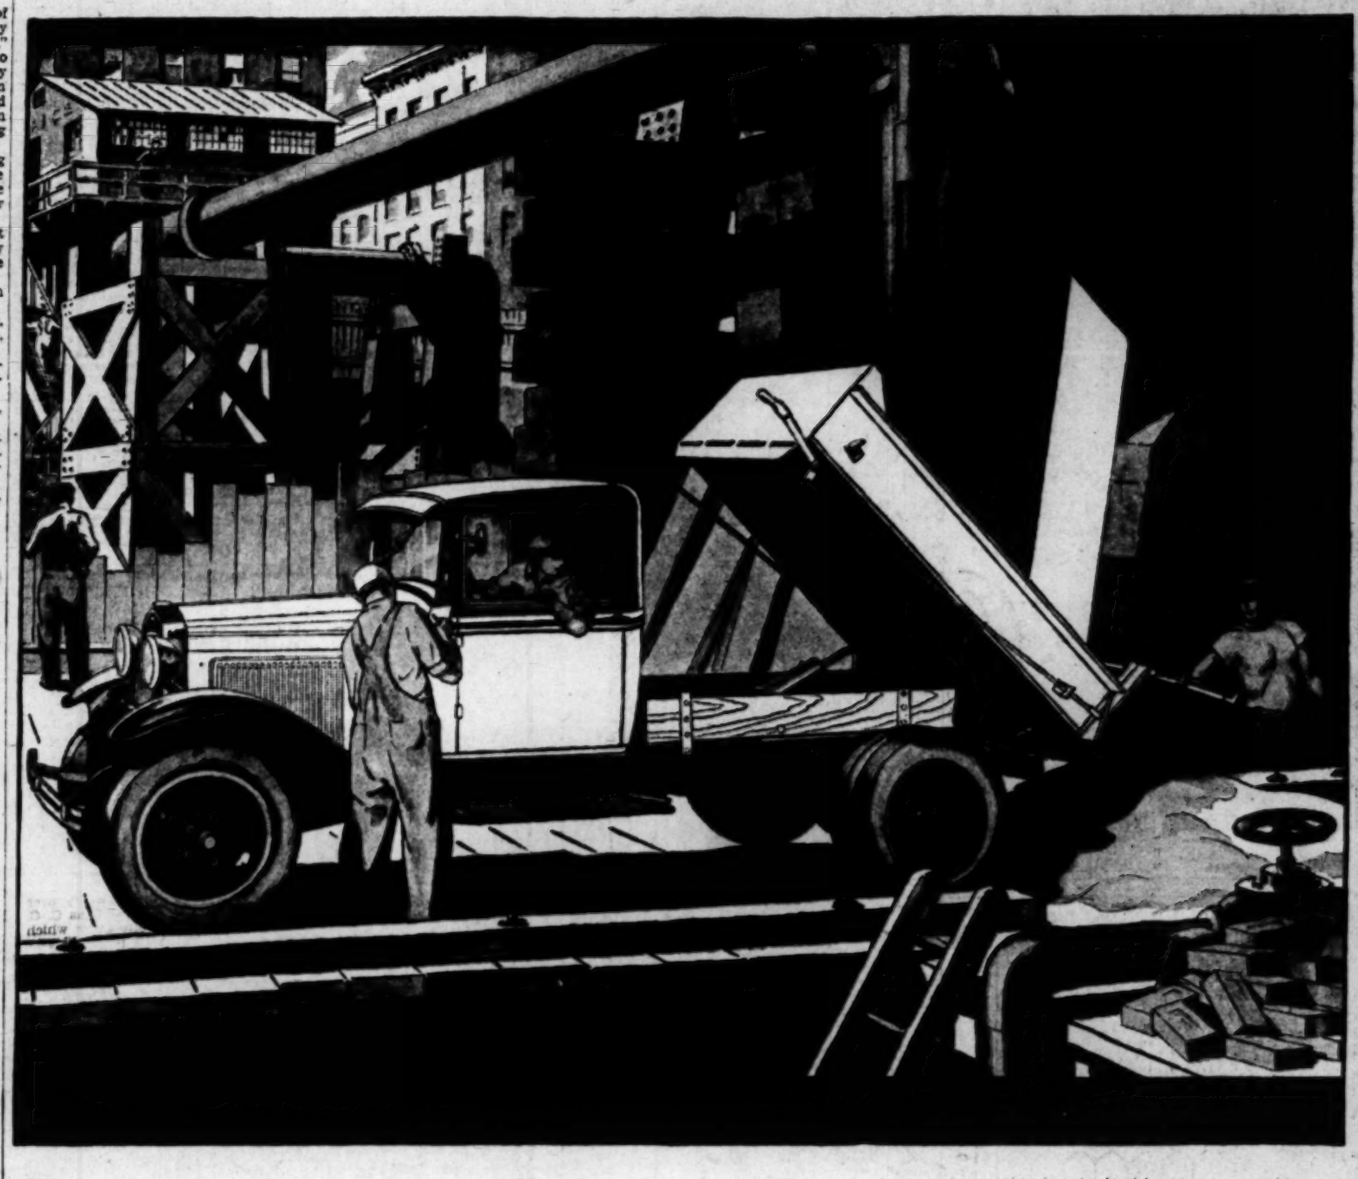
The Ford Truck has rugged strength



THE strength and reliability of the Ford 1½-ton truck are well indicated by the excellent service it is giving in a large number of widely different businesses. Under the varying requirements the Ford truck is called upon to meet, its performance is uniformly good, and marked by a high degree of economy.

Perhaps no other service imposes greater demands on the strength, power, and endurance of a chassis than haulage of materials in dump bodies. In this, as in other fields, the Ford truck has proved its mettle.

In order, therefore, to make available trucks of this type at economical prices, the Ford Motor Company has added a series of five dump bodies to the present standard line.

These include light and heavy hydraulic, and gravity and hand-hoist dump bodies, and a body with mechanical power-hoist. This provides a wide range of selection, as to price and hoisting method. With the Ford chassis, these bodies form units of high value, embodying the reliability, economy, long life, and strength which characterize Ford products.

In addition, there is a wide variety of body-types available on both the 131½-inch and 157-inch wheelbase chassis, including the standard stake, platform, and panel bodies. Both open and closed cabs can be supplied, and dual rear wheels are available at small additional cost.

There is a special exhibit of Ford trucks and delivery cars with a wide variety of bodies at

A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

TARZAN AND THE GOLDEN LION

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

How glad the apes would be to see him again, he thought. For Tarzan of the Apes was known the length and breadth of the jungle as the friend and protector of the Mangani. He made a friendly sound of greeting. The apes looked up, startled, as he dropped lightly to the ground. Instantly bedlam reigned. Screaming shrill warnings to their young, the apes raced away. The bulls, bristling and growling, faced the intruder. "Do you not know me?" cried the ape-man, surprised. "I am the son of Kala, and King of Kerchak's tribe—your friend, Tarzan of the Apes."

"We know you all right," growled one of the old bulls. "Yesterday we saw you when you killed Gobu. Away, we want none of you. No longer are you the friend of the Mangani." And the old bull took a step forward, threateningly. The ape-man stood still, his brows contracted in thought. So the apes believed they had seen him kill their fellow? What was the explanation? Did those naked footprints of the giant white man mean more than he had first guessed? He raised his eyes and again addressed the bulls. "It was not I who killed Gobu," he insisted.

But though he tried long and earnestly, Tarzan could not make the apes believe he had not slain their comrade. "With our own eyes we saw you. Go, or we shall kill you," was all that Pagth, their king, would say. Finally Tarzan turned sorrowfully away. More than ever was he determined to seek the slayer. He trailed the spoor until it mingled with the tracks of many men, barefoot blacks mostly. But among them were the prints of white men's shoes. Once he saw the footprints of a woman or a child, he could not tell which.

Curiosity was now added to Tarzan's thirst for revenge. The trail was leading toward the rocky hills which protected the barren valley of Opar. Only he himself knew, he believed, the location of the ruined city. Yet what but the lure of gold could have drawn this party into the savage, unexplored wilderness? How had they gained his secret? Such were the ape-man's thoughts as he sped onward. Darkness fell, and now he followed the trail by scent alone. Presently, in the distance, he saw the flickering lights of a camp ahead of him.
